Sig. Marconi says that it is Mars that is trying to signal to us, while Prof. Abbot, astronomer of the Smithsonian Institution, declares that the mysterious manifestations are from Venus. Under the circumstances there doesn't seem anything to do but give the scientists a spy-glass or a ouija board apiece and let them fight it out. A signed message from Mars or an autographed call from the lady at central on Venus would be welcomed as evidence, but in the absence of either it might be wise to withhold judgment. Personally, we would rather make a date with Venus than Mars, says Los Angeles Times. It seems to suggest more warmth and sociability; but at the same time if Mars really has a communication to make we are willing to hold the wire. Mars can do nothing to scare us any more.

A foreign novelist visiting on this side is telling audiences that American wives are too much coddled by their husbands and would like to be "treated rough" once in a while. The American wife is treating this advice with silent indifference, as the worthless theory of a foreigner, and by the American husband with silent contempt as the utterance of a man who does not know what he is talking about.

Now, then, we have it. Profiteering has been diagnosed by a learned medico as a disease called pleonexia—from the Greek words pleon, meaning more, and echo to have—and it means abnormal covetousness. Still, only people who are part hog are subject to it, and they would be wise to beware of hog cholera.

We want every customer to feel that we are at all times trying to give him a just dollar's worth for every dollar he spends with us. In every line we handle we aim to stock only the quality of stuff that our customers want. And we believe we have in a measure succeeded. Already several have expressed their utmost confidence in Melick & Stephenson's business dealings with them—confidence in receiving honest merchandise. A big-scale road test on 3,200 tubes

How Firestone puts the miles in — and then proves it—not at YOUR expense.

No other tubes in the world are road tested on so big a scale as Firestones. The Yellow Cab Company of Chicago uses Firestone Tubes exclusively on its 800 taxi cabs. The service of these tubes is checked constantly—improvements and developments are arrived at.

By close watching of a large number of tubes in service—not confined to isolated instances, the conclusions are accurate and definite.

Firestone puts the best in materials into tubes by establishing purchasing experts at Singapore, center of the world's rubber market. Firestone puts the best in workmanship into tubes by organizing the crack manufacturing organization of the industry on a profit-sharing basis.

And then subjects the finished product to this big-scale road test—in order to get you more for your tube money and more miles out of your tires. And yet Firestone Tubes cost no more than the ordinary kind.
