

SCHOOL KIDS GET LETTERS FROM HAWAII

JAPANESE CHILDREN ANXIOUS TO GET ACQUAINTED

Pupils of Miss Leone Mallory Write to Students in the Alliance Public Schools

From a Portuguese Boy—14 Years Old.
Dear Friend—Sometimes I wish I could go to New York City in the winter time. We do not have snow on Kauai as you do. We wear heavy clothing and most of the children do not wear shoes.
I am in the sixth grade of the Eleale school. When the bell rings all the children go out in the yard and play games. We play volleyball, football and some other games. We do the janitor work of the school and keep the yard clean of trash and weeds.
Every Sunday I go swimming with some other boys. We go down to the beach at half past eleven and come home at two o'clock. The water is never cold.
I am a Portuguese boy. I am fourteen years old. I work in a grocery store after school and on Saturdays. I drive a truck part of the time and part of the time I work inside the store selling groceries. What do you do to earn money? Please write soon.
Yours truly,
GEORGE MOURA.

From a Japanese Girl—12 Years Old.
Dear Friend—I am a Japanese girl in the sixth grade. I am eleven years old. I will tell you about our island. We have rainbows when it rains and the colors are, purple, blue, green and sometimes red or pink. Sometimes there are rainbows at night.
The mountains are blue. Once we looked the mountains it was very blue and beautiful.
There is one large bridge in Hanapepe. Near this bridge is a hotel and it is very large. The other two small bridges were destroyed by the winds, and the rains. When there was the flood, the rice patches were covered with water.
In Eleale school there are grades from the baby room through the eighth grade. My sister is in the eighth grade now. There are pineapple factories in Koloa. The age from fourteen could go and work. And there are many bananas and pine trees in the way of Koloa, but some near the school. A small bridge is in the front of the school. It is broken into pieces.
There was a big flood at Hanapepe. The water was very high and three of our big trees were blown down. The water was deep as the man's chest on the road, and it came in my bed room so I went away. A man carried me to a place, where the water is not deep. When the water was lower the ground was very muddy. The next day we had a hard time to clean our house.
Now I have told you something about our place so I will ask you to tell me about your city and life.
Your friend,
TSURUYO MURAO.

From a Japanese Girl—12 Years Old.
Dear Friend—I wish to tell you something about Kauai. Kauai is the most northern of the Hawaiian Islands. I am a Japanese girl, twelve years old. I am in the sixth grade. My father and mother are Japanese. I have two brothers and two sisters.
My father and mother work in the cane field. They carry the cane into the cars. First they pile the canes and carry them into the cars then the mules pull the can to where the train takes it to the mill.
The climate of the Hawaiian Islands is mild. In winter it rains and the winds sometimes blow so hard that it breaks trees. But it is not done often. Our drinking water comes from the mountains.
Please tell me something about your homes and tell me something about your school. I have never seen it. I have seen only ice in ice cream freezers and I would like to see it coming down from the skies. I think it would be very beautiful.
I wished to meet you some day when there is no school. Then we can play together. I will take you home with me, you can eat rice with chop sticks as we do.
Yours truly,
KAMEYO OYOSHI.

From a Sixth Grade Chinese Boy.
Dear Friend—I am a Chinese boy in the sixth grade. My name is Quan Sock Dai Chong. I suppose you think it is very different from the names of most of your friends.
Kauai is mild; the temperature of Kauai is fifty degree to eighty-five degree.
Sometimes we can see the beautiful rainbows of many colors. The mountains of Kauai are not very high but they are beautiful.
One day I went up the mountain to hunt. When I went up a cow chased me. I went up the tree. I had a harder time climbing down than up. But my friend came and chased the cow away. I hope you can come over to Kauai for a visit.
Yours truly,
QUAN SOCK DAI CHONG.

From Ah Yip Sita—a Chinese Girl.
I am a little Chinese girl and I am in the six grade.
We have the most wonderful land you ever saw. We have mountains, blue and purple. We have a lighthouse just like Pt. Loma, in California. Our school is built above the valley and the sea. It is shaped like an H.
We have beautiful sunsets. At night you can see a rainbow set upon the blue mountain.
We have cane here and when it is time to cut they bear purple plumes.
Hanapepe is a small town. At night it is all lighted. We have many plantations and camps. We have pineapples. It is a fruit which is very delicious. The color is red.
We have flowers called Boeginvilla—it is a purple flower. We had a terrible storm on January 16, 1921. Our flag pole was broken.
The flood carried away pigs and chickens. We have rice patches. The rice is white.
Will you please write me about your big cities?
Your friend from Kauai,
AH YIP SITO.

From a Japanese Boy—12 Years Old.
Dear Friend—I am a Japanese boy, 12 years old and have lived on this island for eight years. I was born in Honolulu. Our school is shaped like a capital H. From the platform of our school we could see the town of Hanapepe and other beautiful scenery.
The mountain near Camp II has beautiful colored rainbows and sometimes the color of the mountain will be heavy blue and purple. Banana trees are planted all around the school but when the violent storm came, the bananas went to pieces.
We can see a cape projecting out on which the lighthouse is located from the school. There are two big stores in Eleale where we buy goods and others.
The McBryde Plantation in Eleale has many cane fields. Port Allen is the port for Eleale. In front of the school Boeginvilla is planted. We don't have rice fields in Eleale but in Hanapepe valley there are lots of them. Hanapepe has many coffee shops and some small stores. There is a little land area covered with cane fields in Hanapepe. Toys and girls go and chew the cane and the men scold us. There is one river that flows through the Hanapepe valley which is the Hanapepe river. In January a tornado came and threw down the flagpole and did a great damage to the people of the island. I lived on the hill in Eleale, so I don't know much about the storm.

