NO INCREASE IN PRICE

The State Journal is the only big state paper that has not raised its prices. Still being mailed at the old rate of $5.00 a year without Sunday, or $7.00 a year with the big Sunday paper. The publishers hope it will not be necessary to make an increase and will fight it off as long as possible. Everybody should help to get down to a normal basis of prices. You will admit $5.00 a year for a great daily like the State Journal is not profiteering. It's the cheapest thing you buy. The Journal satisfies the needs of the whole family. It is less partisan and more independent than any other state paper. It prints all the news that's fit to print and is filled with many exclusive features. The coming session of both state and national legislatures will be of unusual interest. The Journal for fifty years has devoted more space to Nebraska news than other paper. Prepare for a long winter by sending in your order for the Nebraska State Journal now. 1p.

ALLEGED MELON THIEF FILES SUIT

Oscar O. Hanson has filed suit in the district court asking for $15,000 damages against Louis H. and Joseph F. Leffelman for permanent injuries inflicted upon him early on the morning of September 18, 1920.

Hansen alleges that the Leffelmans shot at him five times, the scattering shot inflicting many wounds and that some of the injuries are permanent. He alleges that he was made sick, was compelled to undergo an operation and that he is still unable to work and that he was permanently injured.

The shooting and the suit is the outcome of a number of raids on the Leffelman watermelon patch several miles east of town. Being unable to protect their property it is alleged the Leffelman boys stationed themselves in the patch and shot into a party of young fellows who were attempting to appropriate some of the melons.

Hansen is the only one who was hit.—Harrington News.

G. J. Mauel, who was here recently from Lincoln in connection with the local organization of the realty dealers of this county, made the statement in a conversation here that one of the prominent and most reliable bankers of Lincoln has made the prediction that money will loosen up soon and that in two years farm loans will be made at the former five per cent rate. Some U. S. bonds have advanced a few points on the market and an easier money market will be a great stimulator to all kinds of business.

If those people who do not have a bank account could be made to realize the satisfaction obtained from knowing just where your finances stand at any minute, there would be no question of their starting one.
