

BETTER FACILITIES FOR LIVE STOCK SHIPPERS

New Law Compels Railroads to Render Reasonable Service to Stockmen and Buyers.

Senator J. W. Good, representing the twenty-tighth district, introduced and secured the passage of, during the recent session of the state legislature two bills affecting and regulating the accommodations to be provided the live stock shippers of the state by the railroads that will meet with the instant and hearty approval of the stockmen of western Nebraska. One of these measures, Railroad bill No. 20 requires the provision of a car with proper accommodations and in the case of fifteen or more such passengers making it compulsory for the road to provide an additional coach at the first division point. It also provides for depot, or station stops such as are provided for passenger trains at stations and watering and feeding places and for transportation to the exchange in Omaha in case of storm or night hour arrivals. The coaches must be well ventilated, well heated and sanitary and must provide an adequate supply of clean water. The other bill makes it mandatory upon the railroad company to pick up half-car shipments of stock for buyers who have enroute the other half car load. Both measures are worthy and will greatly enhance the condition of the accommodations heretofore provided the shipper as he accompanied a shipment to the market and will no doubt prove an additional incentive to the stockmen to confine their shipments to the large market so the state.

The University Extension Service favors the waterglass method of preserving eggs. Lime water will preserve eggs as perfectly as waterglass but it sometimes gives them a lime flavor. Tests made by the United States Department of Agriculture showed that eggs could also be preserved by varnishing them with vaseline. One gallon of waterglass will make solution enough to preserve fifty or sixty dozen eggs and the cost will be only two or three cents a dozen. Two-quart glass jars give satisfaction as containers to any kind of earthenware crocks or wooden pails may be used. Infertile unwashed, but clean, eggs keep the best. They should be candied for cracks and blood spots. Allow two inches of solution over the top eggs. Store in a cool dry place, preferably a well-ventilated cellar. If the eggs get too warm they will not keep.

May 27 will be annual stock feeders' day at the University Farm, Lincoln. Cattle and sheep feeding experiments will be brought to a close on that day. Steers have been fed to determine the value of adding ensilage to corn and alfalfa with and without ensilage. The value of adding ensilage to corn and alfalfa has also been tested, and an attempt has been made to substitute hominy meal for half the corn in a corn, alfalfa, oil meal and ensilage ration. Sheep have been fed to determine whether hominy meal and gluten feed can be substituted for part of the corn in fattening lambs.

Cleaning With Gasoline.
Unless the whole garment is placed in gasoline, the small places will show rings when cleaned. This is caused by using too much gasoline on the grease spot. Brush lightly with a cloth dampened with the gasoline, brush when dry. If the rings are then noticeable hold the soiled part over the steam of a teakettle, and this will remove the unsightly blotch.

High War Prices Are With Us Yet

With fighting ended, the troubles war brought us did not Stop.

During the war the telephone companies, like most other industries were hit hard by high prices for equipment and by the loss of trained employees.

Now our former employees are gradually being released from military service and resuming their old positions.

Although the price of telephone equipment is still very high, we are able to obtain it more promptly than a few months ago.

Our plant facilities, which during the were extended only for urgent needs, are gradually being restored to a normal condition.

And telephone service too, is steadily improving and getting back to our pre-war standard.

But the cost of furnishing telephone service is much more than it was when the war began.

And high prices for equipment and generally high operating expenses are problems we shall no doubt have to meet for several years.

Velvet is a friendly tobacco in the truest sense, because, like friendship, it has been allowed to ripen naturally—nothing forced or unnatural.

POLARINE

Remember When You Bought Your Car?

Remember how the salesman stressed the necessity of proper lubrication?

Remember his telling you how much proper lubrication meant in added power, added life, added smoothness?

What's the answer?

Simply this—Polarine Oil and proper lubrication are synonymous. Ask any motorist who uses Polarine Oil—he's seen the proof.

Next time you're ready to fill the crankcase, look for the Polarine sign. (And don't forget the password for greater mileage per gallon—its Red Crown gasoline).
