What About the Tournament?

At the annual convention in Crawford in the month of January we were told about the big tournament with $4,000 in prizes, to be held jointly with Iowa at Omaha in July. If the proposition has been dropped we would be glad to know it in order to inform those who are interested. If it has not been dropped we would be pleased to know the exact dates and what the program will be.

Secretary Miller of Kearney has had an immense amount of work to do in compiling this book.

Marriage of Miss O'Brien and Mr. Willard C. Myers

The first of the promised June weddings took place yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, when Miss Lucile O'Brien, daughter of Mrs. C. O'Brien, and Mr. Willard C. Myers were united in wedlock at St. Agnes Academy chapel. Father Donnelly officiating with the impressive ring ceremony. A company of immediate relatives and friends witnessed the event, and Miss Kate Knies and Mr. Connie O'Brien were the attendants of the couple. The bride was handsomely attired in a gown of white Georgette silk crepe over lace, and the bride's maid in a gown of rose colored taffeta, both carrying bouquets of lilies of the valley and white rose buds. After the nuptial vows had been taken, the party repaired to the home of Mrs. W. J. Hamilton, where a four-course wedding breakfast was served, the arrangements and color scheme being in pink and white, roses and carnations being used in the decorations. The gift of the bride to the bridesmaid was a gold ring with ruby setting, and the groom presented the best man with a handsome smoking set. The happy couple left on 44 for Cozstock, Nebr., for a visit at the groom's parents, and will later go to Mason City, where they will reside in the future.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kenny of Chadron, the latter being a sister of the bride. The gifts of cut glass, silver and furniture were many and appropriate. The Herald joins with the many friends in wishing the happiest joys for the young couple. They are both popular young people and are well fitted to appreciate a good home. He is energetic and will make good.

the betterment of child life cannot help but have its reward and effect on the coming generation.

The "Parent's Teacher's Association" so well and favorably known in the eastern part of our country, is taking a new name out here where the fire of enthusiasm and specific welfare is pronounced, and we find Mother's Clubs being formed, with the intention of working alongside the teachers of the public schools, cooperating and giving enlisted efforts in every way possible, a spirit of helpfulness which the teachers of the schools are in much need of, and will be heartily appreciated by them.

Some Things Women's Clubs Are Doing in the State of Nebraska.

It is interesting to note the diversity of activities in which the women's clubs throughout this state, and others, are engaged, and after all the working club is the one that progresses toward the goal of higher advancement in every degree. We believe that the intention of every organization of women of this nature is to advance intellectually, and at the same time help to promote a telling influence for higher living to the community in which they live, and proud indeed are the members of the club who extend their interests to the surrounding country.

Among the many suggestive topics which the women of these wide-awake clubs may become influential and help toward lasting benefits, are those which may to some lay beyond their sphere, but nevertheless are not. We have read recently of the Tecumseh Woman's League passing and presenting resolutions calling upon the city's officials to protect the city from carnival companies, then another Community Club near Spencer has for its object the building up of a better community, maintain a congenial community spirit and studying agriculture and home economics. One club is interesting itself in the laws affecting women and children and discussing "Child Welfare," a subject in itself broad and if worked out to
