SMITH P. TUTTLE A BOX BUTTE PIONEER

Smith P. Tuttle, who last week sold the building on Box Butte avenue containing his law office, which has also been his residence for the past several years, was one of the Box Butte county pioneers, and his prospective removal to California stirs a reminiscent vein in one of the men who came to the county about the same time. And when old-timers talk about themselves or one another, it behooves us youngsters to listen. Mr. Tuttle has a large number of friends here who have known him for a long time and liked him and who will miss him while he is enjoying himself in California. Mr. Tuttle came to old Nonpareil in 1887, about the time it was made the county seat of Box Butte county, which split off from Dawes. He removed to Hemingford when the county seat was moved to that town, following the coming-in of the railroad. He served as deputy county clerk under Judge Tash in the early days and in the fall of 1898 helped move the county records to Alliance. Later he was elected county attorney. He formed a partnership with Judge Tash in 1892 which lasted until 1900, when the judge went back to railroad construction work for a year. He remained active in the practice of law until five or six years ago, and since then has been finishing up his cases, the last one being docketed a few months ago.

Smith P. Tuttle saw a whole lot of service in the civil war, being sergeant-major of the famous First Nebraska, which had the longest service record of any of the volunteer civil war regiments, five years and fifteen days. They were not discharged until some time after the war ended, being at work Indian fighting. Mr. Tuttle lived in Iowa at the outbreak of the war and left for Council Bluffs intending to join the Fourth Iowa, but it was completed before his arrival, and his company was placed with the First Nebraska. He was wounded at the battle of Shiloh, his breastbone being severed, but he rejoined his regiment later. In '64, when the Indians were murdering travelers on the California trail, the First Nebraska was selected to put a stop to it and were placed on a steamboat and sent down the Missouri river to Omaha. They had the sector from Fort Laramie to Fort Kearney.

After the war, Mr. Tuttle joined the internal revenue service. Later he lived in Hastings, where he was cashier of the First National bank. He then removed to Minden, where he was in the hardware business, but the grasshopper years—1874 to 1878—broke him. In 1885 he came to northwestern Nebraska and pre-empted on land in the Pine Ridge, north of Rushville. He's had a long life and an interesting one, and at the age of seventy-eight is in good health with the prospect of enjoying himself for some time to come, if only half they say about California climate is true. The Herald hopes that it is, and that he will.

A dispatch from Johannesburg, South Africa, says that reports of rich diamond discoveries in Bechuanaland have circulated recently with the result that great numbers of men are preparing to make a "rush" into the territory. It has been a long time since such a treasure field has been opened, and if the reports from the first diggings bear out the prospect probably another drive will be witnessed, with tens of thousands of seekers after wealth staking everything upon the chance of locating productive claims.

Just Where and How Is the Money to be Spent?

A businesslike Answer to a businesslike Question

THIRTY denominations cooperating in the Interchurch World Movement have budgeted their needs. No business could have done it more scientifically.

They have united to prevent the possibility of duplication or waste. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

Each denomination has arranged its budget under six main heads:

- 1 FOR THE CHURCHES WORK OF HOME. A score of times come under this head. Consider only one. Five and a half million people in the United States cannot even read and write the English language. Who is to carry forward this vast work of Americanization if the church does not?
2 FOR HOSPITALS AND HOMES. Every year thousands of men and women seriously ill are turned away from Church hospitals because of lack of room. The children's homes are compelled to turn away more children than they can receive.
3 FOR HIGHER EDUCATION. Of the 60,000 American students in institutions of higher grade, one-half are in institutions founded and supported by the Churches. Many of these institutions have had no great endowment campaigns, but their needs are just as pressing as the needs of larger schools, and you have only to read their list of alumni and alumnae to measure the value of their contribution to America.
4 FOR RELIGIOUS TRAINING. AS many as 15,000 children and young people under 25 years of age are entering American life without any religious training at all. Remembering the fact of Washington and Lincoln, do you think that America will continue to prosper? Washington and Lincoln if they were out of the hearts of its youth?
5 FOR THE CHURCHES WORK ABROAD. Influence came first from the Orient. They were here nearly all places. So long as China has only one physician to every 10,000 people the Orient will continue to be a success. So long as one-third of the babies of India die before their second year our own babies are not safe. A Christian doctor or teacher sent abroad is working for America as truly as though he worked at home.
6 PREACHERS' SALARIES. The preacher is called the "breadwinner," and well he may be. Eight out of ten preachers are paid less than $2 a week.

Each denomination has its own detailed budget, and will administer its own funds. Your pastor has copies of the budget; examine them for yourself. In the week of April 25th-May 2nd you will be given your opportunity to help. You can do it with the full satisfaction of knowing that every dollar of your gift has its post assigned to it in advance.

Every dollar for better America and a better world. When your church calls on you give—and give with your heart as well as your pocket-book.
