

WILLIE BROWN CHURCH FUNERAL AT HEMINGFORD

Willie Brown Church was born December 1, 1886, at Nickerson, Neb., and came with his parents to Box Butte county the same year. He grew to manhood in this community and on October 9, 1917, he was united in marriage to Mrs. Bertha Reece of Hemingford, Neb.

He united with the Methodist Episcopal church in Hemingford on February 1, 1914, exactly six years to the day of his funeral service.

Brown, as he was known here, has enjoyed the association of a large circle of friends, all of whom bespeak for him but kindly words of praise and appreciation. He was in business in this, his home town, for a number of years associated with the local newspaper and was apt, studious and a wide awake editor.

In spite of his physical infirmity he possessed an unusually happy and cheerful disposition and had a good word for almost everybody. He sealed his lips against speaking evil of any one and thereby was a desirable citizen.

On January 12, 1920, feeling the necessity of special treatment, he went to the Boulder, Col., sanitarium, where he seemed to improve until suddenly, on Thursday evening, he passed away.

He was thirty-three years, one month and twenty-eight days old. He leaves to mourn his untimely departure a devoted companion, who was faithful and attentive to all his needs, and a step-daughter, Ella; two sisters, Mrs. Alwilda C. McKenzie of Boulder, Col., and Mrs. Octavia Story of California, with other relatives and a host of friends.

The funeral service was held in the Methodist church Sunday afternoon, February 1, 1920, and was conducted by Rev. A. J. May, pastor. The sermon theme was from the fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians relating to the resurrection and glorified life of the future. The songs used were: "In the Hour of Trial," "Asleep in Jesus"; a solo by Mrs. Grace Armstrong, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," and "Does Jesus Care."

The music was rendered very effectively by Mesdames Armstrong, Graham, Muirhead, Clark, Miss Susie Davidson and the Misses Olds, Michae and Walker. At the cemetery as the body was slowly lowered the singers rendered "In the Sweet Bye and Bye." After the closing service by the pastor the friends left the casket strewn with flowers and said good-bye until we meet again. May our Heavenly Father comfort his companion and all those who are bereaved.

There you have it, and you know exactly where Mr. Ross stands on the league of nations, just as one does by the statements of most of the other presidential aspirants, Mr. Wood, Mr. Pershing, Mr. Hoover, et al., etc.—Scottsbluff Star-Herald.

of the church. The attendance at these meetings has been splendid. You are invited tonight. Rev. Gould will lead the meeting. The choir will meet Thursday evening for regular practice at the home of Chas. Fuller. All members are urged to be present to prepare for special programs.

The entire congregation was pleased and uplifted by the address given last Sunday morning by Mr. M. V.

Arnold, the district secretary for the Y. M. C. A. His experiences while in the war work in Russia were very thrilling. We shall be glad to see him again.

The program as carried out during the religious institute under the direction of Dr. Venner, was a great success. Our people were well pleased with the meetings. We are planning great things for the future.

RAILROAD NOTES

Brakeman Reynolds was seen prowling around the streets of Seneca yesterday.

Engineer Trefney was called to Cleveland, O., on account of the death of his brother.

Conductor C. L. Finch has been confined to his home the past few days on account of illness in his family.

Brakeman E. W. Mayfield is spending a few days in Aurora with his mother.

Brakeman G. R. Brittan returned to work after being off for some time with the smallpox.

Machinist Hopkins, secretary of the machinists' lodge, is sick with the influenza.

Mrs. M. J. Howe arrived home yesterday from Valley Springs, S. D. Mr. Howe's mother, whom she went to see, is not expected to entirely recover. This is her second stroke of paralysis and it affected her digestive system so that it makes it impossible for her to live long. The Herald extends sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Howe.

ROSS SAYS THAT HE'S FULL-BLOODED YANK

Robert G. Ross, who has been candidate for president for the past several years from the state of Nebraska, due to the peculiar and rather wierd ramifications of the primary election law, is again desirous of becoming a candidate, despite the passage of a law at the 1919 session of the legislature, which it was claimed at the time was aimed directly at Ross and would put a complete quietus on his "foolishness" hereafter. Despite the fact that the law now specifies that before a name of a candidate for presidential preference may be printed on the primary ballot, such candidate shall become such by the filing of a petition from each congressional district, these petitions containing the names of not less than 100 electors each, it is understood that the Ross petitions are being circulated in each district.

A. Gregory, of this city, wrote recently to Mr. Ross, asking the latter where he stood on the "league of nations question." In his reply, it will be noted that Mr. Ross has one presidential perquisite at least, developed to a high degree and that is to say a whole lot without telling anything. The letter, however, is refreshing, and is as follows:

"LEXINGTON, Neb., Jan. 23,

GARAGES

YOU have doubtless been considering the building of one or more improvements on your farm or ranch. There will be no more advantageous time to make them than this coming Spring. Building operations will be going forward in full swing this year as soon as the weather permits, and you might as well plan to join the great many who will "put it off no longer".

Just take a few hours off and figure up how much actual advantage a new, modern, well-arranged Barn, Hog House, Chicken House or Machine Shed would give you. In many instances it will save you a great deal more than the current rate of interest on your investment. Just imagine how such a building will increase your net return from the place, to say nothing of the improvement in the value and appearance of things.

We have several sets of plans and specifications for various Farm Buildings that help you in your plans. Let us help you make a decision.
