JEFFREY AT CONVENTION

Alliance Chiropractor Attended State Convention Held at Lincoln This Week

Dr. J. Jeffrey of Alliance, who attended the Nebraska Chiropractic Association annual convention at Lincoln the first of the week, returned Wednesday morning. The doctor was one of the six chiropractors recommended by the association to the governor for appointment on the state chiropractic board. He may be the one selected.

Dr. B. J. Palmer, of Davenport, Iowa, the world's foremost chiropractor, examined eighty cases, two of them from Alliance. The Lincoln Daily Star gave the following account of the convention:

By a close ballot of twenty-six to thirty-two, the old staff of officers re-elected themselves again. The so-called "Crabtree" slate was headed by Dr. J. R. Campbell, of Norfolk. The faction opposing the present administration succeeded in placing W. E. Purviance, of Omaha, on the executive committee, to take the place of Dr. Ashworth of Lincoln.

No Lincoln chiropractors are represented on the slate as re-elected, most of the officers being from Omaha. The following are the officers:

Dr. L. E. Edwards, of Omaha, president.

Dr. H. W. Kellogg, of Harvard, vice president.

Dr. J. C. Lawrence, of Omaha, secretary.

Dr. A. J. Nielsen, of Beatrice, treasurer.

These officers, with J. P. Laub, of Chapman, and W. E. Purviance, of Omaha, constitute the executive committee.

The annual convention by mutual agreement is held in Lincoln every year.

The association recommended the following six chiropractors to the governor, one of which, if the governor chooses, he appoints on the state chiropractic board: Dr. B. B. Schaffer, Auburn; Dr. Joseph Jeffrey, Alliance; Dr. H. J. Foster, Hastings; Dr. J. S. Timbre, Fremont; Dr. J. S. Schroeder, West Point; Dr. J. C. Lawrence, Omaha.

"Medicine and surgery have proved themselves a failure," declared Dr. B. J. Palmer, of Davenport, Ia.

"Physicians have been experimenting for 5,000 years to alleviate human ills. Millions of bodies have been cut up, hundreds of millions of prescriptions have been filled and millions of dollars have been spent on the human family."

HICKS AT CONVENTION

Alliance Delegate Kept Busy at Big Railroad Men's Brotherhood Meeting at Denver

F. W. Hicks of Alliance, delegate to the international convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers at Denver, is enjoying the meeting immensely and is kept busy by the work there. Mr. Hicks, in a letter to The Herald, states that the outlook is for the session to last until July 1.

The delegates were informed on Tuesday that the interstate commerce commission had ordered all railroads of the country to equip their engines with uniform headlights of sufficient candlepower to distinguish an object on the tracks as large as a man for a distance of 1,500 yards.

There were exultant shouts on the part of the delegates. The message meant that the engineers' and firemen's brotherhoods had won a battle with the railroads which has been going on for years, a battle which means much to the men and the public, but which will cost the railroads large sums of money because of the necessity of changing their headlights to conform to the standards to be ordered by the commission.

John F. McNamee, editor of the firemen and engineers' magazine and publicity agent for the convention, gave out the following statement:

"The convention adopted the report of the special committee which recommended that the attitude of the brotherhood in the matter of prohibition remain unchanged."

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers is unequivocally and uncompromisingly a temperance organization. In fact, the percentage of men in its ranks who even occasionally take a drink of intoxicating beverages is very limited, and none of its members drink to excess, and its officers are all total abstainers.

Dandelions and Diamond A Ice Cream

Nothing is liked better by children than pure, wholesome ice cream. Thirty-five boys and girls, all under the age of sixteen years, in three weeks gathered 4,639½ pounds of dandelions in The Herald's contests.

On Saturday evening, June 10th, these boys and girls were entertained at The Herald office with a supper at which they were served with all the

that they could eat. They knew the ice cream was good because every sanitary regulation and caution known is observed in our ice cream making department.

Dealers in ice cream and drinks and confections in which it is used are learning that it is the kid to sell and are handling more and more of it every day. In Alliance it can be found at the following fountains:

Brennen's, Thiele's and Joe Smith's

You will find every plate of this ice cream to be delicious and delicately flavored. When you order ask for this cream and you will be satisfied.
