

THE SEVEN-YEAR ITCH
(If You Get It Once You Never Want It Again)

This new department of The Herald is a verbatim copy of a regular newspaper typewritten by two grade school students in Alliance. It comes out once each week, and is freely sold at 2 cents per copy—or 25 cents each school year. We believe it is worth all the money it costs—and then some—and we hope to persuade the editors to let us keep on reprinting it. You understand, of course, that we are changing the names, because all the characters herein are well known in the kid world, but aside from that the reproduction is as faithful as we can make it. The editors style themselves Brainless Bill and Punk Paul. Read and enjoy it.

All this gentleman needs to wear is a nice little ribbon to tie up his hair;
A nice little smell comes out of his shoe;
He's got a very good nose and his eyes are of blue;
He's a wizzard in school, never misses a thing,
And I guess we all no how he can sing;
He's sure a born artist his drawings show that,
He draws wonderful pictures just like a cat;
His solid ivory dome is of very good dope,
And by the looks of his hands he uses much soap.
He's a wonderful player in any ole game,
And at liking the girls he's got considerable fame;
At football he certainly is a wonder,
And at pull-a-way he's never known to blunder;
A no. 7 fits his feet very well,
And if their thick enough enough dont let out much smell;
A nice big red nose makes up most of his map,

And while his head is not big he wears a big cap;
To hold all his lice and some bed-bugs to,
That live on his head in his chinaman's cue.
THE END.

By the taste of it I thir: H— spit in the water the boys drink.

Muddy field and east of Casper. Indications are that a deep test is projected. The producing sands of the Big Muddy are supposed to be under this structure.

Completion of a fifty-barrel well on the Golden Eagle wome, twenty-eight miles west of Thermopolis, by the Wyoming-Yellowstone company, proves another oil field in Hot Springs county, Wyoming. The sand was encountered at 1,100 feet and the oil rose 400 feet in the casing. The Golden Eagle dome is located between the Cottonwood and Grass creek fields.

Storms and abnormal winter conditions will delay the completion of the gas pipe line from the Hidden Dome field to Greybull, Wyo., until after March 1, according to reports. Progress in laying the line has approximated one-quarter of a mile per day and the frozen ground now retards trenching work. Four gas wells will be tapped to supply Basin and Greybull.

$2.00 a year—and worth more.

The railways of the United States are more than one-third, nearly one-half, of all the railways of the world. They carry a yearly traffic so much greater than that of any other country that there is really no basis for comparison. Indeed, the traffic of any two nations may be combined, and still it does not approach the commerce of America borne upon American railways.

—United States Senator Cummins.

Ask Any Doughboy Who Was "Over There" and he will tell you that American railroads are the best in the world.

He saw the foreign roads—in England and France, the best in Europe—and in other Continental countries—and he knows.

The part railroads have played in the development of the United States is beyond measure.

American railroads have achieved high standards of public service by far-sighted and courageous investment of capital, and by the constant striving of managers and men for rewards for work well done.

We have the best railroads in the world—we must continue to have the best.

But they must grow.

To the $20,000,000,000 now invested in our railroads, there will have to be added in the next few years, to keep pace with the nation's business, billions more for additional tracks, stations and terminals, cars and engines, electric power houses and trains, automatic signals, safety devices, the elimination of grade crossings—and for reconstruction and engineering economies that will reduce the cost of transportation.

To attract to the railroads in the future the investment funds of many thrifty citizens, the directing genius of the most capable builders and managers, and the skill and loyalty of the best workmen—in competition with other industries bidding for capital, managers and men—the railroad industry must hold out fair rewards to capital, to managers and to the men.

American railroads will continue to set world standards and adequately serve the Nation's needs if they continue to be built and operated on the American principle of rewards for work well done.

MAN FEELS AS HAPPY AS A BOY

Fahy Says He Feels Thirty Years Younger Since Taking Tanlac

"I honestly feel thirty years younger since I began taking Tanlac, and am as happy as a boy," said M. J. Fahy, a switchman on the Missouri Pacific and living at 2098 T St., Lincoln, Neb.

"I had suffered from rheumatism in my muscles and joints for so long," he continued, "that I was getting to feel old before my time. My joints would swell up something awful and the muscles all over my body ached dreadfully most all the time. At times I was in such agony that I could hardly raise my hand to button my collar. My liver was nearly always sluggish, my appetite was mighty poor and I had such a tired, worn out feeling all the time that I often felt discouraged, for it looked like I would never get any better.

"But Tanlac had made a well man of me and I began to feel better soon after starting it. My appetite picked right up, I enjoyed my meals and my liver soon got to acting right. All the swelling and pains are now gone and getting rid of this rheumatism is the greatest treat of my life. That tired, worn out feeling I had before is all gone, too, and I sleep fine and simply feel like a different man, and there is nothing too good for me to say about Tanlac."

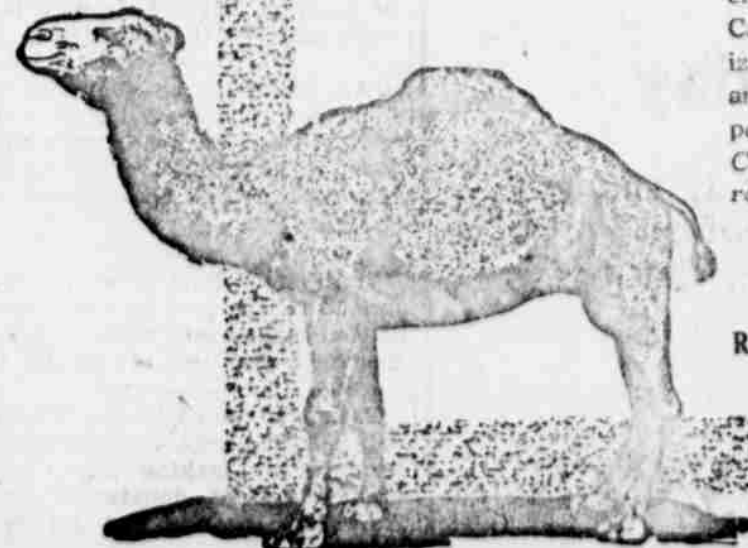

Tanlac is sold in Alliance by F. E. Holsten, in Hemingford by Hemingford Mercantile Co., in Hoffland by Mallery Grocery Co.

OIL NOTES

Three wells for one week is the record for the Osage field, near Newcastle. The Ogalalla Oil company completed two shallow wells on section 18-46-63, which they leased from a syndicate in which Alliance, Lincoln and Newcastle men are interested. Litigation is threatened on these holdings because of conflicting filings. The wells were brought in under the lease from the Alliance parties and their associates and they expect to hold the land.

The Midwest Oil company has erected a rig on the northwest quarter of section 32-24-79 of the Gary dome, north and east of the Big
