Events in the Social Realm

Mrs. George Davis has invited the Eastern Star ladies to her home for a Kensington this afternoon. No doubt the time will be much enjoyed.

Mrs. Christina MacCray was hostess at a pleasant dinner party Saturday evening. Among her guests were Rev. and Mrs. Lewis McIntyre and the Drs. Jeffrey.

Mrs. J. S. Corp entertained the ladies of the Baptist Aid Society yesterday afternoon, and a pleasant time was spent, with a delicious lunch served near the close of the hours.

The Royal Highlanders gave another of their enjoyable dances last Thursday evening. Altogether there was not as large an usual those present report a pleasant time. This fraternity are royal entertainers.

The members of the auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church, and friends, were entertained at the home of Mrs. J. E. Hughes yesterday afternoon. A thimble party and an elaborate luncheon were enjoyed.

The Rebekahs are to hold their installation of officers tomorrow evening, Friday, and besides the work which will be put on, a delicious spread is being arranged for. Every member should make an effort to be present.

The ladies of the Episcopal Guild met at the parish house yesterday afternoon and were entertained at lunch by Mrs. William Mitchell and Mrs. Pennycook. The afternoon was much enjoyed by a good number of the members.

Mrs. H. F. Thiele was hostess to the T. O. T. club last Thursday afternoon. The members enjoyed a social afternoon with Kensington to fill in the time, and an elaborate luncheon was served near the close of the afternoon hours.

Miss Mildred Dole celebrated her fifth birthday last Saturday afternoon, by entertaining a number of her young friends. Of course they enjoyed some hours of frolic with a delicious lunch to close the anniversary. Good wishes to the young lady.

The first of a series of dancing parties is being arranged for Thursday evening, January 27, given by the Elks in their rooms. This promises to be only the beginning of many evenings spent in this social way, and the committee are laying elaborate plans for the coming event.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Martin entertained the 1916 Club last Thursday evening, and had some friends in addition. The evening was one of enjoyment for the participants, and refreshments added to the social good time. Games filled the evening hours, and the guests were loath to depart.

On Tuesday evening of this week, Mrs. C. E. Marks entertained at a card party at her home. The event was in honor of her mother, Mrs. Adelle Phelan of McCook, sisters Miss Josephine Phelan of Vancouver, B. C., and Mrs. W. B. Gage of Worland, Wyo., and brothers Thomas Phelan, of Vancouver, and Bernard Phelan of Denver, who are her guests for a few days.

At a meeting of the Degree of Honor lodge Friday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Past chief of honor, Mrs. W. W. Johnson; chief of honor, Mrs. H. J. Kuhn; lady of honor, Mrs. John Carlson; chief of ceremonies, Mrs. Stella Stanton; recorder, Mrs. George Davis; receiver, Mrs. A. Renswold; usher, Mrs. John Beck; inside watch, Mrs. Kate Buechsenstein; outside watch, Mrs. George Milliken. Following the business meeting Mrs. John Carlson entertained the members at luncheon at her home.

The invitations sent out written in German for the party given last Friday evening in honor of the German beginner's class was responded to by an enthusiastic and good company of young folks. The games played during the evening were those characteristic of the Germans, and the entire conversation was in the same language. The supper, which included a menu of things dear to the heart of the "Dutchmen" was equally appreciated by the two German classes following out the ideas presented by their teacher. A pleasant and profitable evening was enjoyed.

Mrs. W. D. Rumer entertained in honor of her mother, Mrs. Coffin, yesterday afternoon. About twenty-five ladies were present to help the honored one celebrate her ninetieth birthday, and the hours were filled with pleasant conversation and good cheer. An elaborate 6 o'clock dinner was served the guests, and the birthday cake was a pretty feature of the affair. It was a large cake with the figures 90 on the top and surmounted with ninety little pink candles, which were lighted. The friends remembered Mrs. Coffin with pretty flowers and some other suitable gifts, and before leaving wished her continued health and many more happy birthday anniversaries as pleasant as the passing one.

For any of the social entertainments of the locality, we are pleased to announce that students in any department of the School of Music are available.

Mrs. Percy Cogswell entertained a number of her lady friends last Thursday evening. The time was pleasantly spent during the dinner hours and for a time afterwards.

James Hewitt was host to six gentlemen friends at a 6 o'clock dinner Sunday evening. The abundant and delicious repast included a duck supper, and it is enough to mention that the guests fully enjoyed every moment of the time.

The members of the P. E. O. met with Mrs. W. D. Rumer Monday evening of this week, and entertained their husbands at a 7 o'clock dinner. The color scheme was in yellow and white and the appointments were well arranged. About forty were present to enjoy the affair which included a miscellaneous program.

The Choral Club met Monday evening, with a large attendance of the members. It might be well to suggest that any one expecting to take up the work should begin immediately, in fact, at the next meeting of the club, to enable them to get training on the music the club is already working on.

The meeting of the woman's federated club for this week will be held at the home of Mrs. D. J. Nelson, 624 Big Horn, Friday afternoon. "Home Economics" will be the topic considered, roll call being responded to with a simple "First Aid". Mrs. Dole will consider the subject "The Fight against Tuberculosis". Mrs. Pate will give a book review of "Brooch Arden". A discussion will be followed with music by Miss Dorothy Smith. Members will please take notice in change of meeting place.

William Flower of Bayard and Miss Catherine Corbett of Sundance, Wyo., were united in marriage last evening at the Methodist parsonage in Alliance, the Rev. J. B. Carns officiating. Mr. Flower is a popular young man of many friends, and has arranged to operate a ranch a few miles out of Bayard, in the spring. The romance, which ended so happily for the couple, was started when the bride lived with her parents at Bayard. The family moved to Sundance last fall, and now the bride returns to fill her place in the new home. Congratulations to the couple.
