Alliance.

Service—Low Cost Service

That characteristic is long continued service, apparently everlasting service—and the consistent low cost of that service. That's the service from which HUPMOBILE reputation springs; the service that has made the HUPMOBILE "The Car of the American Family."

That's why HUP owners are our most successful salesmen.

And isn't that quality what you consider, first and last in any car?

How will a lower price compensate you a year from now, for a worn, shabby down-at-the-heel car, which you are forced to sell for a song?

How will a natty exterior this Spring compensate you for a broken down exterior next Spring?

Continuous service at a lower cost and a higher price when you want to sell at second hand—that's what makes HUP owners loyal to the car.

Think this over next Spring, think of the one hundred thousandth mile and not of the ten thousandth—and your investigation will surely bring you to the choice of the HUPMOBILE.

Ranching, Farming and Dairying
As the official paper of the Nebraska Stock Growers Association, The Herald will have something about the ranchmen of this part of the state from time to time. In this issue we wish to mention that around Angora, farming and dairying are engaged in successfully, with prospects that this will eventually become one of Nebraska's best cream producing points. This can be referred to only briefly now.

W. E. Powell, five miles east, believes that what is worth doing at all is worth doing right. He has learned the value of the silo for dairymen and is the first in his neighborhood to erect one. It is an H. & H., the frames and lumber for it being purchased of the R. S. Proudfit Lumber Co.

H. A. Glau, two miles northwest of Angora, is one of the big farmers of that section. He has 800 acres in crops. His principal crop is wheat, altho he has 110 acres in corn. He raises some cattle but more hogs. He has given particular attention to the care of hogs and has never had a case of cholera among them. A few days ago he sold seventy-seven head of various ages, from pigs to old sows, at eight cents per pound in the pen, and has enough left to go right along in the business.

ATTENDING COLORADO COLLEGE

Two Alliance Young Ladies at Fort Collins Agricultural College

The Misses Dorothy and Pauline Montgomery, daughters of Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Montgomery, are students of the Colorado Agricultural College at Fort Collins, the first named being a senior this year and the latter a freshman. Mrs. Montgomery, who will keep house for her daughters, went with them last Friday to Denver, where they expected to visit with relatives over Sunday, going from there to Fort Collins on Monday.

Rev. Montgomery will continue to make Alliance headquarters as Presbyterian pastor-evangelist for western Nebraska, acting in the capacity of superintendent in his work. He has sold his residence to Conductor Chas. Bennett, but retains a room for himself during the necessary absence from his family.

His other daughter, Miss Ruth, will teach school sixteen miles southwest of Alliance.

Agricultural Engineers Succeed

According to a recent count, the department of agricultural engineering of the Nebraska College of Agriculture ranks second or perhaps first among state universities in the number of graduates in charge of agricultural engineering work in colleges and universities. The graduates are located in North Dakota, Kansas, Texas, Indiana, Colorado, and other western and middle western states. The call for graduates from this department has been so strong that it has been with difficulty that the demand for graduates has been filled.

Sink Holes Reported

Sink holes varying in depth from 2 to 20 feet, in width from 3 to 8 feet, and in length from 6 to 30 feet have been reported to the Nebraska College of Agriculture from Hall and other counties. The holes are formed without reference to swells and hollows, but with respect to each other they are in rather irregular lines. The falling in comes suddenly, generally during wet weather. The hole may suddenly increase in area but not in depth. It has been found that frequently, altho not always, these holes have been in alfalfa fields. As some of the holes are found in groves it is believed that perhaps deep rooted plants cause the roofs of tunnels (which are known to exist in certain areas) to crumble.

The New 20-Year Payment Law For Government Irrigated Farms

The settler pays only a small sum down, no construction charge for five years, the rest after that with no interest. This is the time to advise your friends back East of these new conditions under which they may homestead Government irrigated lands in the Big Horn Basin or the North Platte Valley and get a perpetual Government water right, almost as a gift.

Tell them about the Burlington's new Central Wyoming main-line through the heart of these regions, the coming increased land values to those who get started early. Tell them of the ample water supply, of the rich soil, the alfalfa, livestock and oil industries.

Or, remind them of the Carey Act and private irrigated lands and the favorable terms which a practical farmer or bona fide purchaser may obtain.

Suggest to them to write me for Big Horn Basin and North Platte Valley literature, and the addresses of reliable land agents in these localities.
