

The WEEK'S DOINGS

Miss Delliht Ufford went to Hay Springs Saturday.

F. W. Smith of Bonner was up on business Monday.

Mrs. James Daugherty of Lakeside is on the sick list.

Mrs. J. A. Kern left Tuesday noon for Lincoln for a visit.

Ed Myers, the Hyanna cattleman, was in the city Tuesday.

A. S. Enyear, Hemingford ranchman, was down Saturday.

Mrs. Boon of Bingham was operated on Tuesday at the hospital.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mann of Canton, a baby boy, Monday.

Skinner's Macaroni Products, made in Nebraska. Ask your grocer.—Advt

H. Rhoades of Mitchell was operated on at St. Joseph hospital Saturday.

Wm. Ritchie, Jr., Bridgeport attorney, was in the city on business Monday.

R. R. Kincaid of Bingham was in Alliance on business the first of the week.

George D. Darling left Sunday night for a short business trip to Denver.

Dr. W. J. Mahaffy left Sunday night for a short business trip to Omaha.

Chase Feagins, of Feagins & Son, made a business trip to Mullen on Tuesday.

J. R. Miller of Berea returned Monday noon from a trip to Pacific Junction, Iowa.

Real Estate, Loans and Insurance. F. E. REDDISH, Reddish Block. 15-14-6727

John McCoy, M. D. Offices and Hospital Reddish Block. Telephone 81

Miss Mary Regan returned Tuesday from Sheridan, Wyoming, where she spent three weeks on a visit.

Mrs. J. W. Slack of Guernsey, Wyoming, was in Alliance for medical treatment Friday of last week.

Visit the fire department swimming pool one of these hot days. Better than a trip to the seashore.

T. M. Lawler returned Monday night from Casper, where he was called by the sickness of his daughter. He found her improved in health.

W. G. Simonson of Denver, who owns property in Alliance, was a visitor in the city the first of the week. He also paid a visit to his ranch in the hills.

The automobile races for Labor Day, September 4, to be held at the Nebraska State Fair, from entries received, will be the best ever held in Nebraska.

Miss Ruby Jones and Mrs. Jessie Whitsett of Jericho Springs, Mo., are visiting at the E. G. Laing home. Miss Jones and Mr. Laing were old school mates.

Mrs. M. F. Harrington of O'Neill, who had been visiting the family of J. C. Morrow, left Monday noon for Hot Springs for a visit there before returning to her home.

P. D. Gleason, manager of the Alliance branch of the Nebraska Telephone Company, is on a business trip to points on the Union Pacific in the western part of the state.

The Eastern Star had initiation Tuesday evening and the following candidates became members: Mildred Campbell, Hazel Bennett, Irene Rice and Mrs. A. J. Ward of Edgemont.

S. G. Mendenhall, clerk at the E. G. Laing store and also a member of the Imperial Orchestra, left Tuesday night for his home at Rulo, Nebraska, for a week or ten days' vacation.

Mrs. Oda Rogers, a sister of Mrs. W. J. Overton, left Wednesday noon for her home at Knoxville, Iowa, accompanied by the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Overton, who will visit with her until school begins.

Mrs. Edward H. Shane, of Johnson City, Kansas, surprised her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Lewis McIntyre, Wednesday morning by coming in for a visit with them. She will remain during the month of August.

Verne Copsey of the First State Bank returned Saturday noon from his Colorado trip. He left Dr. Copsey at Boulder, Colo. The doctor will return in the big Cadillac auto in which they made the trip.

W. F. Seidell and Herbert Seidell, father and brother of Farns Demonstrator F. M. Seidell, visited in Alliance at the auto races. They had intended to return home Saturday via auto but were prevented by the rain.

J. Sparks, formerly superintendent of the Chadron state normal, passed through Alliance Tuesday on his way to Lincoln. Prof. Sparks has been selected as superintendent of the Joplin, Missouri, schools for the coming year.

Miss Dorothy Smith spent Sunday in Scottsbluff visiting friends.

Miss Hannah Loudon was operated on Monday for appendicitis at the St. Joseph hospital.

Rev. J. B. Carns will speak at the Fairview Methodist church Sunday afternoon, August 6, at 3 p. m.

Col. H. P. Coursey of Alliance attended the state auctioneers' convention at Grand Island last Thursday and Friday.

Miss Phillips, who has been the guest at the W. E. Spencer home for the past week, left today noon for Grand Island.

