

SOME EXCELLENT WINDOW DISPLAYS

Merchants Entered Into the Spirit of Market Week with Beautifully Decorated Windows

MUCH TIME AND THOUGHT USED

Seldom has there been an opportunity, even in the larger cities, to see a better or more comprehensive display of dress goods and ladies' and men's furnishings than was shown right here in Alliance Monday night in the windows of nearly all the stores. Every window showed clearly that much time and thought had been expended by the window trimmers in procuring displays that were worth while. "Isn't that beautiful?" was a remark heard on all sides from the ladies, and while the men had little to say, they showed their interest in all of the windows by their "watchful waiting". All manners of goods were exhibited, from hostery and shoes to expensive dresses for the women, and to high-priced suits and coats for both men and women.

The sidewalk in front of the various stores was crowded so that one in most cases had to get out in the street to pass the throng. That people like to gaze in smartly dressed windows was evidenced Monday night, and this only emphasizes the necessity of preparing proper displays if a store would keep to the front. Even the grocery stores and drug stores joined the others Monday night, the groceries carrying tempting displays of eatables and other table necessities. The drug stores carried Halloween displays, toilet articles, kodaks and many other articles.

The W. R. Harper Department Store used living models in their windows, one window being occupied by young ladies, another by small girls, another by young men and the other by small boys. It afforded a very pleasing contrast to walk past the store and see clothing for nearly all ages displayed to best advantage, and with each department occupying a window of its own. Misses Eva Duncan and Mildred Campbell occupied the young ladies' window, which was tastily decorated. In the background was a fancy partition with a large oval opening, and behind this was a large mirror, by the aid of which the people outside could easily see all sides of the garments being shown. Miss Duncan wore a Russian Green Permo cloth suit trimmed with black martin fur, and a Gage hat, while Miss Campbell wore a Palmer novelty coat of sealskin and beaver combination, a set of Gordon & Ferguson furs, and a Gage hat.

Little Misses Ruth Hill, Iona Ash, Helen Brennan and Mary Wilson occupied the little girls' window, the first three wearing children's millinery and pretty little white dresses. Miss Wilson wore a child's coat and hat.

Masters James Ponath, James Hunter, Frank Mounds, and Wade Grassman occupied the little boys' section. All wore Xtragoood suits and Daddy Duke shoes.

In the young men's window Edward Froehlich wore a Brandegee-Kinead made-to-measure suit; Glen Erquhart plaid. Wm. LaMon wore a Brandegee-Kinead suit and a Stein-Bloch "Picadilly" overcoat; Lester Harvey wore a Stein-Bloch suit and an overcoat of the same make. All three young men wore Gordon hats and Florheim shoes. The backgrounds of all windows were tastily decorated with the Market Week colors of black and orange, and the glow of the electric lights on the moving figures and on the background gave a most pleasing effect.

The large Mollring window was occupied by three forms, artistically dressed in fashion's latest modes. The background was draped with the black and orange Market Week colors represented by wide silk ribbons tastily arranged. The center form wore a lady's party gown of black velvet and chiffon, de collette; the bodice was of black velvet, and the skirt of imported satin stripe chiffon, overdressed; in the hand was a gold and black mesh bag. The form on the right wore a dress of yellow imported chiffon with poppy figure; black velvet poppy centering waistline in front; and wearing a beautiful black neck scarf. The dress on the left side form was of Nile chiffon, bodice trimmed with six-inch black embroidery on chiffon, and the skirt carrying a plain black overdrap of bobbinette. The figure held a beautiful white steel mesh bag, trimmed in plain white tortoise shell.

The back center of the window showed a beautiful two-tone figured chiffon; the sides of back center two draped forms of two-toned ear-muse, peach and yellow, and each form carrying a showing of the celebrated J. & K. party slippers to match the colors. In the foreground were two forms draped with crepe de chine and crepe meteor, each carrying slipper to match. In each corner the forms wore black and white chiffon and lace waists. The floor of the window showed a pretty and varied collection of ostrich feather boas and street and party bags of all sizes, descriptions and combinations. The lights were decorated with black and orange shades, giving a most pleasing effect to the tasty arrangements of the expert blending of colors in this window. The decoration is the work of an artist in window dressing, and would attract much attention even in a large city.

The four large display windows of The Famous clothing store were occupied by every kind of clothing and wearables for men and boys. There were suits, overcoats, hats, shoes, ties, caps, sweaters and sweater coats, canes, and almost everything else that a well-dressed man or boy wears on all occasions. In addition, there was a comprehensive display of trunks and suit cases. The suits and overcoats were the celebrated Hart-Schaffner & Marx and Alco, two of the best lines handled anywhere, and the array was diversified with plaids, stripes and solid colors. The windows were all decorated with Market Week colors.

The displays in the windows of the Alliance Shoe stores were strong on account of their simplicity. Only a few pairs of shoes were displayed on each side, but each model stood out prominently. The entire background of one window was the Market Week colors, black and orange, the edges of the colors being placed together and alternating entirely across the background. In the other window the strips of coloring were wider, but were also alternated. The background on this side extended about half way to the top of the window. One window was occupied entirely by the different models of the Reed Cushion Sole shoe, which Mr. Miller started handling recently.

