A SPLENDID DISPLAY

Pleasingly Arranged in Darling's Window—Placed by E. T. Kibble—"Some" Crops
There is one window display this week that has nothing to do with men's and women's fashions (only to pay for them) yet it is attracting just as much attention and favorable comment as any of them. This is the Box Butte county exhibit which is on display in the large center window at Darling's furniture store.

It is one of the neatest, best displayed, and most comprehensive exhibits that Box Butte county products ever had, and the onlooker may see almost at a glance why this county claims supremacy in the agricultural line this year. There are innumerable small grains, both in the straw and shelled. The background is a mass of small bundles of straw, neatly wrapped with the Market Week colors, and arranged so that both the heads and the straw can be seen.

Over the floor of the window are many bowls of small grain—shelled corn, wheat, barley, oats and rye. Placed in several places in the rear are large pumpkins and squashes. There are cucumbers, turnips, prize winning potatoes, beets, and one head of cabbage that would be hard to beat.

The exhibit was placed and arranged by E. T. Kibble, the real estate man, who has a knack of placing agricultural exhibits just as they should be placed.

REVIVAL MEETINGS
STARTED SUNDAY

Large Crowd Present to Hear Opening Sermon by Rev. Young, at Christian Church

A large crowd greeted Rev. H. J. Young at the opening service of the revival meetings which started at the Christian church Sunday. Everyone in attendance seemed enthusiastic, and the choir did their part by rendering several special numbers from Billy Sunday's special song book, among them being "Brighten up the Corner Where You Are." This song is meeting with just as much success here as it did in Omaha.

For his subject at the morning service, Rev. Young took "The Christian's Skyline". He recently visited at Lincoln, and learned then that the motto for the Lincoln Commercial Club is "A New Skyline Every Day". From this he took his subject and built his sermon.

An invitation is extended to all to attend the services.

Chronic Constipation
"About two years ago when I began using Chamberlain's Tablets I had been suffering for some time with stomach trouble and chronic constipation. My condition improved rapidly through the use of these tablets. Since taking four or five bottles of them my health has been fine," writes Mrs. John Newton, Irving, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere. The president's choice of language in his Thanksgiving proclamation showed such admirable restraint that everybody sat back and sighed with relief. It had been feared of late that he might drop into poetry.

'ROUND ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. Wm. Barnett's sister, Mrs. Culver of Denver, is in the city for a few days, visiting with the former's family and other friends.

Just what you have been waiting for—the entertainment by David V. Bush, at the Methodist church, Monday evening, November 1.

A Diamond Disc recital was given last evening at the Brennan Drug store. A good crowd was present for the entertainment.

The music at the New Empress theatre Saturday evening will be furnished by the Diamond Disc Edison phonograph. A well selected program has been arranged.

Capt. Corbin, vice president of the Alliance National Bank, arrived in the city Saturday from a visit in New York City. He will return to Iowa within a few days.

Jonathan Apples, 85 cents a bushel. L. H. Highland, Phone 56.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mahaffy of Mullen, brother and sister-in-law of Dr. W. J. Mahaffy, of Alliance, returned Sunday from a five weeks' trip through the West, including the various points of interest through California, Oregon and Washington. They remained in Alliance to feast at the barbecue on Tuesday, returning to their ranch Wednesday on Thursday.

You'll regret it—if you fail to hear David V. Bush, at Methodist church, next Monday night.

Dr. Lee, former government veterinarian, who made his headquarters at Alliance and who now has a ranch forty-six miles west, near Curly, is in the city for Market Week.

Camille Nohe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Nohe, who has been spending the summer at Crown King, Arizona, where the Nohes are interested in a mine, returned Tuesday morning. Camille is well browned and shows the beneficial effects of a summer spent at work in the mine.

Jonathan Apples, 85 cents a bushel. L. H. Highland, Phone 56.

The Box Butte county agricultural display in the Darling store window has attracted much attention, which it rightly deserves. A lady who happened to see one of the monster pumpkins stepped into the store and was very indignant when informed that it was not for sale, as she thought it was "such a fine pumpkin."

A Chicago man who attended the big public barbecue Tuesday afternoon witnessed the crowd of several hundred young ladies who stood in line for their sandwich. "I see that the Alliance girls don't live altogether on bon bons," said he.

V. F. Hecke of Hemingford was in the city Wednesday, stopping over on his way to Denver, where he will visit for a couple of weeks.

The fire department is planning to hold their annual ball Thanksgiving night. The ball will be elaborate and will be open to the public.

Tommy Smith, former Alliance boy, who has made quite a reputation in the boxing game, is visiting relatives and friends in Alliance.

District Judge W. H. Westover is expected in Alliance Friday morning to hold a special term of court.

County Attorney Lee Basye left Wednesday night for Lincoln to attend matters before the state supreme court. He will argue the case of Box Butte County vs. the Burlington Railroad Company, the tax suit.

Will Rhinehart, of Omaha, a cousin of Geo. Hills, of Alliance, stopped over this week on his way home from a visit with relatives at Bayard.

Claude Rice, who is now hauling beets near Minatare, was in the city Wednesday.

Leon L. Smith, private secretary to E. E. Young, general superintendent of the Burlington, left Sunday night for a business trip to Chicago. He is expected to return on Friday.

G. L. Carlson, of Norfolk, who will judge the live stock exhibits this afternoon, arrived this morning. He will speak at a business men's luncheon Friday noon at the Drake and also at the courthouse Friday evening, just before the beginning of the mock trial. His subject will be, "Fundamentals in 'Town Building'."

The New Empress theatre was packed Monday afternoon by the children, the occasion being the free show given by manager Harry Sohns. Mr. Sohns made an interesting talk to the children, who gave vociferous

AT THE EMPRESS

Two Extra Good Features Offered for Thursday and Sunday Nights—Politics and Drama

For tonight and Sunday night the Empress theatre has something unusual to offer its patrons, in the way of two features of more than ordinary merit. Mr. Sohns is endeavoring to secure the best features in the field, and the fact that he is running four and five of these each week is some evidence that he is succeeding in his efforts.

For Thursday night the feature is "The Man from Oregon". This is one of the strongest political plays that has ever been filmed. The corrupt methods by the land-grab lobby at Washington, which were laid before the public several years ago, resulting in widespread indignation and a house-cleaning in national politics, are strikingly portrayed in this five-part feature. This masterpiece is exceptionally interesting from another standpoint, other than the story and its intensive clever handling, for it presents Clara Williams, one of the most talented young stars in the film world, as the chief feminine character. In support of Miss Williams appears Howard Hickman, in the role of "Honest Jim" Martin, United States senator from Oregon, who breaks the bac of the land-grab lobby. The story is full of intense situations, there is a deep rooted plot to get the "Man from Oregon" in with the land-grabbers, in which an adventuress figures prominently.

For Sunday night the feature is the "Toast of Death", the scene of which is laid in Calcutta and the desolate south of India. Poppea is a celebrated dancer, and when she appears on the stage in India, a prince becomes infatuated with her charms and proposes marriage. She consents, but at the same time she loves another, with whom she has clandestine meetings. The prince and his army are ordered to South India and the wife agrees to accompany. Drake, the lover, follows shortly after, and later he and Poppea are caught in a compromising position by the prince, who fills two glasses with wine and drops some arsenic in one. He asks his wife to give one glass to Drake and drink the other herself. Drake gets the poisoned glass and falls dead at the prince's feet. Poppea rushes out of the house and into the desert, never to return.

It is an intensely interesting and absorbing story, and is one that will thrill all who see it.
