

BIG DOINGS AT GORDON

Record-Breaking Attendance at the Sheridan County Fair, Held at Gordon Last Week

The Sheridan county fair, which has been held at Gordon each year since the county agricultural society and fair association was organized about twenty-five years ago, increased in interest as the years go by. The annual fair for this year was held last week, four days, Tuesday to Friday. The weather was fine and the attendance good. Thursday was a record-breaker, the attendance being the largest in the history of the fair.

The race program was exceptionally interesting. The attractions outside of the regular fair features were entertaining and a credit to the town and the people who put them on. The exhibits in the agricultural hall were very good but not as numerous as they should have been. The educational and domestic departments were not as fully represented as one would expect. The garden and farm products were simply fine, but not half as many as might have been shown in that country.

The Herald mentions the deficiency in the number of exhibits hoping that a greater interest may be stirred up in this department of the fair. Persons who attend are interested in seeing the exhibits. It will be a great help to the fair when a larger number will take part in preparing them.

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE WED

Cook-Cantwell Nuptials Celebrated at First M. E. Church, Alliance, Monday Morning

In the First Methodist Episcopal church of Alliance, at 10 a. m., on Monday, September 7, 1914, occurred the wedding of two of western Nebraska's best known and highly respected young people, Miss Mary Louise Cook of Lakeside and Mr. Lynn Radley Cantwell of Alliance. The pastor, Rev. Olin S. Baker, performed the marriage ceremony in the presence of a small company that had not been previously announced.

The bride, a beautiful and accomplished young lady, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cook. Since her graduation from the Alliance High school she has engaged very successfully in teaching. The groom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cantwell whose ranch is southwest of Alliance, is also a graduate of the Alliance High school. He is now a student at the Kansas City Veterinary College.

The following named persons were present at the wedding: Clarence Cook and Mrs. Leo Berry, brother and sister of the bride, who acted as best man and bridesmaid; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cook, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cantwell, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reddish, Mrs. Geo. Gaddis, Mrs. Jas. Feagins, Mrs. Chase Feagins, Mrs. L. A. Berry, Mrs. O. S. Baker, Tom Tully, Lloyd Johnson, W. O. Barnes, A. T. Lunn, Leo Berry, J. W. Thomas. Mrs. Chase Feagins presided at the piano and played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party came down the aisle to the chancel.

Mr. and Mrs. Cantwell left on Burlington No. 44, following the wedding, for Kansas City, where they will make their home until he completes his course at the K. C. Veterinary College. Their many friends in western Nebraska hope that they will then locate in this part of the west.

unless you are a young man or are interested in helping young men. Most young men are interested in athletics, and those who are not should be. The Y. M. B. C. invites ALL young men to be present at their meeting this (Thursday) evening, in room 14, McCorkle building. A special exhibition between two of the boys will be "pulled off." And this is not the only interesting feature of the evening. The admission, of course, is free.

A Pleasant Summer in Alliance

WHERE IS PANCHO VILLA?

Of all the stories told of Pancho Villa and his motor car corps in the recent Mexican campaign, the tale told and verified before a group of motor truck and tire men in Houston, Texas, recently, is a winner in its class.

"Some time ago when Villa's men were making an advance near El Toro, one of the motor trucks in the main force ran out of gasoline. A service truck loaded with gasoline, oil, extra tires and a complete repair outfit was ordered up from the rear and refilled the gas tank. The march was continued and the service wagon then waited for the rear guard to come up. While the truck was thus resting in the road between the main body and the rear guard, the Federals, under Colonel Coo-Coo, made an attack on the service car from the left flank. All the service squad had in the way of weapons was a sack of Bull Durham, a spy glass and a shot gun.

Nothing daunted, Corporal Pedro ordered the spare Firestone tires with their steel rims, which the service wagon carried, unloaded from the truck and placed as a barricade. Behind this rubber and steel bulwark, Villa's men felt safe.

As the Federals fired, the bullets rebounded and killed Colonel Coo-Coo's men in great numbers; the gallant Coo-Coo himself being among the five killed or wounded. Thus weakened, the Federals were forced to retreat. When the rear guard came up they found the service wagon crew enjoying a quiet game of Monte within the confines of the rubber rampart.

In view of the effect this story may have had upon Villa, it is suggested that war correspondents look behind every pile of Firestone tires they come across, considering the possibility of finding Pancho there ensconced enjoying a quiet game in safety.

After some men start they are too lazy to stop.