Don Blackburn of Mitchell was operated on Wednesday at the hospital for appendicitis and also had his tonsils removed.

Mrs. F. T. Helpbringer left Monday night for Los Angeles, Calif., for a couple of weeks' visit with her mother and sister.

Mrs. G. W. Gilbaugh, a sister of W. H. Smith, arrived Tuesday from her home at Pender, Nebr., for a visit of three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ell Loudon of Ellsworth came up Sunday with their daughter, who was operated on at the hospital Monday.

Mr. Walker of the First State Bank has purchased a lot on Laramie avenue and will start the erection of a house in a short time.

Mrs. A. V. Arnold left Thursday noon for Broken Bow, and then to Leavenworth, Kansas. Miss Smith has been here on business.

C. A. Dow and a number of other temperance workers will conduct a meeting at the Antioch church next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Elizabeth Black of Raymond, Nebr., an aunt of F. W. Hicks, arrived Wednesday morning for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Parker.

Wm. Bignell and son Joe left with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mitchell and Mrs. Harry Gantz, for an outing at the Mitchell cabin at Mystic, South Dakota.

Mrs. G. W. Johnson and daughters, Jessie, Dora and Margaret, accompanied by Eva Lawrence, spent Sunday in Hot Springs, visiting G. W. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. James Holland of Havre, Mont., stopped off Tuesday and Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Gavin on their return from the Elks' convention in the east.

Mrs. Claude Rice and Winnifred Hobbs came in from the ranch the latter part of last week to spend a few days with their mother, Mrs. Hobbs, returning Tuesday of this week.

NOTICE

All who have given subscriptions to the City Mission can pay the money to Mrs. W. S. Acheson.

COMMITTEE.

from a trip to Kansas City, where he purchased two carloads of watermelons for western Nebraska dealers. Mr. Beal went down last week.

Dr. Geo. J. Hand celebrated his forty-first birthday Wednesday. One of the doctor's friends remarked that the doctor might be forty-one years young but that he certainly didn't appear to be that old.

W. M. Robinson left Wednesday night for Sterling, Colorado, where he went to deliver a Kurtzman grand piano to Miss Anna Lyman, a prominent Sterling musician. This is the second Kurtzman grand sold to Miss Lyman by Mr. Robinson.

Robert A. Ball of Valentine, who is engaged in the real estate and loan business at that point, is in the city today on business. Mr. Ball is quite widely known on account of his work in connection with the growing of trees in western Nebraska and other work of a public nature.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Police Marshal A. B. Wheeler is carrying around a badly swollen and bruised right hand. Tuesday afternoon a couple of hoboes who had just been released from the chain gang went to a local saloon and started to "clean out" the place. They were doing their best but meeting with rather poor success when the marshal arrived. He waded into the melee and soon emerged victorious, but with a hand that looked like a ham. The fighters were locked up over night and released the next day on their promise to leave town in ten minutes. They had nine minutes to spare after leaving.

Important News for Every Woman

Beginning Saturday, August 5th and lasting until Saturday, August 12th, we will give a Special 25% Discount off on Regular Prices on all merchandise purchased during the dates mentioned above

THIS IS AN OPPORTUNITY NO WOMAN SHOULD OVERLOOK
Call and see the bargains for yourself

THE Fashion Shop
THE STYLE CENTER

The only exclusive ladies ready-to-wear store in western Nebraska

GENEROUS RAINS FALL

Bumper Crops Assured in Western Nebraska by Rains Which Fell First of Week

Bumper crops for western Nebraska and Box Butte county are assured by the bounteous rains which fell Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. As will be noted by the weather report published in this issue of The Herald, more than an inch and a quarter of rain fell.

This rain assures an excellent crop for the farmers of this section of the state.

GERMAN SUBMARINE ESCAPES WARSHIPS

(Continued from page 1)
down from Baltimore to Hampton Roads was uneventful. A press boat which followed her out of the Baltimore harbor last night was the only craft that accompanied her and the Timmins down the bay and it became disabled and had to give up the chase.

SNAP FOR SALE—Completely equipped garage, machine and blacksmith shop in growing banking town. Center of best wheat section of Montana. Equity $3500. Address Broadview Garage, box 279, Broadview, Montana. 35-41-7474

Do YOU Know About OUR Prices ?

