

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids—Splendid for system.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

COW GIVES NEAR BEER AND BUTTERMILK

Lillian Russell, Bovine Creature—Breaks All Records in Her Particular Line

(By HECK.)
County Attorney Lee Basye is considerable of a dairyman. In fact, he purchased two cows at a sale held near Alliance recently. One of the cows is a wonder. While it may not be the most wonderful cow in the world, it appears to be the most wonderful cow on record so far. The cow's name is Lillian Russell. This animal gives Mr. Basye any sort of milk he desires, including the milk of human kindness. All he has to do is to plan for the sort of lactal substance his family demands and he gets it with little or no trouble.

One evening Lee was ordered to go down town for a jar of cold cream. He didn't feel so inclined but knew the order must be filled. So Lee went out to see Lillian and gave her a chunk of ice. In a few minutes he returned to the house with a jar of cold cream that was yielded by Lill. Whenever the family desires a drink of buttermilk, Lee feeds the cow a lemon and the refreshing beverage is forthcoming.

The other morning Lee wanted a milk shake. He told the cow a ghost story and the animal shivered until the milk shake was produced. When Lee smokes 10-cent cigars in the stable it gets the cow's goat and goat's milk is the product that results.

Lee wouldn't take any kind of money for his precious Lill. The animal is a genuine pet. Lee has a sort of reverence for the bovine critter, as the animal kicked a man he didn't like in the face and broke his jaw. The cow can play the piano and the ukulee, and when asked to perform for strangers never beefs about the task. Not so long ago Lee wanted to raise a sum of money all at once in a hurry and the cow offered to sacrifice a hind leg to the meat trust so that Lee could secure that wad of cash.

"This cow is always pulling new stuff," Lee told a reporter who called to pay his respects to the cow. "I can imagine this animal can produce anything. In fact, Judge Tash has warned me against feeding Lill any hops, fearing she might give beer. You see the man I bought her of once placed a case of this fluid near her stall and in the morning he got near-beer."

"But the prize stunt of all came this morning. Lill rubbed her nose in a pile of burned rubbish yesterday, getting soot and charcoal all over her sweet map. This morning when I milked her all I got was shoe blacking."
