SIoux TO GIVE A FAREWELL DANCE

The Sioux Indians from the Pine Ridge agency, who have been in Alliance and vicinity for the past two months and have been of invaluable assistance to the farmers during the potato harvesting season, just closed, feel very friendly toward this city, and as an evidence of this feeling, will give a farewell dance and entertainment on the pavement on Box Butte avenue next Saturday afternoon and evening, October 16.
 Among the dances the Indians will put on will be the Owl dance, the Chief dance, Omaha dance and others. It will be an opportunity for youngsters and others to see these dances put on by the men who really know how it is done. Another ten years, and it is doubtful whether it will be possible to see the genuine thing.
 The Sioux from the agency are among the good Indians these days. They conduct themselves in a peaceable and law-abiding manner and the farmers who have been depending on them for years are mighty glad that friendly relations exist. A number of times, it is said, the Indians have saved the potato crop. There will be no admission charge, the Alliance business men contributing to a fund to defray all expenses, although free will offerings will not be refused. Make it a point to be in Alliance next Saturday.
 The barber asks you whether you will have a shave or a haircut because he knows you can't afford both.
 If the rats could only be induced to cross streets now they would soon be exterminated by the automobile speeders.
 What has become of the old-fashioned barber who used to talk your arm off in railing against the high prices?
 Those cows found intoxicated from their over-indulgence in moonshine mash ought to be valuable for milk punch.

Jack McClure, who has been in Alliance on business for a few days, returned to his home in Omaha Wednesday.

Lower prices was the startling order that went forth last week to every department head in this great store... The movement is store wide... It is thorough and comprehensive embracing every piece of merchandise in our stocks, whether here one month, one week or only one day. The reductions have been made in most drastic fashions... People have been looking for lower prices... And here they are... The tremendous response accorded this event is proof positive of how unmercifully we have slashed prices and is also indicative of the appreciation of the shopping public toward our efforts... This page tells you of only a mere handful of wonderful money-saving opportunities this sale offers.
