A Cruel Blow
"I see you have your arm in a sling," said the inquisitive passenger. "Broken, isn't it?" "Yes, sir," responded the other passenger. "Meet with an accident?" "No; broke it while trying to pat myself on the back." "Great Scott! What for?" "For minding my own business." —Ram's Horn.

While visiting the south recently, a traveler chanced upon a resident of a sleepy hamlet in Alabama. "Are you a native of this town?" asked the traveler. "Am I a what?" languidly asked the one addressed. "Are you a native of this town?" "What's that?"

At this juncture there appeared at the open door of the cabin the man's wife, tall, sallow and gaunt. After a careful survey of the questioner, she said: "Ain't you got no sense, Bill? He means was you livin' heah when yo' begun livin' heah. Now answer him."

"Will you please insert this obituary notice?" asked an old gentleman of an editor. "I make bold to ask it because the deceased had a great many friends here who would be glad to hear of his death."

The Rake
A small, henpecked, worried-looking man was about to take an examination for life insurance. "You don't dissipate, do you?" asked the physician, as he made ready for tests. "Not a fast liver, or anything of that sort?" The little man hesitated a moment, looked a bit frightened, then replied, in a small, piping voice: "I sometimes chew a little gum." —Collier's Weekly.

Could He Help It?
The manager of a Lynn factory tells of having engaged a new man recently. He gave instructions to the foreman to instruct him in his duties. A few days afterward the manager inquired whether the new man was progressing with his work. The foreman, who had not agreed very well with the man in question, exclaimed angrily:

"Progressing! There's been a lot of progress! I have taught him everything I know and he is still an ignorant fool."

Bereaved widow (to country editor): "Do you charge for obituary notices, Mr. Shears?" Country editor: "As a general thing we do, Mrs. Bentley, but your husband and I were old friends, and I will only be too glad to publish his obituary for nothing."

Gags: "Ferguson is a sharp man." Jags: "What did he do?" "You see his wife never lets him have any money, so he steals her pug."

"Steals her pug?" "Yes, he has made arrangements with a professional dog stealer. Ferguson hands dog over the fence to stealer. Mrs. Ferguson offers reward of $5. Dog stealer gets reward and goes '50-50' with Ferg. Next week dog is gone again. Another reward and more pocket money for Ferg. See?"

The Malemiut
Oh, the malemiut is a crafty brute; He'll lead you a merry dance. He'll steal the grub from a sour-dough tub

If he gets but half a chance, He'll loot the sled of the sheeted dead When the pale shade's back was turned; Men brand him thief when he grabs the beef.

And the title is amply earned, Oh, the malemiut is a vicious brute And "fang for fang" is his law. He'll snarl and scarp till his tendons snap

And the hide of his back is raw, He'll nip the flank or rip the shank Of the nearest dog in reach. For his jaws are good, and his thirst for blood,

Is the thirst of a starving leech. Oh, the malemiut is a faithful brute; When you mosh through the barren spaces, He points his nose where the lead-dog goes

Till he drops in the blood-wet traces. Oh, he may be a thief and he may be chief Of the sinners you ever knew, But he seems to say in his poor, dumb way:

"I'm yours, and I'd die for you!" —Selected.

Forget It!
If you see a good fellow ahead of the crowd, A leader of men, marching fearless and proud, And you know of a tale whose mere telling aloud

Would cause his proud head in anguish to be bowed, It's a pretty good plan to—forget it. If you know of a skeleton hidden away

In a closet, and guarded and kept from the day, In the dark, and whose showing, whose sudden disp lay,

Would cause grief and sorrow and lifelong dismay, It's a pretty good plan to—forget it. If you know of a spot in the life of a friend

(We all have such spots concealed, world without end), Whose touching his heartstrings would play on and rend

Till the shame of its showing no grieving could mend, It's a pretty good plan to—forget it. If you know of a thing just the least little sin,

Whose telling would cork up a laugh or a grin, Of a man you don't like, for the Lord's sake, keep it in. Don't, don't be a knocker; right here stick a pin— It's a pretty good plan to—forget it. —T. P. A. Magazine.

NOTICE

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS
Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you—Drink more water.

If you must have your meat every day, but flush your kidneys with water occasionally, says a noted authority, tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. It becomes sluggish and weakens, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or headache, dizziness, your stomach and tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. Urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore and irritated obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces Jad Salts from any pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. The famous salts is made from the acid grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot be overdone, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

THE LOOKOUT
Hickory, Nebr.

The sale held by Mrs. Stafford was well attended and a good time reported.

The milk-stool cowpunch and his girl were at the sale. They sure make a nice pair.

Peter McLaughlin, working for Peterson's, made a hit with a nice little school ma'am, and came home after his buggy and little gray team.

As Mac drew Ema closely to him he asked for a kiss and she said, "No mother objects to kissing," and Mac said, "I don't want to kiss her."

The teacher of district 93 asked her pupils what a caterpillar was, and Alice said it was an upholstered worm.

Herman Smith purchased a scale at the sale to weigh his Studebaker and his son Henry, to see which weighs most.

Alice McLaughlin was quite disappointed that Buzz did not notice her very much at the sale. She wanted him to buy the single buggy, so they could go to their hidden mail box in the hills.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh
Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.
This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.
