SOUTH OMAHA EXCHANGE DOES MUCH TO INCREASE LIVE STOCK PRODUCTION

State Food Administration Pleased With Co-operation Received From the Great Market

While exerting their best energies in the interests of their patrons, the stockmen, and working hard to make their own business a success, the live fully than to be beaten at the polls stock commission men of the Omaha by Charley Pool, now secretary of state out in Nebraska, who will make market, members of the South Oma-ba Live Stock Exchange, are not for-get ful of the welfare of their coun-try as a whole. A more patriotic set of men cannot be found—if they the writer does not know where.

G. W. Wattles, who was appointed State Food Administrator by Governor Neville, made an address last Saturday before a meeting of the South Omaha Live Stock and Traders Exchange. He wanted to inform live stock interests as to the exact purpose of the food administration.

Mr. Wattles' statement, while concise, was comprehensive and made the subject plain. the subject plain.

Legitimate business will be en-couraged and furthered in every proper way. In the course of his talk he repeated the request pre-viously made by wire, that the re-cent raise in commission charges be voluntarily suspended for the pres-"even though investigation proves it to be warranted." At the conclusion of his talk Mr. Wattles was assured that no more patriotic men could be found than the members of the South Omaha Exchange, and was assured of the hearty cooperation of that body.

pointed chairman of the State Live Stock committee, outlined the plans of the committee, and received the promise of the complete co-operation of South Omaha Live Stoce interests, which, as the president of the Live Stock Exchange stated, had so far done more than any other organization in the state te increase live stock. tion in the state to increase live stock

At the conclusion of the address of Mr. Wattles and Mr. Burke the Live Stock Exchange went into executive sion to consider the suggestions made and after an informal discussion a committee was appointed to go over the whole matter thoroughly with a view to suggesting action by the Exchange.
Address of Mr. Burke

Following the address of Mr. Wattles, E. L. Burke gave a talk outlining the plans of the Nebraska Live Stock Committee. Mr. Burke said: Gentlemen: Mr. Wattles has said

Anything more regarding the matters he has discussed would be an anti-climax.

I wish to say a few words regarding the Nebraska Live Stock comwittee, the membership of which will be announced within a few days. The federal food administrator, Mr. Hoover, asked our state food administrators to appoint such a committee in each state whose duties in a general way would be to help conserve the live stock interests of the country, and above all to help increase the production of live stock. I have been offered and accepted the chairmanship for Nebraska. These committees imply not only co-ordination and co-operation between the various live stock interests of the state, but the same thing in connection with the various states and the government itself. One of the big problems for immediate solution is the economic redistribution of live stock from the dry districts of the country to those which are favored with a surplus of food. There will be many important matters which we cannot foresee and we shall need your cooperation and help. I want you all to know that there will be constantly in my mind as guiding principles just two things: First, the winning of the war, and, second, the establishment of the live stock industry of this country on a sound economic basis. Unless the industries which produce the vital food products of this country are put on such a basis, we cannot win the war and our life sheep produced in this country as there are today, so as to keep pace Bluffs. with the ever-prowing population. I think I can count on every member of this Exchange, on every man who has the real interests of the country at heart, to help us. No one knows better than I do the need of team work and harmonious action between the various factors in both the producing and distributing ends of the live stock business. The abandonment of all arbitrary and unfair prac-

I hope that every man here will make a solemn pledge to himself that during the period of the war he will do his utmost to increase the production of live stock and meats,

"UNCLE MOSE" IS GETTING SCARED

Herald's Washington Correspondent Says the Congressman From the Big Sixth is Losing Wind

(Special to The Herald.) Washington, October 3 .- "Uncle Kinkaid, congressman at Washington from the Sixth District of Nebraska, may not run again for the office which he has grown old in and in which he was entrenched for so many years. Men who are in close touch with the congressman hint that he may not decide to allow himself to be put forward as a candidate in 1918.

"Uncle Mose" is getting quite old and the duties of his office are arduous. This is given as the reason. but those who know are of the opinion that he would rather retire gracethe race as the Democratic standard bearer in 1918. The big majority which Secretary Pool received at the las election and his growing popu-larity in the "Big Sixth" indicate very strongly to those who are posted on political conditions that he is going to be the next representative at Washington.

Ladies of Baptist Church Contract For Series of Five Extraordinary Entertainments

The people of Alliance are to be afforded a lyceum treat this winter through the efforts of the ladies of the Baptist church, who have as sumed the obilgation of providing lyceum program of five number to be given one each month with the ex ception of December. The talent is supplied by the Redpath Lyceum Bu reau, which is sufficient to guarante

Lougher, lecturer.

The opening number is M. Bery Buckley, interpretative reader, w will appear on Saturday evening October 27th, at the First Baptis church. Miss Buckley is said to hav no superior in her line of work, an but very few equals. Possessed by win ker audiences so quickly, sh adds to it an understanding of he art that few possess. Her program are "different"—a bit unusual. Sh has four programs: "The Shephere of the Hills," "In the Palace of the King," "Laddie," and a program o "Miscellaneous Selections." She usually gives at least one short humorous number at the close of a full evening program.

The ladies are selling season tickets and are meeting with great success. The season tickets for adults are $1.50 and for children $1.00. Thus patrons of the lyceum may attend five exceptional programs, such as could be brought to Alliance in no other way, for the sum of 30 cents each. When you buy a season ticket for this lyceum course you are buying a bargain in entertainment.

NEW RULES FOR POTASH BIDS

STATE BOARD REFUSES TO AC-CEPT BIDS MADE ON THE BRIGGS SECTION

MUST OFFEH $1000 BONUS

State Officials Show That They Are in Good Faith by Getting All Possible Out of Leases

That the state board of educational lands and funds is endeavoring to get all possible from the lands on Which there are located botast twees is shown by their action with reference to the lake known as the Briggs

The mineral lease on the Briggs ection was to have been auctioned off to the nignest bidder, but because of the fact that the highest bid was made by telegram and not strictly in accordance with the rules it was impossible to accept it and in order to avoid any controversy or apparent unfairness the poard decided to call all bids on, which they had the right to do, and advertise again for bids on this section, the sale to take place on October 25th at 10 a. m. The at-JOBAS SECRETARY tempts of The Amance Times to play politics and to cause unwarranted suspicion of the actions of Land Commissioner Snumway, Secretary of State Charley Pool, and Governor Neville are shown to be without foundation and to be based on matice only, by the straightforward and open and above board methods of the state board in their efforts to get every possible dollar from the lands which are the property of the state. The following account of the sale on Friday is taken from the World-Herald of September 29th: Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 28.—Arthur
