

Hemingford

Milton Daubom departed Friday night for Lincoln, Nebraska, where he will attend school this winter.

Jerry Butler was a passenger to Bayard Thursday, returning Friday.

Ora Phillips is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. B. U. Shepherd and Mrs. Mabel McClung autoed to Alliance Sunday, returning the same evening.

Mrs. Clyde Johnson and children of Antioch, and Mrs. Wm. Buckman of Alliance were Sunday visitors with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hubbell and little grandson, Edward Leon, returned Tuesday from an extended visit in the eastern part of the state.

Judge Berry returned Tuesday morning from a two months' visit at his old home in Maine and other western places of interest.

Wm. Clark and M. E. Hutton autoed to Alliance Saturday on business.

Mrs. Dr. McEuen departed Sunday for an extended visit with her parents in Missouri.

Bud Kinsley returned the last of last week from Wyoming, where he has been looking after his homestead near Jolie.

A. M. Miller is having his residence in the northwest part of town painted. He had it painted red, white and blue again.

Several of the Hemingford boys have been notified to be ready to leave Friday for Fort Funston.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Morrill left for their home at Gothenburg the last of last week after a few days' visit with their niece, Mrs. R. Walker of this place.

John Kinsella was a passenger to Alliance between trains Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hollamakes were shopping in Alliance the first of the week.

Gene Kendrick moved his family down from Marsland. They will live in one of A. M. Miller's cottages.

Bingham

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Kincaid spent Sunday at their home in town.

E. E. Melvin and family have again taken up residence in town, so that the girls may attend school.

Sunday's train 44 brought the Misses Margaret and Kathryn Welch from Redig, South Dakota. This completes the family circle.

Among those who have gone to Omaha the past week are: P. L. Castle, Claud Remus, Wm. Welch, Claud and Doc Anderson, Ernest Powels and B. L. Porter.

It will be worth your trouble to read the letter posted in the post office from Mr. Bruce of Rushville, written to our fellow townsman, M. L. Kincaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Diles Howell returned home from Alliance Saturday.

Mrs. Isaac LeGere and two children from Antioch are visiting relatives in Bingham.

Mrs. Alex Keyes and her friend, Mrs. Wisner, of Bayard, Nebraska, spent several days in the home of M. L. Kincaid last week.

From indications the past week we are led to believe that Bingham might boast of a bank in the near future.

The Ladies of the Bingham Red Cross have decided to get in line and learn to knit. While they are waiting for supplies they will make up $100,000 worth of muslin into sheets and pillow cases.

The youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brammer accidentally drank coal oil last week and for a time his life was despaired of. In a few days he has none the worse for his experience.

The contractor who is plowing fire guards for the Burlington has been camping in our city for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Townson and Miss Grace Potter came from Antioch Monday for a few days' visit with home folks before taking up their work elsewhere.

The latest word from Clinton Quakenbush is that he is well and satisfied. He is learning to speak French and Spanish and says that their favorite slang saying is "Meet me on the Kaiser's back porch."

Mr. Ficklin won a prize on cattle at the Omaha stock show last week. Mr. Becker also got a first prize on sand hill cattle at the same show.

D. C. Ballard and daughter, Helen, went to Alliance Monday to visit Miss Evelyn Ballard, whose condition is reported as being a little improved. It is to be hoped that she can return home soon.

The next regular church services will be held Sunday, October 14th, at which time the regular foreign missionary collection will be taken. It is hoped that the full apportionment may be met at this time.

Argentina devotes 4,000,016 acres to oats growing.

John McCoy, M. D.
Offices and Hospital
Reddish Block Telephone 81

IT'S HARD TO WORK

When Suffering From Kidney Ills, Many Alliance People Find This to Be True.

What's so hard as a day's work with an aching back? Or sharp "stabs" of pain with every sudden twist or turn? There is no peace from the dull ache.

No rest from the soreness, lameness and weariness. If the kidneys are disordered you can't reach the cause too soon. Neglect is often fatal. Weak kidneys need prompt attention.

Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at once—A tested and proven kidney remedy.

Alliance readers should find new hope in the following statement:

G. H. Williams, stationary fireman, 421 Yellowstone St., Alliance, says: "My back was lame and ached steadily and heavy work would about use me up. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and I endorse them as a first class kidney medicine."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Williams had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

STATEMENT

Of the Ownership, Management, Circulation, etc., Required by the Act of Congress of August 24, 1912, of The Alliance Herald, published weekly at Alliance, Nebraska, for October 1, 1917.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the state and county aforesaid, personally appeared Lloyd C. Thomas, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Editor of the Alliance Herald and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

Publisher, Herald Publishing Company, Alliance, Nebraska.

Editor, Lloyd C. Thomas, Alliance, Nebraska.

Managing Editor, None.

Business Manager, Lloyd C. Thomas, Alliance, Nebraska.

2. That the owners are:

Lloyd C. Thomas, Alliance, Nebraska.

John W. Thomas, Alliance, Nebraska.

Belle M. Thomas, Alliance, Nebraska.

Carl Thomas, Alliance, Nebraska.

George Edick, Alliance, Nebraska.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are:

Belle M. Thomas, Alliance, Nebraska.

F. E. Holsten, Alliance, Nebraska.

International Typesetting Machine Co., New York City.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

LLOYD C. THOMAS.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 1st day of October, 1917.

(SEAL) Robt. O. Reddish.

(My commission expires May 18, 1921.

44-11-855-8813.

Not interested.

"A smooth tongued stranger offers to let me be his partner in a proposition that would make me rich in six months."

"Well, did you accept his offer?"

