In last week's Herald the statement was made that the Wm. King Company had purchased the billiard and pool hall known as the Dew Drop Inn. This was the result of a typographical error, overlooked in the proof, to labor shortage, and entirely accidental. The parlor was purchased by Messrs Rayle & Simpson, who have thoroughly renovated the place and who opened for business yesterday morning. The new fir, will no doubt enjoy a good patronage and may boast of a very inviting place.

The Alliance Fire department was called to the home of Elmer Lawrence in the west end Monday afternoon to extinguish a blaze that probably originated from a defective due. The members of the family were not at home when the fire occurred and when the firemen arrived upon the scene the blaze had gained sufficient headway as to make it impossible for the same to be conquered by the use of chemicals. The loss sustained will be about $250 and of this amount a goodly portion was caused by reason of the water having to be used. The fire department deserves great credit for the splendid run made and effective work done. Had there been a delay of any kind the loss would have been much greater indeed.
