

23 STATES ARE BARRING LIQUORS

Federal Law Prohibiting Shipments of Liquors Went into Effect on Sunday, July 1

The state of Nebraska, with twenty-two others, became bone dry by federal statute at midnight Saturday night, the effective hour of the Reed amendment prohibiting shipment of liquor into any territory where its manufacture or sale is prohibited. Eleven other states are partially affected by the legislation, which has been hailed by temperance advocates as the greatest single step toward abolition of the liquor traffic in the nation's history. The law bars from prohibition areas, whether states or smaller corporations, all mail matter containing advertisements or solicitations for orders for intoxicants, a provision designed to aid in enforcing the anti-shipment feature by suppressing the activities of mail-order houses in dry territory.

Justice and postoffice department officials have made extensive preparations for enforcement of the statute. Ethyl alcohol is regarded by the federal government as an intoxicating liquor within the meaning of the act, but methyl, wood and denatured alcohols are not so regarded. No ruling has been made regarding the status of patent medicines containing alcohol, and that question may be among the first to be passed on by the courts under the legislation.

The language of the anti-shipment section is very comprehensive, imposing a fine of $1,000 and im-

JACK TRUE HAS LEXINGTON AGENCY

Well-known Alliance Automobile Salesman Takes Sales Agency for Lexington Six

Jack True of Alliance, who has been connected with the Rumer Motor Company as a salesman for some time, has taken the selling agency for the Lexington Six automobile. Distributing points in Nebraska are Lincoln and Bayard. The car sells for $1375 f. o. b. Alliance, with choice of five body designs. Mr. True is maintaining his headquarters at Alliance with the Rumer Motor Company.

A. M. Miller of Headingford has purchased a new Lexington Six through Mr. True. Mr. Miller has owned a Lexington car for six years and has received such good service from the same that he purchased another of the same make when he wanted a new car.

REV. LAYTON MODERATOR OF BAPTIST CONVENTION

Rev. A. A. Layton, pastor of the First Baptist church of Alliance, was elected moderator of the Baptist convention held last week in Scottsbluff. There were something like fifty delegates from the various Baptist churches assembled in Scottsbluff to discuss and plan for enlargements of the work. R. R. Phillips of Chadron was clerk of the convention.

The spirit of the entire convention was good and much that was helpful was brought out. One of the important items of interest was the planning to help the church at Bayard to get started. Over $100 was raised to assist in the work.

Rev. W. A. Mulford withdrew from the Baptist denomination at the convention. This leaves the Bayard, Bridgeport and McGrew churches pastorless.

"CANNING" EGGS

Many persons use fresh eggs for baking, the preserved eggs are just as good, says the poultry section of the College of Agriculture. In fact, preserved egg is so nearly like fresh egg that it is hard to distinguish them after they have been cooked.

Eggs may be preserved by storing them in a solution of 9 quarts of water to 1 of commercial water glass, or by immersing them in a solution of 1 pound of air-slaked lime to 5 gallons of water. They may be stored in these solutions, in tin canny pails, labeled, and put with other foods without further attention. They may be removed from the solution as they are needed, and fresh eggs may be added at any time.

Calling cards for the ladies are printed promptly and neatly at The Herald office. The prices are reasonable. Phone 340 for samples and prices, or call at the office.

CABBAGE APHIDS

Cabbage aphids, or plant lice which infest the cabbage, are causing considerable damage to cabbage in Nebraska, according to reports received by the department of entomology of the College of Agriculture. Experiments conducted by this department show that this pest may be controlled by the application of a kerosene emulsion prepared as follows: Shave 1/2 pound of laundry soap and dissolve it in 1 gallon of hot water, remove from the fire, add 2 gallons of kerosene, agitate violently for several minutes until a smooth cream-like emulsion is formed without any free oil. Add water to make 50 gallons of liquid, and the spray is then ready for use. Further information about the control of this pest as well as other garden pests will be sent upon application to the entomology department, University Farm, Lincoln.