Some of the boys will tell you more. I wish you send me a letter as soon as you can and tell us about the great city.
Yours sincerely,
HIDIO KYEK TUYIKAWA.

Will Destroy Moonshine Confiscated in Nebraska In Last Seven Months

Between 500 and 600 gallons of moonshine whiskey and 110 "stills" confiscated during the last seven months in raids on Nebraska hood distilleries will be destroyed under the guiding hand of federal prohibition enforcement officials within the next few weeks. The forbidden juice which has been gathered in from farms, basements of houses, garages, hay stacks, river banks, and hundreds of other conceivable hidden places out in the state, is at the present time stored "somewhere in Omaha and Lincoln," says the Lincoln Star.
Destruction of the liquor and the booze-making machines will be carried out with ceremonies as solemn as a funeral, according to local government sleuths. There will be no pall bearers to carry "Al K. Hall" to his final resting place but Uncle Sam will draft a number of official witnesses to the interment.
Plans for the execution have not been completed and probably will not be made public before the zero hour arrives. This much is known, the liquor will disappear via the sewer and the "stills", some of them the handiwork of skilled mechanics, will be placed upon the anvil and crushed with heavy sledge hammers and iron bars.

The copper parts of the stills will be advertised and sold as junk, the money derived therefrom to go to the United States treasury. Stills of every size and description are in the hands of federal officials. These booze plants range in size from a common tea kettle to sixty gallon boilers.

In connection with the statement that the demand for baby buggies has fallen off 50 per cent it should be remembered that baby now goes out in the benzine runabout.
The chief industry is agriculture. The chief crops are sugar cane, pineapple, rice, fruits and vegetables. Sugar cane is raised both on hills and in the valleys. Pineapples are raised on slopes. Rice is raised in the valleys. I live among the rice fields.
Beside crops there are beautiful places in Kauai. Olokele canyon is in the mountains north of my home. This is one of the most beautiful places you can imagine. There are hundreds of different kinds of ferns, beautiful trees and flowers. People who come here from the States think it is wonderful. Our school is on a hill. I think it has the best view of any on the island. We can look down through two miles of valley land to the ocean.
Hoping to receive a reply very soon.
Yours truly,
HOU GIP CHANG.

Dear Friend—I think you will be interested to read a letter from a country so far from yours. I wanted you to know something about our island of Kauai, about the crops and other things also.

A SAD PLIGHT

A Scotchman, very much downcast, was found by an acquaintance, another Scotchman, sitting in a corner of a waiting room at the station.
"What's the matter, Sandy?" asked the acquaintance.
"Ah lost my looggage," was Sandy's gloomy reply.
"Lost your looggage, mon? Why how did it happen?"
And the reply came, very gloomy this time: "The cork came out and it all ran away."—Foresight.

A WISE JUDGE
In a divorce action in Louisiana (Clark vs. Clark, 82 South 875) the court decides that a casual spectator at a wedding might not be able to identify the groom later on, but he could identify the bride, the reason being that the bride attracts more attention than does the groom.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

HIGHLY INTERESTING

When the church in Newton, Mass., attended by Darius Cobb, the well-known painter, was trying to raise money to lift the mortgage, a mass meeting was held to solicit contributions. It came Mr. Cobb's turn to tell what he would give for the cause.
"I haven't any money, but I'll give a $200 picture," he said.
When all the contributions were in it was found there was still a deficit and the members of the congregation were asked to increase their donations.
"All right," said Cobb, "I'll do my share. I'll raise the price of my picture to $300."

Consumers may not generally appreciate it, but there is a bumper crop of poetry this year.

WIND YOUR WATCH REGULARLY

Winding a watch at about the same time each day helps it to run accurately. A little attention to this, a little care in handling, a cleaning and oiling once a year and your watch will last a life time. A little negligence on your part and the watch is useless.

Why not take these precautions?

Whats Your First Name?

I know your last name—it's the same as mine. And our first names begin alike; but the ending, that's where the difference may show up.

Consumer is your last name—mine, too.

My first name is Careful, but one branch of the family answers to Careless. Where do you come in?

If you are not sure, then here is a sure test.

Careless Consumer says advertising is all "bunk" that it's a waste of time to read it, a waste of thought to believe it, and a waste of money to buy things advertised.

Careful Consumer, that's me, says time spent reading advertisements is well invested, that here you get news of the latest and best things made, word as to where to get them, what they cost, what they will do; and that you have the pick of the whole market of the whole country, and the pick of the particular kind, shape, size and color that best suits your taste and fits your purse.

If you are not sure who you are, try reading advertisements for a while. Then you will know, for you, too, will be Careful Consumer.
