MEN IN NEW ARMY
TO BE INSTRUCTED
TO SING AND PLAY
Singing and instrumental music will not only be encouraged but taught in Uncle Sam's new army.
This cultivation of melody among the soldiers is to serve a military as well as a cultural purpose, for, according to an official statement from the war department, commanding officers understand the value of song.
During the late war, military officials testify, singing was recognized as an integral part of the training given the soldiers and came to have a definite place on the daily schedule at camps and encampments.

The general staff is now urging that at every post, camp and station there be a first-class orchestra, glee club and quartet, and definite provisions for choral singing and other forms of vocal concerts. It is recommended to commanders that they obtain teachers and conductors to instruct and direct the soldiers. The war department promises to assist in finding these instructors and leaders, and to provide song books and sheet music and to advise in the procedure of training subleaders in organizing musical groups and furnishing musical entertainments.
It is believed that music will be a valuable part of the educational curriculum which will be a feature of the new American army and that it will contribute immeasurably to the enjoyment and contentment of the soldiers while they are serving their enlistments.
One roughneck editor says that whenever the mail service shows signs of improvement it is a sign that Burleson is taking a vacation.—

No married man is competent to talk about home rule, especially if he has one of two grown daughters.