In the window of the Commercial Club office the display was very suggestive and was devoted entirely to Box Butte county. A large bed of shelled corn was occupied in the center by a small toy train consisting of an engine and two flat cars, and on each was placed one large potato, which, by the way, made a big load for the train. Proportionately, there are few real railroads that would want to carry such a load. Secretary Fisher evidently wanted to impress on the minds of the people the enormity of Box Butte county's potato crop this year, and his effort met with success. In the background was a single row of ears of corn, placed perpendicularly and extending across the window. Several of the signs "Welcome to Our City" were prominently displayed behind the corn, and Market Week colors were used in profusion. In the foreground, to one side, were the silver cups and the bronze medal to be given to the prize winning baby in the Better Babies' contest. Just behind the corn display were three extra large pumpkins raised by G. W. Nation.

The large show window of Miller Bros., housefurnishers, was comfortably filled with a display of Buck's stoves. In the foreground were dozens of small artificial birds of all kinds, constructed from light material and very naturally colored, and suspended from the ceiling by individual strings and spring, and when an oscillating electric fan was turned on them they performed in the same manner as birds flying thru the air.

This display was a very unique one, and caused much comment from the bystanders, most of whom did not notice the electric fan, which was partially hidden.

E. G. Laine, who sells "Modern Clothes for Men", showed a very nice line of these modern clothes in the form of suits and overcoats, sweaters and sweater coats, mackinaws, and toques of all colors and combinations. One window was occupied entirely by the sweaters, sweater coats and toques, and the suits and overcoats were displayed on the other side. The sweaters were especially pleasing to the eye, as the different colors were arranged to show off to best advantage. In the background of both windows was lattice work, covered with autumn leaves, and with the Market Week colors in evidence.

The windows of the Horace Bogue store were effectively arranged with showings of the new silk striped dress goods, Dorothy Dodd shoes, Wooltex suits and coats, Albrecht furs, and millinery, the suits and coats being displayed on forms. The large new show windows, which were recently installed, showed up to excellent advantage on this occasion. The backgrounds for the displays were beautiful, consisting of grape arbors covered with vines, and here and there a bunch of artificial grapes that looked almost good enough to eat. A basket filled with hanging vines was suspended from the top of the east window.

Mrs. Mary Tiernan Dead
Mrs. Mary Tiernan, for the past twenty-seven years a resident of this section, died at her ranch home twenty-two miles west of Alliance Saturday, at the age of 86. She had been falling in health for some time, and it was seen several weeks ago that she could not live more than a few months. However, the blow was a sad one, and her death leaves much grief to her many friends who extend their sincere sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Mary Kelley was born in County Sligo, Ireland, October 25, 1829, coming to America in 1853 and settling at LaSalle, Ill., at which place she was united in marriage to John Tiernan in 1855. The family came

A Nervous Woman Finds Relief From Suffering.

Women who suffer from extreme nervousness, often endure much suffering before finding any relief. Mrs. Joseph Snyder, of Tiffin, O., had such an experience, regarding which she says:

"Six months I was bedfast with nervous prostration. I had sinking spells, a cold clammy feeling, could not stand the slightest noise. At times I would almost fly to pieces stomach very weak. My husband insisted on my taking Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I began to improve before I had finished the first bottle until I was entirely cured."

MRS. JOSEPH SNYDER, 262 Hudson St., Tiffin, Ohio

Many remedies are recommended for diseases of the nervous system that fail to produce results because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. Dr. Miles' Nervine has proven its value in such cases so many times that it is unnecessary to make claims for it. You can prove its merits for yourself by getting a bottle of your druggist, who will return the price if you receive no benefit.

to Box Butte county in 1888, settling just west of Alliance. The deceased is survived by six children: Mrs. Margaret Murphy, of Lakeside, Mrs. Ella Brubaker, of Bridgeport, Mrs. George J. Burke, Mrs. Jack Burns, Alice Tiernan and Charles Tiernan, all of whom live in and near Alliance. There are eighteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Solemn requiem mass was held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at Holy Rosary church. Father Keiser, of Hemingford, was celebrant, Father Donnelly, deacon, and Father McLaughlin, sub-deacon. The funeral sermon was preached by Father Donnelly, and burial was made in the Catholic cemetery.

For Indigestion
Never take pepsi and preparations containing pepsi or other digestive ferments for indigestion, as the more you take the more you will have to take. What is needed is a tonic like Chamberlain's Tablets that will shackle the stomach to perform its functions naturally. Obtainable everywhere.

District Court Friday
Judge Westover will be here tomorrow to hold a special term of the district court. At this time will be heard the final adjustment of the Wilton estate and the confirmation of the sale of the property. The case of the Manewal and Dunbar boys, who broke into Newberry's warehouse several weeks ago and took a quantity of shot gun shells, will probably be heard at this time. A number of minor cases will also be disposed of.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning
Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head, no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin treatment and above all, keep it up. As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying the tone phosphate and hot water, before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 600 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.
