Make a Will!

Your special attention is directed to the program of National Thrift Week which will be observed the third week in January.

The fifth day of the week, Wednesday, January 21, will be known as "Make-A-Will Day." The Trust Company Section of the American Bankers Association has prepared posters and other printed matter which will be exhibited throughout Alliance on or before January 21.

Although the protection afforded by a properly drawn will is well known to you, we shall be glad to answer any questions regarding the service to estates which we are rendering.

We urge you to consult your lawyer about writing your will.

If the conditions surrounding your estate have changed, decide with him the necessity of redrawing your will.

These important matters should have your attention before it is too late.

FEATHERWEIGHT BOXER TRAINING IN ALLIANCE

Kid Felso, a featherweight boxer who has accumulated quite a reputation in the army with his ability to handle the gloves, has opened training quarters in Alliance, and announces that he is ready and willing to meet all comers in his class. Felso has in his possession a championship medal for the southern department of the army, which signifies that he got the better of all contenders for that title—and there were quite a bunch of them.

James Hammond, at the Western Hotel in this city, is Felso's trainer and manager, and is ready to receive propositions from those who are interested in getting up bouts.

Felso's ring experience is not confined to the army. He has met such men as Tommy Burns and Johnny Kilbane. He fought with the latter on two different occasions, losing the decision by points in a four-round bout. He is confident, however, that in a longer match, where endurance has a chance to count, that he could secure Kilbane's number, and has repeatedly asked for a fifteen-round bout. Kilbane much prefers the shorter time limit, however, and he has had no opportunity to meet him in any other kind of an engagement.

Felso has announced that he will be available at any time that local organizations need added attractions for benefit performances or anything else of that nature. He has appeared a number of times in connection with that kind of programs, and is perfectly willing to help out. He expects to make his training quarters in Alliance for some time to come.

BERNARD PUTZ DIES AT HOME IN ALLIANCE

Bernard Putz, an old resident of Box Butte county, died at his home, 1007 Cheyenne avenue, on Sunday. He owned a ranch north of Hemingford, but a few years ago left its care to his sons and removed to Alliance. The remains were taken to Hemingford in the hearse Tuesday morning, and funeral services were held from there Tuesday afternoon. A wife and several children survive.

ALL ABOARD FOR THE FIREMEN'S CONVENTION

There will be about fifteen firemen from Alliance to attend the convention at Scottsbluff. The convention starts tonight and will last Wednesday and Thursday, closing Thursday night. There are quite a number of firemen in town this morning from towns east and north, who will accompany the Alliance firemen this afternoon to Scottsbluff.

A special train from eastern Nebraska will arrive in Scottsbluff this noon over the Union Pacific. They expect about six hundred firemen. The program over there includes the usual business sessions and the entertainment will include automobile sight seeing, drives, visits to sugar factories and other chances to see western Nebraska. This is expected to be the largest firemen's convention ever held in the state of Nebraska.

The Scottsbluff department, assisted by the Chamber of Commerce has made elaborate arrangements for entertainment for the delegates. The larger share of the delegates expect to visit Alliance on their way home on Friday, stopping over in the city for a few hours. They all remember Alliance favorably because of the fact that the convention held here years ago was one of the best ever held and because of the fact that representatives of the Alliance departments have always taken a prominent part in the affairs of the state association.

Among those who will attend from Alliance are Dr. George J. Hand, president of the local department; John W. Guthrie, past president of the state association; E. G. Laing, who has been a constant attendant at state conventions for many years; G. L. Hill, the Alliance live wire, and Lloyd C. Thomas, publicity chairman for the state association. In addition to the above there will be a delegate from each company and the fire department chief, Ward Hall. The state association will miss this year one of the most prominent members, who first came from Alliance and who afterwards became the state fire commissioner—W. S. Ridgell, who died at Lincoln last fall. Mr. Ridgell was also a past president of the association and enjoyed a wide acquaintance among the firemen over the state.

One Minute Store Talk

"You people know your own minds, know that it pays to be merchants, not speculators, and to sell your merchandise the season it was made for," said a great eastern retailer, a visitor to our store. He was an interested spectator last Saturday of the biggest day's business ever done by this house.

NO SALE in all the history of this house has made such an impression upon people who compare values, people who really know and appreciate true bargains.

Why such a sale is being held in view of the continued rise in prices is answered in one word, "Policy." The Harper store will never "carry over" one single, solitary garment, regardless of value.

The distinct advantage of this idea of NEWNESS EVERY SEASON is emphasized by the fact that the Middle West looks upon this establishment as STYLE-HEADQUARTERS. The coming season will be no exception.
