GEORGE STANTON DIED WEDNESDAY

Popular Alliance Business Man Died from Liver Trouble—to be Buried Friday Morning

George Stanton, purchasing agent for the Newberry Hardware Company, who had been in Alliance for eight years and who had a wide acquaintance, died at 7:45 o'clock Wednesday morning from liver trouble. He was taken sick three weeks ago Monday. A trip was taken to Omaha to consult a specialist but he held out no hope for recovery.

Mr. Stanton was greatly liked by his fellow employees and those who knew him, his death coming as a sudden shock. He leaves his wife and two daughters, Ruth, aged nine, and Dorothy, aged three.

Mr. Stanton knew that hope for his recovery was slight and was prepared for death. He was unconscious for twenty-four hours before death. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church in Alliance. He belonged to the W. O. W. and also carried life insurance in the New York Life Insurance Company.

Mr. Stanton was of Scotch-Irish parentage and was born in Staunton, Macoupin county, Illinois, in 1879. He often said, "I was born on the seventh day of the seventh month, seventh day of the week, and probably would have been a Seventh Day Adventist, but it seems that the Scotch have chosen the Presbyterian route."

At the age of ten years he moved to St. Louis with his parents and at the age of fifteen, owing to the death of his father, was obliged to leave school while in his first year in high school, going to work for his livelihood. He had a liking for selling goods and after considerable thought he cast his lot with the hardware business. He secured a position with the Simmons Hardware Company. He worked from department to department, finally going on the road. An expression he often used was:

"Merit begets confidence,
Confidence begets enthusiasm,
Enthusiasm conquers the world."

The funeral will be held from the house, 719 Big Horn Avenue, at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Rev. W. M. Seel of the Presbyterian church and Dean Ware of the Episcopal church will hold the services.

GOVERNOR SAID ENJOYED VISIT

Morehead Kept Busy During Stay in Alliance—Guests of Alliance Fire Department

A feature of the convention enjoyed by many was the visit of Governor Morehead. The governor, accompanied by W. S. Ridgell, state fire commissioner, arrived in Alliance Friday morning and left Saturday at noon, returning to Lincoln via the North Western.

While in Alliance the governor attended the races at the fair grounds Friday afternoon. That evening he was the guest of the fire department at a smoker in the city hall. The program was not long and was very interesting. Speakers besides the governor were W. S. Ridgell, Mayor A. D. Rodgers, Chief P. E. Romig,

Frank J. Taylor, Chief Russell of the North Platte fire department, Chief Bonhart of the Scottsbluff fire department, treasurer of the state association Fred Alexander, Dr. Day, President of the Alliance Department Herman Lund, Lloyd C. Thomas acted as toastmaster. Following the speechmaking refreshments were served.

From the smoker Governor Morehead was taken to the Gadsby hall, where he spoke to an immense crowd who were enjoying the T. P. A. dance. He was roundly applauded.

Saturday morning the governor and a number of Alliance business men were given a ride to the fair grounds in the Irwin Brothers stage coach, where a picture was taken. Following this the governor was escorted by the T. P. A.'s in the parade. On leaving he expressed himself as greatly enjoying his visit to Alliance and said that the entertainment provided was the best ever.

PARADE WAS BIG FEATURE

Traveling Men Made Great Showing in Saturday Morning Parade—Governor Was Guest

The showing made by the members of Post M, Travelers' Protective Association, in the parade Saturday morning was pronounced by many to be the best ever seen in this part of the west. Forty traveling men, all dressed alike in white trousers, blue serge coats and white caps, marched double file behind a large auto in which were seated Governor Morehead, Judge W. S. Ridgell, Editor John W. Thomas and Secretary Jack Hawes of the post.

The four year old son of Si Thompson, a member of the post, dressed in uniform and carrying a suit case of small dimensions, was a feature that brought applause all along the line. The little chap kept step with the drum like a regular soldier. Following the parade the members of the post gathered in front of the city hall, where a photograph was taken. Governor Morehead was duly voted an honorary member of the post and accepted with a rousing little speech.

First prize for floats was won by Harper's department store, second prize by Ellis Ray, and third prize by the Haddorf Music store. The prize for the most representative float was awarded to the Newberry Hardware Company, the prize for the most comic to Vern and Gene Laing, and the prize for the most unique to Arthur Lunn. In the auto parade on Friday first prize was awarded to Miss Mae Newberry and second to Ellis Ray.

TAKING LONG EUROPEAN TRIP

Prominent Alliance Business Man and Family Left Saturday for Visit to Old Country

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Holsten and daughter, Della, left on Saturday night for a summer European trip. They go first to New York, from whence they will sail on Saturday on the liner Imperator for Paris, France. They will journey through France, Holland, Germany, and will spend some time in Stockholm, Sweden, Mr. Holsten's old home.

Their address on the trip will be Knutsbo, Rosshyttan, Sweden; Karlbergsvagen, No. 23 N. B., Stockholm, Sweden; and Hotel Cecil, London, W. E., England. On the return they will spend some time in London and other points in England. Mr. Holsten will stop in New York and Chicago on the return trip to select his Christmas stock of goods.

