OLD FOLKS FIND A CHEERY FRIEND

A Boon to Those Who Have Started Down the Hill of Life

So many of us have been seeking some really efficient remedy to give to our old folks who are treading in the long shadows of life. That remedy must contain the proper tonic qualities to revitalize sluggish organs and the blood.

That something has been found. It is Tanlac.

It is cowardly to let debility sap away the life and comforts when it can be stayed. A condition of debility never wears itself out. Instead, it gradually grows more pronounced unless proper measures to check it are taken. It gathers force and nourishes itself upon the tissues of the body. To build up those tissues is to fight debility.

Characteristic conditions of debility both in old and young are nervousness, headaches, backaches, depression of spirits, loss of appetite, sleeplessness and a general good-for-nothing feeling that comes from lack of energy.

Tanlac is designed to combat these conditions in many ways. It is a splendid tonic and tissue builder with just the right amount of protein. It quiets nerves and brings back restful sleep, which is Nature's first aid to the debilitated. It corrects stomach troubles—and there, in nine cases out of ten, you have the seat of a nervous, debilitating ailment.

With the body recharged with vigor, that detested, despondent feeling passes away so quickly you are astonished and mightily grateful that you didn't start out to fight it long before.

Tanlac may now be obtained in Alliance at the Harry Thiele drug store where its great popularity is being better shown every day.

NO SAWDUST WITH RING

Press Agent of Sells-Floto Shows Says Tradition of Small Boys is Mistake

That sound of a dull and sickening thud meant neither a murder nor an automobile tire blowout. Much more disastrous, in fact, for it was the bursting sound of an exploding tradition—a tradition which has existed since Hec was in his swaddling clothes and Noah played Ararat with the world's first collection of trained but untamed animals.

Ever since kidhood days you've heard of the "sawdust ring." Circus meant sawdust. The circus life was the life of sawdust. And yet there ascends to the witness stand the poor but honest press agent of the Sells-Floto Buffalo Bill Wild West circus, champion shows of the world, which is to play a one day's engagement in the city August 5. And the aforementioned press agent, telling things while the teacher's back is turned, thus tears to pieces the old tradition of the sawdust:

"To tell the truth," he says, "there isn't any such thing in the circus world as sawdust. Persons speak of the sawdust ring. There isn't any. More than that, sawdust isn't known about the circus. The space in the inclosures of the rings are filled with wood shavings and chips. And when there is rain, sawdust is not used to place on the mud, but straw. There isn't a speck of sawdust to be found around the whole circus. It is true that in the very, very old days of the circus, before the present modes of automatic planing, with its attendant wood chips and shavings, came into use, that sawdust was employed to a certain extent. But that was so long ago that it is ancient history."

This another tradition goes into the discard. Thus—but there comes another interruption from the press agent:

"Beg pardon, but if I can just butt in for a word or two more? That little information about the sawdust wasn't exactly in my line. What I really came here to say was that the Sells-Floto Circus will be here for one day with a great line of attractions, ranging from Jess Willard, champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, all the way thru the list of champions to Rosa Rosalind, the champion horse-to-horse somersault acrobatic. And more than that, there's to be an ensemble of a hundred good-looking girls. A parade? Why, certainly, at 10:30 circus morning, with a million dollars' worth of gold and glitter in it!"

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

SPARRING FOR TIME

Publicity Department of Railroad Transportation Brotherhoods Says Wasting Time

Cleveland, Ohio, July 26—The following statement was issued today by the Transportation Brotherhoods.

The proposition of the railroad transportation brotherhoods for an eight-hour day to the Interstate Commerce Commission is nothing but a proposition to gain time for the railroads and to waste time for the men.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is not now equipped to undertake this task. In order to undertake it the Interstate Commerce Commission Act would have to be radically amended by Congress. Such an amendment would require at least a month for passage, and upon its passage several months would be required before the Commission could actually begin the work, thus imposed upon it.

Whatever may be the desirability of empowering the Interstate Commerce Commission to handle wage disputes, this is not the time to do it. The Commission is overburdened with duties. A bill has been pending before Congress, urgently advocated by the railroads themselves, calling for an increase in the membership of the Commission in order to enable it to handle cases already on its docket.

A resolution is now pending in the House, after having been passed by the Senate, calling for an investigation by a joint committee of Congress into the need for railroad legislation, particularly into the need for legislation affecting the Interstate Commerce Commission. This resolution was introduced at the request of the railroads and for the express purpose of heading off any railroad legislation until a comprehensive survey of the entire situation should have been made. Representatives of the railroads have urged this resolution for these reasons.

Yet now the railroads, forgetting these arguments, and frightened at the prospect of being forced to yield to the brotherhoods, are demanding hasty and ill-considered legislation, the first effect of which would be to give them an advantage in their dispute with their employes.

The Commission only has authority over rates, etc., on interstate traffic and has no control over matters that are wholly within a state.

Authority is conferred on the Interstate Commerce Commission by Congress, to fix or exercise any control over wages, it would only apply to employes whose runs are from one state to another.

Inasmuch as the bulk of trainmen work wholly within a state, it would result in the worst muddle possible. A few employes having their wages fixed by the U. S. and the rest of them standing just where they are now.

The claim made by the railroads that as the Interstate Commerce Commission has authority over freight rates, it should also have authority over rates of pay, is a clever and seemingly plausible argument, put forward to secure public sympathy.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has always taken cognizance of wages or labor costs in passing upon freight rates. One of the leading arguments of the railroads in making application for authority to advance their freight rates has been that outlays for employes have increased and as a consequence that they should be permitted to charge more for their services.

Elaborate statistical exhibits have in all general rate cases been presented by the railroads to the Commission, which set forth in great detail how many more dollars are paid out in wages and salaries now as compared with former years. As a consequence, the Interstate Commerce Commission has always passed on the question of the relation of wages to freight and passenger rates, and to total operating costs.
