

GOV. HANLY NOMINATED

elusion of Haynes' speech there was a noisy demonstration. Delegates waved flags and banners and stood on their seats and shouted. The Indiana delegation marched through aisles and over the platform, singing patriotic songs.

After a twelve-minute demonstration for Hanly, order was restored. Arizona was next called and Eugene W. Chaffin placed in nomination Wm. Sulzer, former governor of New York. His speech was punctuated with applause. He concluded with the declaration that "Sunday school politics have prevailed too long in the prohibition party and we now need a statesman as our leader." A demonstration was begun and lasted four minutes.

Dr. Grafton D. Day nominated Dr. James Gilbert Mason of New Jersey. Daniel A. Poling of Boston seconded the nomination of Mr. Hanly.

John C. Coffin of Florida seconded the nomination of Mr. Sulzer.

H. P. Ferris, national treasurer of the party, who had been leading a movement for the nomination of Dr. Ira D. Landrith of Nashville, Tenn., went to the platform and amid applause seconded the nomination of Mr. Hanly.

The platform of the national prohibition party, adopted at today's session of the party's convention, denounces the liquor traffic as a crime, declares for nation-wide prohibition and equal suffrage and opposes the military programs of the republican and democratic parties, and favors "a constructive" platform, which, summarized, makes the following declarations:

Expresses opposition to the "wasteful military programs of the democratic and republican parties."

Support would be given a compact among nations to dismantle navies and disband armies, but until such a compact is established maintenance of an effective army and navy and adequate coast defenses is recommended.

Favors reciprocal trade treaties to be negotiated with all nations and commissions appointed to gather facts.

Favors national legislation to encourage the establishment of an adequate fleet of American merchantships.

Opposes war with Mexico; pledges aid to the protection of American lives and favors use of force when necessary.

Approves strict interpretation of the Monroe doctrine.

Opposes abandonment of the Philippine Island at this time but favors ultimate independence.

Favors non-political promotions, to be governed by civil service regulations, applicable to all federal executive officials.

Favors uniform marriage and divorce laws and complete suppression of white slavery.

Declares for prohibition of child labor, approves eight-hour day with one hour rest each day and extension of compensation and liability federal acts.

Opposes "pork barrel" legislation and useless federal expenditures.

Favors a single presidential term of six years.

Demands public ownership of utilities to be operated in the interest of all people.

Favors public grain elevators, owned and operated by the federal government and abolition of speculation on markets.

Favors equitable retirement law for maintenance of super-annuated federal employees.

Aside from a plank declaring in favor of the initiative, referendum and recall, agreed upon after a short discussion, the platform was adopted as originally drawn.

JACK CURLEY HERE

Promoter of Sporting Bouts Visited Alliance Saturday as Sells-Floto Advance Agent

The man who is known far and wide as the "sporting encyclopedia" was in the city Saturday. His name is Jack Curley and he rejoices in the reputation of being one of the world's greatest promoters of big events and with a brain crammed full of a wider knowledge of sport than any other man in the business.

Jack comes here as an advance courier for the Sells-Floto circus, the most interesting portion of which as far as the sporting page is concerned being the presence with that famous organization of Jess Willard, world's champion boxer, supported by the greatest aggregation of athletes that money could assemble.

Curley says that the circus never has had a season like this and the crowds have been of a capacity order everywhere they have shown and that the greatest enthusiasm has been shown by all.

For some time now Curley's name has been linked with most of the great gladiators of the ring and mat. Jack's first actual experience with Gotch came at a time when Fred Beel of Marshfield, Wis., then coming into much repute as a "great little man", sought a match for the title with Gotch. Curley promoted the affair and it gave Gotch his first real claim to championship honors. That also was the first real taste of promoting that Jack got and he wanted more of it. But W. W. Wittig of Minneapolis broke into the sport game along about that time, and outbid Curley for the first match between Gotch and George Hackenschmidt, the Russian lion. This match got Gotch the world's title.

But Jack went right along after that and was chief promoter of the Gotch-Rouen, Gotch-Mahmout, Gotch Shyszko and Gotch-Hackenschmidt matches, the latter being the second encounter. As a grand windup he was co-partner with Harry Frazee in promoting the famous trip that Jim Jeffries and Gotch took with an all-star company. At different times he has managed some of the most famous wrestlers of the world, including Hackenschmidt, Aberg, Hussane, who is now with the circus, the younger Zbyzsko and many others.

International lines never stopped the tireless Curley. He jumped into London and promoted the Roller-Gamma match and then crossed over into Vienna and put on the Roller-Zbyzsko and Zbyzsko-Madrall contests, these giving him high standing as a man who would take a chance.

In fact that is what Jack has been doing all of his life. Think of how tireless and indefatigable he was in staging the contest between Jess Willard and Jack Johnson. When the negro declined to go into Juarez and make a fight because of the fear he had of ever being able to get out of that disturbed country, Curley went to Johnson and the battle was staged in Havana, Cuba. Jack did this on little more than a shoe-string. His partners did not like to spend any more on what they thought was a lost cause and said so plainly.