MILK CHEAPER THAN MEAT

Milk is a cheaper food than meat, according to the chemistry department of the Nebraska Experiment Station. For a family of limited means, the motto might well be, "Buy 3 quarts of milk a day before you buy any meat." This amount of milk will provide the necessary animal protein for a family of five persons, and no meat need be provided for the needs of the body. The additional protein required may be supplied in the form of vegetables and cereals.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of the Sunday School Course in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.) (Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JULY 8

AHAZ, THE FAITHLESS KING.

LESSON TEXT—II Chron. 28:1-5, 20:27. GOLDEN TEXT—Without faith it is impossible to please him.—Heb. 11:6. LESSON TEXT—II Chron. 30:1-13.

Ahaz reigned sixteen years from about 739 to 723 B. C., over the kingdom of Judah, its capital being in Jerusalem. The kingdom was nearing its end, and was destroyed within a few years after the death of Ahaz. His character presents many interesting questions for discussion; the character of his reign, the wealth and prosperity of his father and grandfather, the development of his character from the home wherein he originated, why a nation can be successful and not be righteous or virtuous, that is, outwardly successful, and the application of these questions to our present-day political and commercial lives.

I. Ahaz, the Ruler, (vv. 1-5). The character of Ahaz is not to be admired. He played a prominent and evil part in the history of the Kingdom of Judah. We find his name recorded among the Syrian inscriptions of the year 732 B. C., the Hebrew historian having dropped the prefix "Jeho" from his name. The full name indicates that he had "grasped Jehovah," yet he was untrue to his name. The historian says "he did not that which was right in the sight of the Lord." This puts it mildly, but indeed few of the kings of Judah did otherwise, and he patterned his conduct not after the good model of his father, but the thoroughly bad conduct of the kings of the northern nation, Israel. He was but twenty years of age when he took the throne, but had already entered upon a course of action opposed to that of his father.

II. Ahaz Ruined. The choice lay before him of following in the steps of his grandfather Uzziah and his father Jotham (II Chron. 1:10). He chose to defy God, openly disobeyed him and was disloyal to his God and his country, walking in the ways of the kings of Israel, (v. 2), burnt his children in the fire, after the abominations of the heathen, (v. 3), made molten images of Baal, (v. 2), and spread that worship into the high places on the hills and under every green tree (v. 4), made sacrilegious use of the temple's treasury, and was dishonest as well as profane. He trusted Baalim more than he trusted God.

III. Ahaz Rebuked. God did not allow him to pursue his course of action without protest. When the children of good men go wrong, there is no measuring the extent of depravity to which they will sink. Nevertheless, God was opposed and tried to save the young man and the nation. God used the king of Syria as one agency for rebuking this mad young man. He carried away great multitudes captive, one hundred and twenty thousand in one day (v. 6), and "two hundred thousand women, sons and daughters" (v. 8) at another date. Ahaz himself was filled with terror at the great calamity that overtook him. (Isa. 7:2.) While he received temporary help (II Kings 16:9, 10), he received ultimately ruin from the king of Assyria, for he became a vassal and was summoned to Damascus to pay homage to that king, as appears from the account II Kings 16:7-9, and also from the Assyrian inscription, above referred to. Other enemies also attacked him—Edomites from the southeast carried away captives, and the Philistines from the southwest invaded the cities of the low plains, south of Judah, and took possession of them (vv. 17-19) and the army of the Assyrian, which Ahaz led to rob and profane the temple and its treasures in order to buy them off (v. 22-24), completed the ruin of his nation. Ahaz was forced to pay a heavy tribute to the Assyrian king (v. 21), and got no help for his outlay. He put his trust in an arm of flesh instead of in the mighty arm of God, which brought upon him the curse that always comes to those who trust in man (Jer. 17:5, 6). There is a blessing which always awaits those who trust in Jehovah (Jer. 17:7, 8). The wise man turns to God not in the time of his distress but at all times. Instead of sacrificing to the God who saved his father and who would save him, Ahaz sacrificed to the god "which smote him." His defiance knew no bounds (v. 24). He seemed to have dabbled in every known form of false worship, thereby "provoking to anger the Lord God of his fathers" (II Kings 23:11, 12). God is long-suffering to those who wander from him, but there comes an end to his patience (II Peter 3:9, 10).

