Alliance Commission Co. HORSE SALE

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
SEPTEMBER 24-25

At this sale it will be a good time to dispose of your Broke Horses. We have set the date on Sept. 24 and 25, which will give you time to finish haying and rest your horses for the sale. The feeder buyer will be out, also the southern market will be in full blast; we look for the best sale of the season.

Our July sale was better than we expected. Alliance is the place to sell your horses. REMEMBER, it is your MARKET.

Commission: $2.00 per head, singles and pairs. Bunches of 5 head or more, $1.00 per head. Yardage, 10c per head on horses not sold. NO SALE, no commission. Let us know what you will bring in.

timely, "Safety First." He spoke of the far reaching influence of the railroad slogan of Safety First in the matter of physical safety and told of the need of such a slogan in the field of character and life building. He said that when Mr. F. M. Adam was placed in the Garden of Eden the first commandment to him was for him to work; to dress and keep the garden. The garden of our life has in it one tree that must be kept by us all and that is the tree of character.

The matter of work is important and needs to be better taught to our boys and girls. The matter of recreation was taken up also as an important factor in the life of the town. Some rather new ideas were advanced which set many to thinking along new lines. Mr. Young said that while he was bitterly opposed to the saloon yet there were other things that worried him more than they did. He favored the public ownership and control of the recreation centers such as the pool halls and public dance floors. The establishment of parks and social centers for the benefit of the public. He said that it was unfair to the people of a town and detrimental to its life to allow the opportunity for recreation to be made into a money-making scheme. He spoke in strong terms of the failure of the people of Alliance to put thru the movement for the Commercial Club building that was proposed. Regarding the children of town he made some very apt illustrations. He said that there is a time in the day's program from getting up time till breakfast that the parents knew about. From breakfast till school there is usually a period that is not well filled. Then from that time till noon the school keeps him busy and the noon hour has many possibilities that are not often controlled either by parents or teachers. After school in the evening till supper time there is very often no plans for the time of the child. It is his play time and is left unguarded. Then after supper many a child who has no business away from the home or the watchful care of the parent is out on the streets learning those things that will be a detriment to the child's after life. He made an appeal for the city of Alliance to provide itself with public play grounds and some one thoroughly equipped to direct the recreation of the community's children.

He repeatedly stated that there must be a sense of community responsibility that must be met in a town of the new order to get the returns of manhood that we want. He spoke of the fact that we boast of the fine public buildings of our towns and cities but we never hear the proud boast that we develop the highest standards of manhood as the result of our city activities.
