BINGHAM PEOPLE UNITE FOR LIFE

Highly Respected Young People of South Sheridan County Get Married in Alliance

There is nothing more pleasant for The Herald to publish than an account of the union in the holy bonds of matrimony of a worthy young couple. It is especially pleasing when they come to Alliance to get the knot tied.

At 9:30 a. m., Wednesday, February 11, Rev. O. S. Baker, pastor of the First M. E. church of Alliance, performed at his residence the ceremony that united the life destinies of two Sheridan county young people, Miss Jenie E. Jones and Mr. Ira C. Coton, both of Bingham. Those present at the wedding, besides the contracting parties and the officiating minister, were Mrs. Albert Rentfro of Bingham, and Mrs. O. S. Baker and Mrs. R. T. Watson of Alliance.

The bride is a beautiful and accomplished young lady, a sister of Mrs. Rentfro with whom she has made her home for nearly a year. The bridegroom who is an industrious and worthy young man is indeed fortunate in securing such a helpmeet. He has a claim three miles from Bingham, on which he already has a well furnished home, where they will reside.

MEETINGS ARE BEARING FRUIT

Gospel Services Are Cultivating Feeling of Fellowship and Securing Some Converts

Notwithstanding the cold weather a good sized audience was in attendance at the Gospel meetings at the Methodist church last evening. The large chorus choir was assisted by the orchestra. The choir rendered a fine anthem, and the music was most inspiring.

Rev. W. L. Torrence preached a very helpful sermon from the text found in Matt. 11:28-30 one of the most tender invitations of the Gospel, Christ's own message to the troubled souls of all ages. "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn of me, for I am meek and lowly in heart, and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light."

He showed how God invites all to come unto Him, and find the perfect rest which He alone can give from the burden of sin. He also showed that the yoke of Christ is easy to be borne, because, as someone has said, it is "padded with love", and fits perfectly, while the yoke of sin is galling and hard to be borne.

It was a good service, and many were made more thoughtful by the message of the evening; and when two came forward to surrender their lives to the Master there was much rejoicing.

There is a splendid feeling of good fellowship and brotherly love, existing between the members of the different churches, who are working in perfect harmony together; and the interest in the welfare of souls is deepening and denominational lines are forgotten in the desire to save souls.

The broadest and most unselfish plans are used, to help those who are just making a start in the Christian life. Printed cards are placed in the hands of the new converts, containing the following to which they are expected to subscribe, leaving them free to unite with the church of their choice:...

"Believing Jesus Christ is the Divine Son of God, I now accept Him as my personal Savior, by faith, and with His help will lead a Christian life."

Name
Address

Believing that churches are God's institutions for believers, I desire to unite with the church."

Every member of the church should be in his place, and much in prayer at this time, and earnestly working every day to bring their friends to Christ.

Rev. O. S. Baker will preach this evening, Rev. Barrett tomorrow evening; and it is expected that Rev. McDougal of the Presbyterian church will preach Sunday evening. Services begin promptly at 7:30. Come and bring your friends.

SOLDIERS FOIL THE FEDERALS

Attempt of Huerta Soldiers to Cross from American Border Foiled by U. S. Soldiers

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 12—Thirty autoloads of recently recruited Huerta soldiers, attempted to cross the American border last Wednesday night, in order to make a flank movement and surprise Villa and his forces at Juarez. Four troops of U. S. cavalry were called out and stopped the rush.

Gen. Hugh L. Scott, in command at Fort Bliss, has been on the alert for some days to rumors of a plot to place a flanking force on the rebel left at Juarez by making a rush from this side, and his men were in the saddle almost the instant the news came that the Mexicans were pushing down the river bank on the American side in automobiles.

The attempt was made about 11 o'clock, and the news reached General Scott in excited telephone messages from down the Ysleta road asking the meaning of the rush of automobiles down that way.

At the Smith dairy farm, five miles east, an observer estimated the number of machines at thirty, and the telephone exchange operator at Ysleta, thirteen miles east, made a similar estimate.

The machines were loaded with men, those who telephoned said, all armed with rifles, and there were boxes which were assumed to carry ammunition in addition to that in the belts of the men.

Horses are said to have been in waiting for the recruits since Sunday, hidden in the tall weeds on the Mexican side in the Ysleta district. Saddles packed in barrels are believed to have been spirited across yesterday from a spot on the American side between Ysleta and Socorro.

GORE TRIAL SENSATIONAL

Mrs. Bond, Plaintiff in $50,000 Damage Suit Against Senator Gore, Testifies

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 12—Testimony of a sensational nature was given today in the $50,000 damage suit against United States Senator Gore by Mrs. Bond, the plaintiff in the case. Mrs. Bond has been on the stand practically all day. She was pale and trembling while she told the story of the alleged assault by Senator Gore.

Mrs. Bond testified that she met Senator Gore in Washington at his request in his office. Although he is blind, she stated that he came close to her and touched her several times while she was in the office and grabbed her foot while she was sitting in a chair. She testified that he later met her in a room in her hotel, that he pushed her over on the bed, breaking his glasses and cutting his hand, that he attempted to assault her and she screamed, and three men rushed in.

On cross examination Mrs. Bond suffered loss of memory on many points. The defense alleges that the whole suit is the result of a plot to ruin the senator politically and that it was a frameup from the start.
