

The WEEK'S DOINGS

L. F. Hulien, general manager of the Nebraska Potash works company at Antioch, returned last week from Denver bringing along a new seven-passenger Stutz automobile. He is now very well supplied with good cars, having purchased a seven-passenger Packard this spring. Mr. Hulien's company last week purchased a Buick from the Keeler-Courtesy Co.

Samuel Smith, who moved to Alliance from Carlton, Iowa, and who bought and is operating the Gottlieb Seidler ranch, has been making extensive improvements on the place. He has installed an electric lighting plant of his own as well as a water-pressure system, both of which were purchased from Charles Schafer.

W. M. Wolff arrived last week from Murphysboro, Ill., to take charge of the jewelry department at the Holsten store. He is a man of much experience and is also a manufacturing jeweler.

F. F. Stephens announces that he is about to move his bake shop, sales room and cafe from its present location, 207 unpaved Box Butte avenue, to 319 unpaved Box Butte avenue—the store room made vacant by the closing out of the Regan store. The new location will be a much better one, in the opinion of Mr. Stephens, who believes that his already large and increasing business will be benefited by the change.

W. J. Hamilton has this week moved his grocery stock from his well-known location at 124 West Third street to 218 unpaved Box Butte avenue—the building made vacant by the going out of business of the King & Wilson saloon. The new location is a far better one than the old, and will give Mr. Hamilton room in which to branch out and enlarge. The change is already apparent, there being more room to display the grocery stock and also more room for the trading public. Mr. Hamilton is enlarging his stock and going after business in a way calculated to "get" it. He is being ably assisted by C. E. Morgan, who is proving himself an efficient co-worker.

As a result of the visit this editor is liable to become interested in the Alliance News." C. L. Mayes is editor of the Rushville Standard, being a brother of the present editor of the Alliance News.

Enrollment for the canning school to be held in Alliance June 22 and 23 has reached twenty-one. Owing to limited facilities the number received will be cut down to thirty, so that there is room for nine more enrollments. Registration will be kept open till this number is reached. Membership cards will be issued soon to those enrolled. The object of the school is to train demonstrators to teach the most economical methods of canning to others when the season opens. It offers an excellent opportunity to learn this new method of canning and to be of service later.

Those desiring to enroll are asked to call the county agent's office, 145, at once and ask for a card.

Sunday night J. E. Kennedy, employed at the Burlington ice house, fell from a platform to the ground, and sustained more or less severe injuries. He fell a distance of about twenty-five feet. He was in the act of handling a large chunk of ice, when the tongs slipped and he fell backwards.

Several times recently someone has defaced some of the stone work in the building, the last act of the culprits having taken place Sunday night. The building is being guarded and it is a sure bet that when the culprits are located they will have a chance to explain their actions before a court that may not consider their work in the light of a joke.

Fifty memberships will be sold, affording fifty persons the opportunity of purchasing a standard sewing machine on a payment plan that should be the means of placing sewing machines in many homes of this section. The first payment under the plan calls for twenty-five cents. Elsewhere in this issue of The Herald Mr. Darling has a display advertisement that explains the plan in detail. Everyone in the market for a sewing machine or who anticipates the need of one for the immediate future will find it well worth their time to read Mr. Darling's advertisement.

Since the old road between Hemingford and Alliance has been in such poor condition due to continued rains, many automobile owners have found it convenient to use the new road, which for the last year has been under litigation.

Miss Marian Grebe is now employed as stenographer and bookkeeper at the offices of the Bentley Land Company in the Alliance National Bank building. The business of this company, under the successful management of F. A. King, vice president of the company, has assumed such proportions that Mr. King found it impossible to attend to both the office and the outside business. The company maintains two offices, one here and the other at Sidney. J. A. Bentley, veteran real estate man of Sidney, is president of the company.

CHARLES TULLY DIED WEDNESDAY

(aged more than 60)
Restless, however in character, he was drawn back to his responsibilities. To those nearest and dearest to him it became evident as the days and weeks passed by that the physical frame could not long endure the inroads of his malady. His death became the symbol of his character, quick, active and convulsive, he was taken suddenly away, passing with peace and quiet into the Paradise of God on Sunday morning, June 3.

During all these years he gave to the church an earnest and devoted service. By the prudence of his counsels, the ardent zeal and devotedness of his great, generous heart and the liberality of his gifts, he has effectually furthered the well being and success of the parish.

In judgment, always cautious, with a strict adherence to duty, consistent in his love for the church, outspoken and positive in conviction, a lover of peace and harmony, Mr. Tully's memory will ever be sweet among us.

No tribute could be too great in admiration of his personal worth. There will ever remain in the hearts and devotion of his fellow parishioners and friends an affectionate tribute to his character.

God has taken this great generous staff from us. We submit to His will with the consolation that we know that he has passed from death unto life, to reward and blessedness. We shall ever cherish as an inestimable gift the noble example of his manliness and shall ever regard it as a special privilege the association that has been granted to us of so great and good a man.

"In the confidence of a certain faith, in the comfort of a reasonable, religious and help hope, in favor with Thee, our God, and in perfect charity with all the world," he has passed to the Paradise of God.

"Father, in Thy gracious keeping Leave we now Thy servant sleeping."

At 8 o'clock Saturday evening, June 2, Miss Florence Atz was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph S. Robbins, the ceremony having been performed by Rev. Epier of the Christian church of Alliance. The ceremony took place at the ranch home of the bride's father, Julius Atz. Some 10 persons were in attendance and witnessed the ceremony. A two-course wedding luncheon was served. The ring service was used. The bride was dressed in a beautiful gown of white net. Miss Lena Atz, sister of the bride, was bride's maid, and Mr. F. A. Lefe was best man.

The home was beautifully decorated in pink and white, pink and white carnations being used in abundance.

The bride carried a handsome bouquet of pink and white roses. Following the ceremony and reception Mr. and Mrs. Robbins left for a ten-day honeymoon trip including Kansas City, Denver, Ft. Collins and other points.

The bride is a daughter of Julius Atz, well-to-do ranchman. She graduated from the Alliance high school two weeks ago, being a member of the class of 1917. The groom is cashier of the Burlington freight office in Alliance and is a brother of Norman O. Robbins, head of the Burlington claim department. On their return from their honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Robbins will be at home in Alliance to their host of friends. Both are well-known and popular young people and have the best wishes of their many friends on their journey through life.

Married—At the M. E. parsonage in Alliance, Sunday, June 3, by Dr. J. B. Carns of the First M. E. church, Rose L. Rose to James C. Williams, both of Lakeide, Nebr. The groom is an engineer at the potash plant at Lakeide. The bride has been employed locally.

There will be no business meeting of the Rebekah circle this week on account of the Odd Fellows Memorial day to be held Sunday, and Children's day.
