FORMER MAYOR OF LINCOLN

Charles W. Bryan

Candidate for Governor
—Opposes Profiteering

Pledges unwavering loyalty to President Wilson in winning the war.

He believes Nebraska people are loyal to the core. He would promptly and adequately punish any disloyalty that might be found. He would faithfully carry out the earnest appeal of President Wilson, under date of July 26, to all governors to take the initiative in preventing mob rule.

He has filed for governor because the state government is not helping President Wilson prevent profiteering.

He has a specific legislative program to protect the farmer, the wage-earner and the consumer from the war parasites.

If elected he will appoint no profiteer to office.

He would endeavor to promote unity among the people and to coordinate their efforts to increase food production and to support all war activities.

He believes the governor should act as leader in promoting the general welfare of the people of the state.

His record as mayor of Lincoln in destroying monopoly control and reducing the cost of living is a guarantee that he will carry out his campaign pledges.

Leading Stockmen Endorse

Senator Geo. W. Norris

Edward L. Burke, vice chairman of the Market Committee of the National Stock Growers' Association, one of the most important factors in looking after the interests of the Stock Growers, was specially endorsed by resolution at the Annual Convention held at Alliance, June 11-14, 1918.

In his address Mr. Burke heartily commended Senator Norris for the assistance he had rendered the committee, and for his good work in the interests of stock men. The work by Senator Norris, referred to by Mr. Burke, was performed by him as a member of the Senate agricultural committee, where he is regarded as one of the strong men.

Senator Norris, as a member of this committee, secured the appropriation of $500,000 last March for the investigation and treating of tuberculosis among cattle.

What Senator Borah Says:

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5, 1918.—"I have been an admirer of George Norris ever since he began his distinguished career in the house. He was one of the pioneers of the progressive movement at the capital. I have been closely associated with him and his friends since he entered the senate. He is a clean, courageous and patriotic public servant.

"There is no man who more faithfully and persistently urges legislation in behalf of the general public and the people than George Norris. He is able in debate, and exceedingly efficient and industrious in committee.

"I believe in him absolutely as a man and as a public servant, and hope he will long continue to be in the place which he now occupies.

"W. E. BORAH (U. S. Senator)"

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESSMAN
SIXTH DISTRICT

NOW SERVING A SECOND TERM
AS SECRETARY OF STATE

I homesteaded 640 acres in Grant county in 1913 and have voted and paid taxes in Grant county since that time. I spend as much time in my home county as my official duties will permit, but our State Constitution provides that the Secretary of State must remain permanently at the capital during his term of office. I have been a resident of Nebraska for more than fifty years and believe that I am familiar with the needs and wishes of her people.

The one great question before the American people at present is that of winning the war. If nominated and elected I pledge to President Wilson my most earnest and loyal support in his every effort to bring about that result.

If you believe my past official record and pledges as to future action justify your support, I shall be grateful for it.

How He Foretold Weather.

At Whitty, when the moon is surrounded by a halo of watery clouds, the seamen say there will be a change of weather, for the moon dogs are about. An amusing story is told about a fisherman in Torquay. A gale having taken place during the night, he said he had foreseen it, as he had noticed a star ahead of the moon towing her and another astern chasing her. "I know'd 'twas coming then, safe enough," he told them all.—London Mail.
