Rules:

Each car should be well provided with oil, gasoline, extra tire or tube, before leaving.

In case of puncture, blowout, or other accident, the driver will pull out to the roadside, and the TWO CARS IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING will also pull out and assist with the repairs, while all other cars will continue the journey. The three cars will then resume the trip and overtake the procession as possible. The average speed will be 20 miles per hour. Maximum speed to be not more than 25 miles per hour.

The distance between cars when traveling must not be less than 300 feet.

These rules will apply to all three trips.

Second Trip
Wednesday, June 10

LINCOLN LOWRY, Leader

Leave Bank Corner at 7 a. m.

Make a tour visiting Bridgeport, Angora, Bayard, Minatare, Scottsbluff, Gering and Mitchell. Dinner at Scottsbluff and Gering.

Third Trip
Sunday, June 14

H. P. COURSEY, Leader

Leave Bank corner at 8 a. m. and visit the towns of Gordon, Rushville, Hay Springs, Chadron and Dunlap. Schedule to be announced later.

These tours are conducted under the auspices of the Alliance Commercial Club, an dare undertaken for the purpose of getting acquainted with the people of our neighboring cities, establishing a friendly feeling of mutual interest, and of advertising the Nebraska Stockmen's Convention, which convenes at Alliance this month. Everybody in Alliance and tributary territory who owns a car is invited and urged to participate in one or all of these tours. Kindly notify any one of the members of the committee named below, that you will go, and how many in your car, so that the towns where dinner will be eaten may be notified on the morning of the trip.

Mrs. E. S. Martin and Miss Glen Mounts left at midnight Monday for a trip to Vermont, where they will visit during the summer with relatives. They were accompanied by Miss Evalyn McBirney, of Hemingford, who went east on a visit.

Campaign Against Billboards

The Woman's Club has petitioned the Commercial Club to take action to remove the unsightly billboards in the business district of Alliance. The matter will be taken up by the board of directors.

Mrs. C. C. Pfug of Hyannis came to Alliance Friday with her three children for a visit with her sister, Mrs. J. F. Hilton. Mrs. Pfug will remain here about two weeks.

BANK OPENED MONDAY MORNING

Alliance Third Banking Institution Now Doing Business—Local Men Interested

The First State Bank, Alliance's third banking institution, opened for business at 322 Box Butte Avenue Monday morning, June 1. The bank is organized under state laws with a capital stock of $50,000, of which $35,000 is already paid in.

The officers of the bank are W. A. George, president; George Mollring, vice president; A. H. Copsey, cashier. The directors are Chas. E. Brittan, Chas. Tully, H. A. Copsey, Geo. Mollring and A. H. Copsey.

W. A. George, president of the bank, is state treasurer. George Mollring, H. A. Copsey, Chas. Tully are well known Alliance business men. A. H. Copsey and Mr. Brittan are Broken Bow men.

The bank is located in the building at 322 Box Butte Avenue, formerly occupied by F. W. Irish & Company. New bank furniture and fixtures are being manufactured and will be installed as soon as received from the factory.

The first deposit in the new bank was made by Clay Cunningham, a fifteen-year-old boy. The second deposit was made by J. N. Andrews of Alliance. The first check was cashed by W. H. Swan.

COOL CREAM QUICKLY

"After separation, cream should be quickly cooled to as low a temperature as is possible with freshly pumped well water," advises the dairy department of the Nebraska College of Agriculture. "Have a small tank thru which the water from the well flows. Set the cream in a deep can in this tank. Stir the cream until it is of the same temperature as the water. Do not mix warm cream and cold cream. The warm cream quickly sours the cream which has stood for a day or more."

RAISE FEEDERS AT HOME

Raise feeders at home was the advice of Dean E. A. Burnett at the recent Beef Producers' Day meeting at the Nebraska College of Agriculture to the 450 cattle men in attendance. The statement was offered as the only solution for the scarcity of baby beef. Even tho the present day land values are high, it was argued that if the best use is made of all roughage and if other good business management is exercised, beef may be grown at a profit on high priced land.

AGRICULTURAL MOTORCYCLES

Two motorcycles have recently been purchased by the Agricultural Extension Service of the Nebraska College of Agriculture to reduce traveling expenses and to add to the efficiency of the work. Frequently much time has been lost by speakers and other assistants of the department when their destination happened to be in a rural community, an inland village, or a town not adequately supplied with passenger service. Sometimes men are required to spend several days visiting different parts of one county, and it has been necessary to spend large sums for local transportation. The new means of conveyance has already made it possible for the workers to cover more territory at moderate distances from incoln at a saving to the state.