CHAUTAUQUA STARTS WELL

Splendid Entertainments Delight Large Audiences, Both Afternoons and Evenings

When the Alliance Woman's Club undertook to put on a Chautauqua they shouldered quite a responsibility in making the necessary guarantee. There was a common idea that the Chautauqua was an affair too tame to receive popular approval. That idea is being dispelled. The public has been captured by the first two days of this year's program.

The first number on this year's program was a concert Tuesday afternoon by the "All Brothers' Quartet." Opening the Chautauqua session with this concert was a very timely plan, as it set everybody who was in attendance talking favorably.

In the evening, following a prelude by the All Brothers' Quartet, Dr. Cyrus S. Nusbaum delivered his great lecture, "The Glory of Life," to the delight and profit of the large audience in attendance.

Yesterday, the second day of the Chautauqua, the people were expecting something very good, and they were not disappointed. The afternoon program opened with a musical prelude by the Browne-Enlowe Company, consisting of one lady and two gentlemen, all artists. Following the rendition of the prelude, Stewart I. Long delivered one of his inspirational lectures. Those who

A GREAT CONVENTION

Record-Breaking Attendance at Business Meeting and to See the Wild West Show

The Herald Re-Appointed Official Organ

It has come and gone, the nineteenth annual convention of the Nebraska Stock Growers Association; and it was the great convention that had been foretold thru these columns.

In speaking of what the attendance would be, and basing its prognostications upon reliable data, The Herald on June 11 said, "You will see, according to present indications, more people than were ever before in this city in three consecutive days." There were not as many people in town on Thursday and Saturday, the first and last days, as have been in Alliance on previous occasions; but on Friday the attendance was a record-breaker.

The attendance at the business meeting of the Nebraska Stock Growers Association, in the Phelan opera house, at 10 a. m., was more than double what it was last year, indicating a growing interest in the good work of the association. The crowd at the fair grounds in the afternoon was a record-breaker, although many people remained on the streets down town.

Preceding the session of the convention at the opera house, Friday morning, Dr. C. M. Day, state field veterinarian, delivered a splendid lecture on blackleg in cattle and vaccination as a remedy and preventive thereof. Many questions asked by the stockmen present indicated their interest and were answered in a manner that showed that the speaker was conversant with his subject. The Herald believes that Governor Morehead selected a man well qualified for field veterinarian when he appointed Dr. Day to that position.

Election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

President, Robert Graham of Alliance.
Vice president, A. T. Davis, Hyannis.
Secretary-treasurer, Chas. C. Jamieson, Ellsworth.

heard Mr. Long were not only benefited but were also well entertained.

After a forty-five minute prelude by the Browne-Enlowe Company last night, the "Great Laurant and Company" appeared. Mr. Laurant's equatorial as a magician never before appeared in Alliance. He is certainly "The Man of Mystery." The entertainment was long, but not a minute too long for the large audience, and ended in a whirlwind of applause.

Members of executive committee: C. H. Tully, Alliance; E. P. Meyers, Omaha; Reuben Lisco, Lodgepole; J. H. Bachelor, Valentine; Herman Krause, Long Lake; J. H. Honahan, Whitman; A. R. Modisett, Whitman; E. M. Eldred, Orlando; John H. Orr, Lewellen; E. M. Searle, Ogallala; John Diemer, Hyannis; A. Metzger, Merriman; Jas. H. Quigley, Valentine; E. M. Brass, Grand Island; Daniel Adamson, Lake.

The matter of an official paper for the ensuing year was left by the convention to the executive committee of fifteen members, besides president and secretary. The committee met immediately following the adjournment of the convention. By unanimous vote The Alliance Herald was reappointed official organ of the association.

Dropping down from twelve, sixteen and twenty-four pages, the size the paper has been recently, to eight pages, the size of this issue, curtails our space to such an extent as to make it impossible to publish reports of brand inspector, secretary-treasurer, etc., this week, but they will be published soon and given more publicity than ever before.

Important to Members N. S. G. A.

Next week The Herald will publish a proposition for doubling the membership of the Nebraska Stock Growers Association that will interest every member. The present membership of the association is not half what it ought to be. There are probably very few, if any, stockmen in the west half of Nebraska but what will admit that they should join the association; but how to get their names on the application blank, that's the proposition.

The "Who's Who Among Nebraska Stockmen" department will be continued, of course. With the success it has already attained, we would not think of dropping it, except that circumstances may make it necessary to occasionally leave it out of one issue.

HAY CONTRACT TO LET — I have about 500 tons of hay to be put up, cut and stacked, on contract. CHAS. E. CLOUGH, Alliance, Nebr. jun25-2t-37084

Wedded Thursday Morning
Miss Esther Angela Ware and Dean Edward Meking Cross, of Sheridan, Wyoming, were united in marriage on Wednesday morning at the Episcopal church at 10 o'clock by the father of the bride, Dean Geo. G. Ware. A full account of the wedding will be published in the next issue of The Herald.
