DEMOCRATIC CALL

Secretary Westover of Democratic County Central Committee Issues Call for Meeting

A meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee is hereby called for Saturday, February 21, 1914, at two o'clock p. m., of said day, at the court house in Alliance, for the purpose of filling vacancies on said committee and for such other and further business as may properly come before said committee.

JOE L. WESTOVER,
Secretary.

WANT MOREHEAD AGAIN

Notwithstanding his promise to not be a candidate for a second consecutive term as governor, many of Governor Morehead's enthusiastic admirers are urging him to be a candidate for re-election. They claim that his administration has been so successful and given such satisfaction to the people of Nebraska that he ought to consent to serve them another two years in the capacity of chief executive.

The following special dispatch to the Omaha World-Herald from its Lincoln correspondent, under date of Feb. 15, indicates how strong is the pressure that is being brought to bear upon the governor to induce him to again be a candidate for the office which he has filled so well for more than a year past:

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 15—Nearly half a hundred visitors to the state executive offices during the past ten days—men from all sections of the state, and who hear all manner of assertions with regard to public questions and public men—have called on Governor Morehead and insisted that he become a candidate for renomination in the democratic gubernatorial primaries.

The demand arises because of two things—the fact that the governor's administration has been so successful and the further fact that it is believed that from a political standpoint his candidacy can be made the most advantageous to all candidates on the state ticket, to all legislative and congressional candidates and to every candidate for county office in the state. With him at the head of the ticket, it is believed by these men that democracy can readily triumph—without him much may be lost.

The character of expression of the men from out in the state is such that no man can misinterpret them, in the opinion of the governor's friends. They are sincere and show that the men are anxious to see the best course followed by their party for the state's good. The following trio of interviews indicates the trend of all:

County Attorney Vail of Seward county says:

"Governor Morehead should manifestly make another race for the governorship. His administration has been so successful and so many good business moves have resulted that we should give him another two years in which to further show us what he can do. Inasmuch as every step he makes appears to save the taxpayers big sums of money I do not think that any man would have any serious objection to his remaining. He is our hired man, looking at it from one angle, and though he said that he would stay with us only a couple of years, I think that no one would be unwilling to see him remain for at least another two years. No business men would think of letting a superlatively good hired man go after two years of labor if he could get him again, even though that hired man might have said that with the employer's sanction he would leave after two years had passed. As far as getting over the matter of the campaign assertion is concerned, I think that a frank avowal on the part of the governor to the effect that he had changed his mind, as any good business man might do, and that those who voted for him expecting him to run only once, could have the alternative of rebuking him by voting against him, would be sufficient."

State Senator Jack Grace of Harlan county says:

"I am satisfied that the governor has made so good that he cannot afford, from the standpoint of the party, to leave the office at this time. Of course, where the party affairs appear to demand another term for him, it would hardly be the thing for him to consult his own personal wishes with regard to his political future. People of many towns in my part of the state are hoping that he will make the race again. They feel that his statement of the campaign was subject to change and that he would not be severely rebuked if he stated he would run again."

County Treasurer Hutchins, of Richardson county says:

"The governor's home folks are willing to back him for the congressional race, if he wants to go into that fray. But we would rather see him become a candidate for re-election. He has made good in the governor's chair, and we are proud of him, and although willing to follow where he leads we hope that will be in the direction of a second term. The governor is a business man, as we know when we proposed him to the people of the state. Certainly no one would deny that any good business man, though he be governor, should be held to a strict point where he could not change his mind with regard to running for a second term. It is entirely American and natural, and no one, I believe, would oppose him on the ground of that campaign statement."

GIVE THE VOTERS A CHANCE

The Herald believes in the principle of direct legislation. Before the adoption of the initiative and referendum amendment to the constitution of Nebraska, this paper strongly advocated it. Now that we have it, we believe in giving the voters of the state an opportunity to use it on questions of general interest. In order to initiate a measure and have it become a law by direct vote of the people, or amend the constitution by the same method, it is necessary to file a petition with the secretary of state with the required number of signatures. This petition is necessary to having the proposition printed on the ballots at the ensuing election.

We do not favor loading the ballot with propositions in which only a small part of the people of the state are interested; but whenever a proposed law is desired by a large percentage of the voters, we favor giving the people a chance to vote on it, whether we vote for or against it.

The issue of equal suffrage will be voted on under the initiative at the next general election in Nebraska. Petitions for the submission of the question are being circulated and there is no doubt that a sufficient number of signatures will be secured. Whether the proposition will carry at the election is not so certain as that it will be submitted. Whatever Alliance and Box Butte county may do at the election next fall, The Herald wishes this city and county to go on record strong in favor of giving the people a chance to vote on the question.

Petitions will be circulated in Alliance and Hemingford within the next few days asking for the submission of the equal suffrage amendment to the Nebraska constitution. Signing one of these petitions does not commit the signer to the proposition. We believe that every voter who believes in direct legislation ought to sign the petition, whether he favors equal suffrage or not.

WILLIS D. REED HAPPY

Hon. Willis D. Reed of Madison, Neb., while not the most successful in securing votes when a candidate for office, is one of the best posted men in the state on political issues. In view of the support given him by The Herald for the democratic nomination for United States senator, the following from a recent issue of the Lincoln Journal is interesting to us:

"Willis D. Reed of Madison is in the city attending federal court, being interested in a bank case from Madison. Mr. Reed reports business conditions excellent in his county, with farmers elated over the situation.

"Mr. Reed is much interested in the political situation, but admits that there are more democrats than candidates in his part of the state. He touches state issues lightly in discussing politics, but comes out boldly for Wilson and Bryan in national politics and repeats commendations heard of them wherever he goes. He doesn't know much about the Bryan-Hitchcock coolness, but is certain that Mr. Bryan has grown in political strength and popularity, not only in his own state but in the nation."

The Long Pine Journal, one of north Nebraska's bright newspapers, contained the following in its issue of last week:

This week we received a copy of The Daily Herald, a newsy daily published at Alliance, Nebraska, with John W. Thomas as editor. This is the only daily published in western Nebraska and we hope it may earn many successful laurels for its publishers.

A TREACHEROUS TROUBLE

Alliance People Are Shown the Way Out

Kidney diseases are very dangerous, they come on silently, gain ground rapidly, and cause thousands of deaths that could have been prevented by proper treatment in the beginning. Nature gives early warnings of kidney disease—backache, twinges of pain when stooping or lifting, headaches and urinary disorders. If these symptoms are unheeded, there is grave danger of dropsy or possible Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills have earned a reputation for their effectiveness in kidney troubles, and are known and recommended the world over. Alliance readers should find convincing proof in the following statement. It's from a citizen of this locality.

Mrs. O. Pearson, Sidney, Nebr., says: "I suffered considerably from weakness and lameness in my back and other symptoms of kidney trouble. About two months ago Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I began using them. They strengthened my kidneys and relieved my aches and pains. I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Pearson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
