 "Modern Clothes for Men"
 308 Box Butte Avenue

ALLIANCE, NEBR., July 6, 1916

My Dear Sir:-

Did you ever know-

-that the first curved ball was pitched by Arthur

Cummings in 1867-

-that in 1875 ten men played on each side-

-that overhand pitching was authorized in 1884-

-that in the fall of 1897 a batsman was allowed to call for a high or low ball-

-that the young man who don't look over our showing of Sport Shirts and Wash Ties in our south window for the rest of this week, will be losing a good opportunity, and will be as good as out of the game.

-an exceptionally low price on sport shirts, for the rest of the week, and the best price that we have ever had on wash ties,

20 cents each or, 2 for 35 cents

-May we expect you in to see these, as the season demand the change. Don't wait; it's high time. Come in and let us take care of your "Hot Weather Wants."

Yours very truly,

E. G. Laing

ALLIANCE FACES WATER FAMINE

Owing to the increasing demand on the Alliance water supply it is imperative that the use of hose and all sprinkling be discontinued between the hours of six o'clock a. m. and eight o'clock p. m. of each day.

With all available pumps running at capacity during these hours it is impossible to meet the demands if water is to be used for irrigating purposes. The danger of fire is imminent during the dry weather and no pressure can be maintained under the present demands. There will be an absolute shortage for household use if the practice of sprinkling is not reduced.

The city respectfully urges the co-operation of every person in the city during the dry season and until the present reservoir can be completed and put in service. Unless such co-operation is extended the city will be forced to pass an emergency ordinance prohibiting the use of water between the above hours and providing a heavy penalty for a violation of the law.

Attest: J. E. HUGHES, Water Commissioner.
 P. E. ROMIG, Mayor.

In for July Fourth.

H. R. Farnsworth, P. B. Nipple, W. H. Bennett, Thomas Garnett, E. W. Brown, J. W. Reynolds and M. M. Smith composed a party that came in from the hills for the fourth of July. Mr. Smith went to Hyannis to visit with friends.

When Are the Fireworks?

An Alliance volunteer fireman spent Tuesday, the Fourth, celebrating to beat the bond. Along towards evening he was all tired out but he had determined to see the whole show through and he decided that he would not retire until after the display of the fireworks promised by the commercial club. He had forgotten, however, where they were to be shown so sat himself down at the corner of Third and Box Butte to wait until they came in sight. He was gratified to see a display that included four skyrockets and six Roman candles, with three pinwheels. The next morning he remarked to a friend that the fireworks display was rather small and was astonished when his friend replied that it was certainly not. On further investigation he discovered that the tired fireman had watched some small boys hold their private celebration while he missed the big show at the city park.

Death of Mrs. J. D. Walton

Mrs. J. D. Walton, mother of Mrs. C. A. Dow of Alliance, died at her home in Belmont, Iowa, on Tuesday, June 27th, aged sixty-seven years. Mrs. Dow was with her mother for several days before her death. Mrs. Walton is survived by her husband and five children, four girls and a boy. All of the children were present at her bedside at the time of her death with exception of her son, who could not get there in time.

Marketing School Garden Vegetables

A new idea in the way of marketing the school gardening vegetables is proving very much a success. Instead of the market center as held in most of the towns conducting the school gardening work, Alliance has worked out an original idea in the way of disposing of the produce from the various students grown by the school children. An exchange is conducted at the Central school building and any one desiring fresh vegetables for the table or canning needs only to call the Central school, phone number 62, and make their wants known. The supervisor, in turn, notifies members of the gardening club who have vegetables to sell and the order is promptly filled. In this way you will receive only the best of good, home-grown vegetables, that have not been harvested but for a very short time. Inquire yourself of good, fresh, home-grown vegetables and phone 62 any time between the hours of 8 and 12 a. m., or 1 and 2 p. m.

Company Was Disbanded

Alliance's company of National Guard, organized by J. B. Miller for the purpose of joining the new Sixth regiment, proposed for Nebraska, has been disbanded. The backing down of the Carranza government in Mexico has practically disposed of any chance of war and the need for more troops at his time is therefore not very heavy. Mr. Miller has secured positions for those who left their jobs and others have gone to Cheyenne or Lincoln to enlist in companies already formed.

Journeyed to Hot Springs.

Among the Alliance young people who spent July Fourth at Hot Springs, South Dakota, were the following: Misses Etta and Hanah Keane, Josephine and Thressa O'Donnell, Hazel Bennett, Francis Nolan, Marie Carey and Miss Wilma Bruce of Chadron. Also Messrs. McCluskey, Davis, Herbert Butler and George Keough of Omaha. In another party were Misses Ola Burmood and Ruth and Belle Reed.

Stecher-Lewis Wrestle to Draw

Omaha, July 4.—After five hours wrestling the Joe Stecher-Ed (Strangler) Lewis wrestling match was called a draw by the referee here tonight.

Lewis was on the defensive throughout the match.

Last fall at Evansville Stecher and Lewis wrestled two hours and ten minutes to a draw. Today Lewis set out systematically to elude Stecher and there were few times when they came to grips. Lewis easily broke away from Stecher, but remained determinedly on the defensive.

Once Stecher laid down on the mat and offered Lewis any hold he desired. Lewis turned his back to the Nebraskan, ignoring the invitation.

The match began at 4 o'clock, and at 9 o'clock Ed Smith of Chicago, the referee, announced it a draw.

A Unique Window Display

A window display that has attracted much attention during the past ten days is that of the E. G. Laing store. The scene represents an army camp with tents and other paraphernalia. In the background is a mountain surmounted by the stars and stripes. In the foreground are relics collected by Mr. Laing during his service with the army in the Spanish-American war.