That never worried Curley, and he went ahead and decided the fight. He had about thirty cents in his pocket when he got through but he made a world's name and no wis reaping the benefits of that.

Think, too, what he did at Las Vegas, N. M., with the Jack Johnson-Jim Flynn battle. In the face of gubernatorial opposition he went right ahead and decided the contest just the same.

Few top liners in the boxing game have not at one time or another fought under Curley's management. He has personally handled such men as Benny Yanger, Frankie Noel, Harry Forbes, Dave Barry, "Syracuse Tommy" Ryan, the Sullivan twins, Jimmy and George Gardner, Marvin Hart, John Wille, Jim Flynn, the Pueblo war horse, whom he still has, and with Tom Jones is a partner in the management of Jess Willard, world's champion.

That Curley knows no lines is shown by the fact that in addition to his experiences in foreign lands he promoted the Marvin Hart-Mike Schreck fight at Tonapah, Nev., as well as the New Mexico affair in which Johnson and Flynn took part.

He's little short of a wonder, is this big fellow.

SOME TYPESETTING

Herald's Big Model A Intertype Handled Three Newspapers This Week Without Trouble

The Herald's big Model A Intertype, with J. C. Thomas at the helm as machinist-operator, handled the typesetting for three newspapers this week, in addition to its regular run of setting for job work, advertisements, etc.

The Times' model 8 Linotype suffered the first of the week from an accident and The Herald's machine was requisitioned for Tuesday's paper. In addition to this it handled the typesetting for today's Herald and today's Alliance News.

But, not satisfied with this record, the machine set up a large amount of matter for a forty-eight page book which is going through the job printing department of The Herald, including several intricate and detailed tables of figures.

The Herald believes that its combination is a hard one to beat—a fast and reliable machine, the Intertype, and an operator who is speedy and expert, and who sets his matter so clean that it is not necessary to read proofs on it for newspaper work.

ANGORA NOTES

Mrs. Wm. Orr visited at Henry last week.

Rev. Raugh held services here last Sunday.

Mrs. R. Walker from Hemingford spent Sunday with her sister Mrs. A. D. Hull.

Mr. Case will soon occupy the store building he bought of George Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crouch left Sunday for Chicago for a month's visit with their daughter Bertha.

George Robinson has sold his property in and around Angora. He and his family are going overland for an extended visit in the East.

Visit the Alliance Plunge

Alliance people who do not visit the fire department swimming pool at the city hall block are missing a treat. The water is changed frequently and is kept at the right temperature by the new heating plant. If you have never been there, take the time for a visit. You'll go again.

Misses Grace and Maude Spacht went to Hemingford Saturday to visit over Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spacht.

Slip a few Prince Albert smokes into your system!

You've heard many an earful about the Prince Albert patented process that cuts out bite and parch and lets you smoke your fill without a comeback! Stake your bank roll that it proves out every hour of the day. Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

There's sport smoking a pipe or rolling your own, but you know that you've got to have the right tobacco! We tell you Prince Albert will bang the doors wide open for you to come in on a good time firing up every little so often, without a regret!

You'll feel like your smoke past has been wasted and will be sorry you cannot back up for a fresh start.

You swing on this say-so like it was a tip to a thousand-dollar bill! It's worth that in happiness and contentment to you, to every man who knows what can be gotten out of a chummy jimmy pipe or a makin's cigarette with Prince Albert for "packing"!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO. Winston-Salem, N. C.

This is the reverse side of the tin

THE Prince Albert tin, and in fact, every Prince Albert package, has a real message-to-you on its reverse side. You'll read—"Process Patented July 30th, 1907." That means that the United States Government has granted a patent on the process by which Prince Albert is made. And by which tongue bite and throat parch are cut out! Everywhere tobacco is sold you'll find Prince Albert awaiting you in tippy red bags, 5c; tippy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidor and in that clever crystalline humidor, with sponge-moistener top, that keeps the tobacco in such fine condition—always!

The Making of An "A No. 1" Commission Man

TAKES TO THE BUSINESS LIKE A DUCK TAKES TO WATER

A RECENT ADDITION

MR. HOMER HANEY, a NEW ADDITION to the PERSONNEL of the Inter-State Live Stock Commission Co., has been at the South Omaha yards only a few years, but has shown in this short time SUPERIOR KNOWLEDGE of the business and has rapidly made GOOD. He is an assistant to Mr. Cox, the manager of the Company—also assistant in the cattle yards. MR. HANEY is an A-1 young man—clean cut in every way—coming from one of the most prominent families in the SANDHILLS. He was born in Hyannis, Grant County, Nebraska, twenty-one years ago. Homer gives you the BIG smile and COURTEOUS treatment at all times.

FROM WHERE THEY RAISE 'EM

Our artist couldn't have produced a picture better representing the varied qualifications of the newest attache of The Inter-State Live Stock Commission Company. His work, as assistant to Mr. Cox, the manager, is largely operating the typewriter, but he can just as readily and efficiently perform any other part of the work that he is called upon to do. He's young in years yet, but he knows a lot about cattle, knows how to handle them, was brought up with them, knows what they are worth. Already he is a strong factor in the work of the firm and is bound to make his mark as a live stock commission man.
