Dangers of a Cold.
Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the colds themselves that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that they so often lead to. For that reason every cold should be gotten rid of with the least possible delay. To accomplish this you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy of great help to you. It loosens a cold, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration and enables the system to throw off the cold. For sale by all dealers.—Advertisement.

Consumption Takes 350 People Every Day in the United States and the surprising truth is that most cases are preventable with Scott's Emulsion treatment.

These appalling facts should warn us that after sickness, colds, overwork or any other drains upon strength, Scott's Emulsion should be promptly and regularly used because tubercular germs thrive only in a weakened system.

The tested and proven value of Scott's Emulsion is recognized by the greatest specialists because its medical nourishment assimilates quickly to build healthy tissue; aids in the development of active, life-sustaining blood corpuscles; strengthens the lungs and builds physical force without reaction. Scott's Emulsion is used in tuberculosis camps because of its rare body-building, blood-making properties and because it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drug. Be sure to insist on Scott's.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES
Herald's Correspondent at Chadron Sends Interesting News of the State Normal

Chadron, Nebr., March 20—Caps and gowns was a subject for discussion for the senior class recently.

A baseball game between the boys of the U. S. Review history class and the agriculture III class will be played soon.

Miss Harris expects some new furniture for the library almost any day to shelve the new books which are being added to the library, and to provide additional opportunities for the use of the library as a study room.

The German department received a large map of Germany last week, which contains, in addition to geographical points, the location of places of historical interest, such as battle fields, famous ruins of old castles and other points of importance.

The pictures received from the German-American Alliance have been of great interest, not alone to those who are pursuing the study of German, but also to outsiders. These pictures help to give one a good impression of the beautiful scenery of Germany, especially in Berlin.

The class of 1914 is planning to give a class day program this year. This is another feature introduced by the class.

The fifth and sixth grades of the model school have been doing some special work in geography this week. The fifth grade studied coffee, and the sixth grade lumbering.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Driscoll delightfully entertained the faculty Ladies Kensington at the home of Mrs. Leppa. A novel feature of the afternoon was a guessing game entitled "Who's Who in America". Miss Driscoll, assisted by Miss Delzell, served a delicious chafing-dish luncheon.

Mr. Snow and Mr. Brewster, the two enterprising editors of our Chadron papers, and Mr. Loewenthal, came in during our chapel exercises on Monday of this week, and gave short talks. We are always glad to have Chadron friends express their interest in and appreciation of the school.

The boys of the manual training department of the model school completed the work begun previously, staining, waxing and finishing the mission candle sticks. They also drew plans for their new piece of work for Friday of this week, a book rack. A gymnasium drill in new movements for dumb bell was given out of doors. The older boys enjoyed a relay race.

Miss Edith Lathrop, of the Nebraska State Department, visited our chapel exercises last week, and gave a very impressive talk about the things that are worth while in a student's school work. She urged students to be prepared to do their own thinking, to be able to go out into the world and do things, and to remember that one's character it what makes it. She closed with some verses which brought out her theme very well.

The class of '17 had an impromptu program in the studio at 1 p. m. Tuesday, their regular meeting time. Music was furnished by the girls of the class—a piano duet, Melnote's arrangement of "Il Trovatore", by Mary Wilson and Carol Loewenthal; also a vocal solo, "Little Pink Rose", by Madelen Lappia. It was agreed that the boys of the class should furnish the program at the next regular meeting of the kind, one month from Tuesday. The constitution will be revised at the next regular business meeting.

The class of '17 were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Orpha Carmean last Friday evening. The evening was spent in playing progressive Somerset, for which two beautiful prizes were given. The first prize, a large Normal pennant, was awarded to Viola Kleinke; the second prize, a box of chocolates, to Maye Conn. Dainty refreshments consisting of peach sherbet and cakes, were served at the close of the evening. Pronouncing Miss Carmean an excellent hostess, they adjourned, expressing the wish that other such pleasant events may be held yet this year.

Mary Wilson, Nina Turechek, and Mildred Baker were initiated into the Alice Freeman Palmer Society last Friday afternoon at 3:45. They were put through a course of stunts which might be likened to the Third Degree. After the initiation, the three new members were requested to show their persistence in the running of a peanut race (by pushing peanuts along the floor with their noses). The refreshment committee then requested the girls to adjourn to Miss Clark's room, where rainy refreshments consisting of shrimp wiggle, olives and coffee were served. The girls were pleased to have several members of the faculty drop in for the social meeting.

The Literature Department of the Woman's Club entertained the other departments of the Club at the home of Mrs. Shamp, last Friday afternoon. Mrs. Sparks was in charge of the program which was given by several members of the faculty. The following delightful and appropriate numbers were given:

Duet—Overture from "Midsummer Night's Dream", Miss Swedberg and Miss Delzell.

Vocal Solo—"Who is Sylvia", by Miss Pollock.

Paper—"Theatres in the Time of Shakespeare", Miss Clark.

Piano Solo—"Hark, Hark, the Lark", Miss Swedberg.

Vocal Solo—"I know a Bank", Miss Copeland.

At the close of the afternoon, dainty refreshments were served by the ladies of the Literature Department.

Mr. Williamson the A. S. U. missionary has been calling in our neighborhood trying to organize a Sunday school, and we understand there will be Sunday school at the Cleman school house next Sunday at 11 o'clock.

SPORTING
Edited by "DOC" COPELAND

Following is a clipping from the "observation" columns of Tuesday's Times:

"No pageantry of stars in all the spectrum of the seas and skies could ever equal the myriad of little twinkling lights that arose before the dazzled vision of "Doc" Base Copeland last Friday when he attempted to instruct one of the local "pugs" in some of the fancy defensive tactics of the game. "Doc" told his friends he was going over to the city hall and give the boy a few pointers. While he was on the way over, one of his friends called up the "boy," tipped off what Base proposed to do and arranged a black eye for "Doc". In about an hour the sporting editor returned. But had the wind been less strong or blowing from another direction he never would have made it. "Doc" eased himself into a chair like a man all in with the rheumatism. He complained of a headache and a severe pain in the back of the head. Nothing was said about the instructions given and silence has been prevailing the atmosphere since that time. The only question concerning the result of the lesson is: in what position would a man have to be to get a blow in the back of the head? Some aver that he would have to be running like the very dickens."

Quite right, Big Ben, the local man you speak of was Logan Champ, and through the clever work of his able trainer "Doc" Bates Copeland, who was preparing him for his match with "Kid" Edson at Crawford last night, he put Edson away in four rounds.
