Box Butte County Boy Led Class in Four Years' Veterinary Course

Thomas S. Leith, son of James B. Leith, was raised in Box Butte county and has many acquaintances in and near Alliance who will be pleased to learn that he recently graduated from a course in the veterinary department of the Iowa State University, leading his class during the four years.

Young Dr. Leith could not doubt find a good location for the practice of his profession in western Nebraska, where he would receive a hearty welcome if he should decide to locate here; but he seems to be enamored of the Hawkeye state and has selected one of its towns as the place to open his office.

Safety First Lantern

The Burlington has installed a large "Safety First" lantern in front of the depot. It is lighted with powerful electric lights and presents an imposing appearance from the front of the depot, where it can be seen both day and night by the passengers on the passing trains.

ALLIANCE WOMAN JILTED BY LOVER

Arrived in Denver Looking for Supposed Fiance but He Could not be Found There

The Denver Post of Monday contained the following, regarding a woman who lives near Alliance:

The course of "true" love never runs smooth; at least, that is the firm opinion of Mrs. E. Flora of Alliance, Nebr., who journeyed to meet her supposed fiance and he united to him in marriage.

Mrs. Flora arrived with a happy and eager smile on her face as she passed through the Union depot gates, because for the third time she was going to be a married woman. She came to Denver to marry Dan Ryan, a cowboy on the T. X. ranch near Evanston, Wyo., who was supposed to be on his way to Denver to claim her.

All day Saturday she waited in the depot for the man with whom she had been corresponding. Trains came and unloaded their passengers, but the tanned face of Ryan was not among them. Finally she went up to Officer E. L. McKinnon and asked him if he could not help her find the prospective bridegroom. McKinnon heard her story, heard how she had answered Ryan's advertisement in a newspaper to correspond with a "widow with means," heard of the arrangements to meet in Denver and what a grand and glorious man Ryan was.

McKinnon suggested that Mrs. Flora send a telegram to her tardy lover, with the result that the following message was soon sent speeding over the wires to Evanston: Mr. Dan Ryan, Evanston, Wyo. I am at the Elk hotel. Are you coming? Answer. R. FLORA.

Until Sunday morning Mrs. Flora waited for her answer, but the answer never came. Until Sunday noon she watched the trains from Evanston, but still no Ryan with a wedding ring. At last she became convinced that cowboys sometimes say things that they do not mean and a train for Alliance was soon to pull out of the city. When the train started on its journey, Mrs. Flora, with bag and baggage, was on board. She was going back to her 320 acres of good farming land and forget that there ever was such a person as one Dan Ryan.

Joined the Show

Miss Tilly Gilles, champion woman broncho buster and all around horsewoman, passed through Alliance Sunday on her way to Broken Bow to join Irwin Brothers shows. Her home is at Bakerfield, California. She stated that she had been riding and bucking horses for four years. She lives on a ranch twenty miles from Bakerfield, where in ordinary seasons they run 16,000 head of cattle. She is only twenty years of age but has traveled one season with the "101 Ranch" shows.

Candidates Are Filing

Candidates for Box Butte county offices are filing their petitions. Smith P. Tuttle has filed for the nomination for county judge. He has been in Box Butte county for many years, a law partner of I. E. Tass, in the firm of Tuttle & Tass, and has a wide acquaintance.

Wm. Rust, Sr., a well known and substantial Box Butte county farmer and ranchman, has filed for county commissioner on the Democratic ticket.

Frank Irish, who has been in business in Alliance for years, has filed for nomination for county treasurer on the Republican ticket. C. E. Marks, another Alliance business man, has filed for the Republican nomination for treasurer.

So far the only candidates for sheriff and clerk are Cal Cox and M. S. Hargraves, who now hold these offices.

Struck by Lightning

A furious thunder storm Sunday afternoon was followed by another Monday evening. Lightning struck several buildings, including the Drake hotel. No one was reported injured, although several were shocked and there were narrow escapes. A house in the east part of town was struck but none of the inmates were injured.

Grows Fine Strawberries

Some very fine strawberries are on exhibition in the display window at the Commercial club office. They were grown by Archie Gregory, city treasurer, who has raised plenty for his family and the neighbors this summer. They are much larger than those which have been shipped in.

Automobiles Advertise Alliance

The Alliance Commercial club and scores of Alliance citizens arrived in Rushville last Sunday in a string of automobiles, their object being to advertise the Stockmen's convention, and wild west show which will be held in that city beginning the 19th of this month. Several automobiles went out west of town to meet them and a parade was formed which circulated through the principal streets of Rushville, winding up at the Commercial hotel, where all took dinner. Judge Westover made a welcoming talk to the visitors, which was responded to by Postmaster Tash of Alliance.—Rushville Standard, —June 19.

A Song of the Lark

"You're a sweet pretty girl," is a quaint old song. Yet a dear little chap warbles all day long. And he sings it to me, though I'm lone and old, When the day is warm, when the day is cold.

Still he sings in the sunshine, sings in the rain, Till my reticent heart is entuned again; And forgetting my sorrow I smile to the world, For the Meadow Lark sings, "You're a sweet pretty girl."
—MOLLIE D. CHESNUT.

Patterson Goes to Denver

N. D. Patterson, who has been employed as manager of the soda fountain at Brennan's for two years, left Monday for Denver, where he has accepted a position in charge of the largest fountain in that city. Mrs. Patterson left for a trip to Missouri to visit friends before she goes to Denver. Mr. Patterson was a guest at a farewell dinner party at Nohe's cafe before leaving, Monday night.

Child Pleased House

A touching and amusing incident occurred at the Crystal Monday evening that brought applause from the house for several minutes. A reel showing "Bronco Billy" was being shown. He is the favorite of many picture show goers and the play was particularly interesting. Bronco Billy and his sweetheart were shown in a shack which had been set on fire by the Indians who attacked them. The door to the shack was shut and as Bronco Billy gathered the girl in his arms a little chap down in the front row yelled at the top of his voice, "Open the door, twick." The little fellow's expression was so natural and showed that he really imagined the scene in front of him to be real, that it brought the house to their feet. Many laughed until they cried. The little fellow was the four-year-old Sundstrom child.

Boys' Heads Up

Agricultural education nois the young man's head up and makes him proud of the farm and his work.

See Harry E. Bradford, principal of the University School of Agriculture, at the Rural Short Course at the Nebraska University Farm last week.

The young man who by a study of agriculture learns the intensely interesting phases of country life is not only content to return to the farm but glad of the opportunity. On the other hand, an agricultural education secured away from home gives the student a broadened vision which develops him in a personal way.

Fireworks

We sell the old fashioned fireworks. The kind that make the noise but not the kind that hurt the girls and boys. The kind that give you lots of fun but not the kind that make you run. Balloons that go up higher and higher, not the kind that set the fire. We could talk and talk and talk; but what's the use, come and see our stock.