We are anxious to have you find out about them

They will interest you when you're in need of printing

Railroad Notes

Mrs. Charles Truitt, wife of Fireman Truitt, returned Saturday from a trip of a month to Buffalo, Detroit and other eastern points.

J. L. Feenster, storekeeper at Kansas City for the Kansas City Terminal, an ex-Burlington man, stopped over Saturday for a visit with Chief Clerk Mahaffy of the Burlington storehouse at Alliance.

Dr. C. E. Evans of Chicago, Burlington medical examiner, paid Storekeeper Allen a visit the first of the week, stopping over on his way to the coast.

W. G. Dungan, superintendent of the Sterling division, was in the city Monday, going up the Guernsey line.

W. F. Thiehoff, assistant general manager of the Burlington, of Omaha, went west Wednesday.

Dispatcher Archie Gregory and family returned Tuesday noon from their extended western trip. Archie has added a heavy coat of tan and shows other good effects of the vacation trip.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Helpbringer left Tuesday for Los Angeles and other points on the coast. They will be gone about three weeks.

Conductor C. E. Bennett left Monday for a week's visit with his family, who are spending the summer in the Black Hills.

Miss Maude Spacht and sister Grace expect to leave the latter part of the week, for a visit with their sister Mrs. E. L. Meyer, at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Brakeman Henry Merk has been off for the past week on account of the serious illness of his baby.

Mrs. C. L. Finch and sister Naomi Fredrick returned Monday from a short visit at Hot Springs and other points in the Hills.

Ben Andreas of the yard office returned Wednesday from Billings.

Conductor J. N. Andrews left Monday morning to attend to business interests in the Black Hills.

For "Smokeless Soldiers"
Employees of the Erie Railroad have contributed in small sums a total of $413.23 to the Belgian Soldiers' tobacco fund.

The wife of an Erie employe in sending 50 cents to the tobacco fund says:

"When my husband has been around the house several times, with no tobacco, everything seemed to be wrong end to; and I'd rather have a Montana wolf in the house. It's terrible, honestly. But when he has his old pipe going, and his favorite tobacco, he's just a perfect dear, and he wants to kiss me all the time, and I can get anything I want out of him, from a new fur collar to a silk dress. So when he's cross sometimes, I say, 'Dan, why don't you smoke?' And if he hasn't left his pipe in the caboose he hauls it out and sweet peace hovers over the family circle."

"Yes, I'm in favor of tobacco for grown-up men, and especially for those poor soldiers who are being shot at all the time and never know when they are going to be sent to Kingdom Come. Here is fifty cents from a conductor's wife who is willing to go without something in order to help out."

THE WEATHER
The weather for the past week, as reported by F. W. Hicks, official observer for Alliance, has been as follows:

July	Max.	Min.	Rainfall
27	96	65
28	99	65	.02
29	96	62	.60
30	97	61	.37
31	79	59	.25
August
1	94	60
2	97	58
Total rainfall, inches, . . . . . 1.24

HEMINGFORD DEPARTMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Harris are the guests at the K. L. Pierce home at this writing.

Dr. Wallace, the dentist, made his usual professional trip to this place the first of the week.

Ernest Rosenberger departed Monday for Ft. Collins, Colo., where he expects to work at his trade.

Elliott Beaumont returned home Saturday after attending a six weeks term of school at Chadron, Nebr.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brown was quite sick last week but is much better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Weddle and children, of the Cur'y neighborhood, were shopping in town Wednesday.

C. E. and C. W. Lyon, contractors and builders, were transacting business in Alliance the first of the week.

The little son of Mrs. Florence Le-on was taken suddenly ill Tuesday but is reported much better at the present time.

The Phelps players are filling a four-nights engagement at the opera house this week. Their shows are good and are well attended.

Tuesday of this week Ora Phillips shipped his grading outfit to Lincoln side where he will start work on the side tracks and spur for the potash works.

The fire in the yard of the Black Hills Coal Company was called out at 9:30 o'clock this morning by a fire alarm. A load of coal in the yard was the cause of the fire which was soon extinguished without much damage.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Holliday left Wednesday night for their new home in Creston, Iowa.

CARLOAD OF FLOUR JUST RECEIVED

We just received a carload of the BEST FLOUR, made by RAVENNA MILLS. Every particle IS GUARANTEED TO YOU. While we realize Flour has gone up, still we will sell this Highest Patent Flour while it lasts for the same price. SO BUY