$10,000 GIFT TO NEBRASKA

Several more specialists on different agricultural subjects will be added, temporarily at least, to the Agricultural Extension Service of the Nebraska College of Agriculture on account of the passage of the Lever bill by congress. Nebraska will receive $5,000 next July 1 and an additional $5,000 next January 1. Additional contributions will be granted if the Nebraska legislature will appropriate an equal amount. The money is to be used for persons not having an opportunity to study agriculture in the schools and colleges. None of the money may be used for the purchase or the upkeep of agricultural school buildings. If the Nebraska legislature makes it possible for the additional federal contributions to be received, a much more generous amount of agricultural information may be sent directly to the people than is offered at present.

THE WONDERFUL POWER OF COGNAC

The latest healer of the ills to which human flesh is heir makes his home in Poland. It is said that his method is simple in the extreme and very unique. All he needs in order to perform a cure is the given name of the patient and a bottle of the strongest French cognac. He does not require to be told what is ailing the patient let alone make a diagnosis. Neither is it necessary for him to see the one that needs treatment. In fact distance is no bar to a cure. If you are living a thousand miles away all you have to do in order to be healed is to send your Christian name—your surname does not matter.

Here is how the healer works. He sits in a chair in his humble peasant home with a bottle of cognac before him. The patient's given name is told him. Then he takes a copious drink of brandy and at once goes into a trance. On awakening from the trance he is able, so it is said, to state correctly what is the matter and to prescribe a perfect cure.

It is a very interesting story and also a very imaginative one. Mark the prominent part cognac plays in the affair. The peasant healer must have the best and strongest that is manufactured or the brain or whatever it is will not work. The ability of a bottle of the strongest French liquid to send a man into a trance or some other state is unquestioned. A half of such bottle is enough to produce that effect on an ordinary individual, but the Polish healer is clearly not ordinary. As he is said to have thousands of patients and a bottle of cognac is necessary for each case he must indulge in one continuous drinking bout. In fact, it is hard to see how he can find time to indulge in a trance unless the drinking and the trancing are simultaneous. It ought to be said that the healer requires a fee, however small, but that is not as essential as the bottle of best and strongest French brandy. One cannot but think that brandy inspired the story in the mind of the man who wrote it.

Brings in Dairy Cattle

E. R. Myers arrived Tuesday from Havelock, Nebr., with a fine bunch of dairy cattle which he will put on his homestead, seventeen miles southeast of Alliance. Mr. Myers was formerly employed by the Burlington and covered the entire state last year. He stated that he likes the country around Alliance the best of all.

OLD HICKORY CHIPS

Mr. Wilson's watchful waiting is also interfering with the business of German ammunition factories.

Unnoticed and unrestrained, the Hon. Jim Mann, republican leader in congress, still sits sobbing by the river, until the waters of the Potomac run salt to the sea.

Unoriginal New York had scarcely broken itself of the habit of trying Thaw when it contracted the habit of trying Lieut. Becker.

Mr. Mellen, who invented the "dealing with the devil" phrase, may be casting covetous eyes on the enormous revenues of chautauqua lecturers.

BURGLARS ROB CRANE POOL HALL

Property and Money to Value of $100 Taken Monday Night from Alliance Pool Hall

Some time after 1 o'clock Monday night, burglars entered the pool hall of W. F. Crane by way of the rear door and ransacked the building, taking with them six ivory billiard balls, valued at $10 each, a watch, and cash from the register to the amount of $7.00. In addition to this they took a number of old coins, the value of which is not known.

Mr. Crane left the pool hall at 1 o'clock. The burglars cut a hole in the rear door with a knife, reaching through and pushing back the bar which opened the door. In order to keep the early morning sun from spoiling candy in the front of the building, the shades had been pulled down, preventing the night marshal from having a clear view of the interior of the building, and allowing the thieves plenty of time for their work.

This is the fourth time in four years that Mr. Crane has suffered loss from burglars.

I. O. O. F. Memorial Day

Sunday is I. O. O. F. memorial day. Odd Fellows are requested to meet at the hall at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, before going to the services.

LAND TO TRADE

I have 160 acres, 3 1/2 miles from Bayard, under the Tri-State canal, to trade for Box Butte county land. J. C. McCORKLE, Alliance, Nebr. 12tf3276