IV. The Reverse Picture. There are several problems to be solved as we view this picture, for it is a story of real life, not only of the early times but is being repeated even today and in this country. (1) Men will reap that which they sow. One cannot sow wild oats and reap the fruits of righteousness. (2) Jehovah places righteousness above security or prosperity. (3) God's purposes are for the uplift and the making of the nation and the individual better. God never does evil that good may come out of it. A loving father must exercise discipline, and let us not be mistaken.

BOX BUTTE SPUDS NOW ALL PLANTED

Dry Weather Damages Kansas and Southern Nebraska Crop—Old Spuds Sell $1.75 to $2

Potato planting in Box Butte county was practically completed last week. Some extra acres were planted following the rains of Tuesday night and Wednesday of last week. It is estimated that the acreage planted to potatoes in this county this year will exceed last year's acreage by fully forty per cent.

The National Crop and Weather Bulletin reports dry weather affecting the potato crop throughout Kansas and southern Nebraska. The big percentage of the Box Butte potato crop goes to this territory—Kansas and southern Nebraska—and if the crop there is short it means more sales for Box Butte county spuds.

Up to and including June 26, a total of 17,773 car loads of new potatoes had been shipped from the southern states according to the bulletins issued by the Office of Markets and Rural Organization, United States Department of Agriculture. Heavy shipments are commencing on both the west and east coasts of Virginia. It is estimated that this area will produce approximately eleven million bushels of potatoes this year. The total production of early crop potatoes this year is estimated at 33,516,000 bushels as compared to 26,481,700 last year.

The f. o. b. price on Bliss Triumphs, sacked, at Arkansas points, for the week averaged from $2.50 to $2.65 per bushel. This price, however, has dropped considerably during the past few days, and shipping is practically over in that area.

Shipments commenced this week in the Kaw and Orick districts adjoining Kansas City. Wagon loads of Early Ohios were jobbing on the Kansas City market Saturday morning, field run, immature and small, mostly $2.40 to $2.50 per bushel.

Old potatoes are bringing the grower from $1.75 to $2 per bushel in Alliance. One sale of a hundred bushels or more is reported at the lowest price paid this year—$1.50 per bushel.

MAKING HORSE PAY BOARD

The board bill of the average work horse in Nebraska last year was $74, according to records kept by many farmers of the state (compiled by the farm management department of the College of Agriculture). This year feeds are much higher, and "Old Bill" must be kept busy on profitable work a large part of the 365 days a year if he is to return a profit. For this reason, it is necessary that a farmer have no more horses than he really needs to take care of his work.

ESTES PARK, ROCKY MOUNTAIN NATIONAL

This magnificent vacation-land, so near at hand, has been made a National Park and it certainly has every requisite for a National Summer playground. It is a region of forests, canyons, streams and lakes a paradise of mountain air and wild flowers, a natural amphitheatre of 150 square miles, with snow-capped panoramic barriers,—Long's Peak, James' Peak and the Continental Divide.

Burlington trains take you there quickly and at a small cost,—only $27.00, generally speaking, from middle and Eastern Nebraska to Estes Park. This includes rail and auto via Lyons or Loveland. Over 50,000 tourists visited Estes Park last Summer.

Colorado has hundreds of resorts, recreative places and automobile tours. You have every day the lowest possible rates to Denver, Colorado Springs and Estes Park. Arrange early for any accommodations that you will want in Colorado this coming summer. Let me help you.
