Bishop Duffy. Now at Cheyenne, Gives Serious Consideration to Invitation

VISIT ALLIANCE WILL

Upon receipt of information that Rev. James A. Duffy of Cheyenne, Wyoming, had been chosen Bishop of the new Diocese of Kearney, Ne braska, telegrams of congratulations were sent him by Alliance Council No. 975 of the Knights of Columbus, St. Agnes Court of the Daughters of Isabella, and fifteen of the prominent members of the Holy Rosary church. A petitition was circulated among the business men o Alliance, irrespective of religious be lief, asking Fr. Duffy to visit our Miss Mina Lougeny, who has been city with a possible view of making his residence here. It was realized fixed at Kearney, but as Alliance has the largest church in the new diocese, the only sisters' Academy all to worship with us, if you have and the only sisters' hospital in the no other church home in the city a commodious dwelling, also other church property, as well also, being Judge J. The petition was gladly signed by every business and professional man in Alliance, and a committee con-sisting of C. A. Newberry, our larg-est merchant, R. M. Hampton, vice president of the First National bank and J. W. Guthrie of the firm of Gray & Guthrie was chosen to go to Cheyenne and present the peti-tion. The Sisters of St. Agnes Academy and St. Joseph hospital also sent their greetings and petition with the committee; and they made covers for the petitions that were most beautiful and in fact works of art. The Knights of Columbus, the A. J. Miss Angela Ware, who distinguished herself in playing the part of Dido, gave a very good impression to the audience from the first word spoken until the final scene. In the banquet scene Miss Ware displayed her beautiful voice in a song to the gods. In the last act, a scene in Dido's chamber, her pleadings with Aeneas were indeed wonderful. In the dramatic scene where Dido took her life, the nerves of the audience were kept at a high tension by the presentation of this heavy part by Miss Ware. Lloyd Tully playing the leading part of Aeneas was very well taken because of his good voice and the princely manner in which he presented this character. Bernard Holsten, in the role, of larbas, showed very good acting and an excellent voice, and his denunciation of Dido in act three was a feature of the play. Little Howard Cogswell, as Cupid,