"No. I got rid of him by saying the doctors had given me only six months to live and there was nobody I cared about leaving a fortune to."—Birmingham-Age Herald.

LAND AND STOCK TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION

Cranmore Bros. Will Sell Five Sections of Land and Over 250 Head of Stock on October 15

R. C. and J. C. Cranmore, who operate a ranch 15 miles south of Bingham, in Sheridan county, have determined to go out of business and will sell their five sections of land and over 200 head of cattle, together with over 50 head of horses at public auction at their ranch on Monday, October 15.

The five sections of land to be sold at auction all join up. The property will cut 200 tons of hay. Sixty-five acres are in alfalfa and the balance of the hay land is in wild hay. Some 75 acres are under cultivation. The machinery and hay already cut will go with the place. The ranch is all fenced and cross fenced. There is a house, good barn and corral. The entire five sections will be sold in one piece. Col. H. P. Coursey will cry the sale.

Elsewhere in this issue of the Herald appears a display advertisement for this sale. Turn to it—read it. If you are in the market for land of this kind, or for stock, it will pay you to attend this selling.

CAMP FUNSTON NOT MUCH LIKE HOME

Boys Wash Own Dishes, Make Own Beds and Live According to Schedule

Camp Funston, Kas.—When a boy has been accustomed to lying in bed until 7 or 8 o'clock in the morning, when he has been accustomed to being called three or four times before getting up, and has been used to having some one wash his dishes and clothes and when he has been allowed to go when and where he pleases any time he wished and now jumps out of warm blankets into the cold, chilly atmosphere of a lat fall morning at the sound of a shrill whistle at 5:45 o'clock, gets out in front of the barracks, the soldier's home, where he goes through ten minutes of setting up exercises, eats breakfast, washes his own dishes, makes his own bed, sweeps the floor space around his cot and marches out for a hard day's work at 7:00 a. m. he necessarily has become a very much changed boy. Even if mother or wives cannot imagine their men doing these things it is just what they are doing down in the soldier's training camp at Funston.

The men have entered an entirely new line than they have ever been accustomed to before. The average freedom loving civilian cannot realize what it is like until he gets into it. The men are treated kindly but the idea of being told just what to do and when to do it is far different than being one's own individual boss.

Every man gets the same treatment. Each one is the other's equal in the eyes of the officers as the men begin their work. Shortly after the men arrive in camp they are thoroughly quizzed as to past work, their general and special abilities and the like. It is generally understood that this is the method the government will use in selecting the men for the different lines of services. Each captain will watch his men closely. If a man shows signs of being a good engineer he will no doubt be placed in that department. If he shows evidence of being a leader of men he will be placed in a position to use that ability. It is understood in Camp Funston that men for the next officers' training camp will be picked from this great National army. For the first few weeks or perhaps two months the men will be given drill training entirely and perhaps branch from this into the various services.

Every man starts out on the same footing. Millionaires and poor men eat the same food, wash their own dishes in the same dish water, shave themselves in the same bath houses and sleep within three feet of each other.

The "rookie's" life runs something like this: A piercing whistle and a command "everybody up" at 5:45 in the morning starts the day's work. Within ten minutes another whistle calls the men to assemble in front of the barracks for roll call and setting up exercises, a sort of appetizer, though that is hardly necessary.

Mess is served cafeteria style, every man having his own individual kit of dishes which consists of aluminum plate, pan, cup, knife, spoon and fork. The "rookie" must have his dishes washed, his bed made up and his floor space swept by 6:45. At 7:00 the company assembles before the barracks and marches in company to the drill or parade grounds. Good, hard drill, setting-up exercises, and athletic stunts until 11:50, gives the soldier the necessary desire to eat at noon.

At 1 p. m. the company again assembles in front of the barracks and marches to the drill grounds and is put through drills similar to those given in the morning. The drills are varied a great deal and non-commissioned officers' school from 4:30 to 5 does not get as monotonous as one might think. Some days the men are taken on a two, three or four mile hike. Later on these long marches will be longer, the whole day being used for this purpose alone.

Work for the privates is over at 5:30. Corporals and other non-commissioned officers are required to attend non-commissioned officers school from 4:30 to 5 and report their work to the captain in the evening. Saturday afternoon is given over to recreation and, of course, Sunday is a day of rest. On these days the men assemble in front of their barracks at reveille and retreat, the assemblies of morning and evening respectively.

From all indications the men who work and work hard are the ones who will reap the rewards of non-commissioned officers and perhaps later commissioned officers, and also the rewards of special privileges.

Conspirators.

It will surprise many to know that Washington Irving was a confessed orchard thief. Once, while picking up an apple in his own orchard, he was accosted by an urchin of the neighborhood, who, not recognizing him as the proprietor, offered to show him a tree where he could get some better apples than those.

"But," said the boy, "we must not let the old man see us."

"I went with him," said Irving, "and we stole about a dozen or two of my own apples and then went shares."

Calling cards for the ladies are printed promptly and neatly at The Herald office. The prices are reasonable. Phone 340 for samples and prices, or call at the office.

Tagg Bros. & Moorhead

U. S. Yards--Omaha

"The Great Live Stock Market of the West"

It Takes EXPERIENCE and ABILITY to get the BEST RESULTS

This Firm has Both

—Personnel—

A. W. Tagg, Cattle Salesman

Coley Wilkerson, Sheep Salesman

Bert Anderson, Hog Salesman

Ellis Wright, Feeder Buyer

H. W. Johnson, Cashier

W. B. Tagg, Manager

The best indication of what a Firm can or will do is what they have done. We point with pride to our past record of high sales. Ask your neighbor or banker about us.

Our weekly "Market Comments" is free—write for it.