TO OUR READERS

All families in this county are now subscribers to various magazines and newspapers. The total amount of money paid for these publications probably amounts to several thousand dollars annually. It is money well spent, of course, because you must have something for the family to read.

But if you can save about seventy-five per cent of this money, and still have all the papers and magazines you want, it is worth considering, is it not?

We have made arrangements whereby we can save this community hundreds of dollars by merely ordering their reading matter through our office. Our best offer is a choice of any three of forty magazines, arranged in thirty-five clubs in combination with our own paper for only $1.75 a year.

You will find this big offer advertised on another page of this paper. Look up the advertisement and read all about this remarkable offer. Select the club you like best, and send us your order right in—mail it, telephone it, or bring it to us, and we will fix it up at once so that you get your magazines.

If there is anything in the advertisement you do not understand drop into our office sometime and let us explain all about it. It's the best chubbings offer we have ever seen, and we are anxious to have every reader take advantage of it.

Preventing Waste in Silage
There will always be some waste on top of the silo, unless the feeding operations are begun immediately after filling. The depth to which silage spoils varies from two to twenty-four inches, depending upon the precautions taken to prevent it. Various methods of lessening waste have been advocated. Some tramp or pack the surface of the silage daily for a week or more. Another method that is sometimes used is to soak the silage in water. The water is removed from the top layer and seed in with oats. The oats germinate and form a solid covering which keeps out the air. A covering of oat chaff or cut straw may be put on top of the silage to protect it, or the ears may be removed from the last few loads of corn before cutting and the surface soaked with water. All these methods are quite satisfactory in that they keep out the air and thus lessen the waste.—Extension Bulletin No. 21, Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Nebraska Commercial Schools

In the entire nation there are 618 business colleges and commercial schools and they accommodate 160,557 students annually. This is an average annual attendance of 260 pupils per school.
