 The Bible class of the Methodist church held their regular monthly business meeting at the parsonage on Tuesday evening. A good crowd was in attendance. The business part of the meeting was attended to in the fore part of the evening, after which there were games played and a dainty lunch was served by Miss Lemons, Mrs. Fred Huecke, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Hilliker and Mrs. Gillian. Each one present reported a good time.

March 2, 1919, and was a member of the Sunday school and the Epworth league.
 She quietly passed from this life to the other on the morning of March 5, 1921.
 There are left to mourn the loss, a father and mother; three sisters, Blanche and Margaret Wiltsey and Mrs. Ruth Moser, all of Hemingford and a husband and baby boy, with many other relatives and an innumerable host of friends.
 The funeral was conducted from the Methodist church in Hemingford on Monday, March 7, 1921, in charge of the pastor, Rev. A. J. May, assisted by the pastor of the M. E. church of Alliance, Rev. Mearl C. Smith.
 Splendid and appropriate music was rendered by a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Walker, Mrs. G. M. Jenkins and Paul Reeves, with Mrs. C. W. Graham at the piano.
 The numbers used were "Lead Kindly Light," "The Homeland in the Skies" and "Lead Me Saviour."
 The house was packed and people were standing to the street; a most beautiful profusion of the choicest flowers covered the casket and the altars of the church, all of which is strong evidence that the bereaved loved ones have the sympathies and respect of the entire community.
 Each of the families and the husband hereby extend to all an expression of thanks and appreciation for every kindness shown and service rendered.
 Interment was made in the Hemingford cemetery while the singers rendered "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," and Rev. Mr. Smith followed with an appropriate prayer and the pastor closed with a brief prayer and benediction.
 Not now, but in the coming years, It may be in the better land, We'll read the meaning of our tears, And there, sometime, we'll understand.
 Then trust in God through all thy days; Fear not, for He doth hold thy hand; Though dark thy way, still sing and praise; Sometime, sometime, we'll understand. —A. J. M.

REDUCING SURPLUS
 That nobody loves a fat man is a saying approved of tradition. Therefore, when recently, as the result of an exhaustive survey, it was scientifically determined that every ninth man in Chicago is far too fat for comfort and health, presumption was that there would speedily be organized a fat man's reduction club in the Windy city. But instead we have the experiment of a 60 days' dieting and exercise reduction test for Chicago women. The explanation is that there are really more heavyweight women than men in Chicago, but gallantry forbade making that a feature of the survey, say Cincinnati Commercial Tribune. Among the peculiarities of human habit, custom, practice or what not, all functions have their foundations in food. If we receive we eat. If we entertain visiting delegations we feed them. Likewise distinguished dignitaries and all sorts and conditions of conventions and conferences. We eat and get fat; then we eat to get lean. Instance—the Fat Women's Reduction club of Chicago is depending principally on dieting for taking off the surplus which was accumulated by too much diet. But the process is interesting and the outcome a matter of anxious observation by the fair of all the country. What with the beer supply shut off and the free lunch made obsolete, the fat man should be able to simulate feminine sacrifice.

Mrs. Martha Wiltsey Danbom.

Mrs. Martha Danbom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wiltsey and wife of Mr. Milton Danbom, was born March 16, 1903 in Chariton, Iowa, and at the age of three years was baptized in the Methodist church by Dr. Frankel. She with her parents lived in Chariton until the fall of 1909 when they moved to Hemingford, Nebraska, where she resided until she was united in marriage to Mr. Milton Danbom, and in the fall of 1920 moved to Antioch where she and her husband lived in their happy little home until she went down into the valley of death for their first born where she gave her life freely for the new life which, may God's providence grant, may be a blessing to all in due time take up the gentle, sweet, hopeful and useful life the loving mother laid down for him.
 Martha, the twin sister of Margaret, was so well known and so generally loved that her death came as a sad shock to the entire community. Everybody will miss the sweet disposition, the jollity, and the agreeable and congenial spirit which she so generously dispensed in the home, school and social life. Her memory will be immortalized in the hearts of those who knew her and the deepest sympathies extended to the bereaved families and stricken husband.
 May God and fortune favor the sweet little life that takes her place and may his life in its gradual unfolding and development be a blessing in alleviating some of the sting and sorrow of the loss of the greater life.
 Martha united with the Methodist Episcopal church in Hemingford under the pastorate of Rev. A. J. May on Resolution.

 Whereas: The all wise Father has in His divine dispensation, seen fit to permit bereavement and grief to enter in our midst in the removal of our beloved sister, Martha Wiltsey Danbom;
 Therefore, we, the official board of the M. E. church, do hereby extend to the families of G. W. Wiltsey and A. G. Danbom, and the bereaved husband, our sincerest sympathy and assurance that our prayers shall ascend to a throne of grace that the loving Father shall make this night of gloom give way to a morning of peace, joy and assurance born of a firmer faith in, and a closer walk with God.

M. E. Church Notes.

On Tuesday about thirty of the members of the Bible class of the Methodist church met at the parsonage for their regular monthly business and social event. The results of the contest between the men and the women was rendered and the men had a count of 1055 points and the women 1015, the men having the honor of winning by 40 points. The women of the class will stage a big supper in the basement of the church on Tuesday, March 22. At the social many games of interest and fun were enjoyed and when all had laughed themselves good and hungry the committee on eats served not a delicate tea but a real feed. At the next regular monthly meeting the men will serve. Look for some feed. Mrs. A. J. May is teacher of the class.
 Last Sunday was a red letter day in our church when after a short sermon the pastor received twenty-three people into the church and baptised fifteen. The largest number of communicants participated in the sacrament of the Lord's Supper in our three years in the church, there being over 100 people who bowed at the altars of the church to renew their vows and confess their faith in Christ, their saviour.
 The revival closed last Thursday evening with a large crowd and general good time and in splendid spirits. A trodly number of people were spiritually revived, or reclaimed or converted and the church is in better condition for the work of the kingdom that at any time during the present year. Rev. Mr. Enslow who assisted the pastor left on No. 42 Thursday evening. A large number of people went to the train and while waiting sang some of the popular revival hymns.
 There will be choir practice Friday evening at the church. All who will sing are requested to be present at 7:30.
 REV. A. J. MAY, Pastor.

At $5.75 a minute the house spent quite a wad of money the other day trying to settle a private scrap for Omaha but when a press association bill came up for consideration it only took 10 cents worth of time to dispose of it. The bill was killed with great zeal, promptness, enthusiasm and dispatch, the members meanwhile remarking under their breath that it ain't none of the public's doggone business what is done with public money. All of which goes to show what the average legislator means when he claps an editor on the backbone and tells him, the editor, what a gosh-darned good fellow he, the aforesaid editor, is.

Test borings are now being made for the foundation for the new state house. One will be at each corner of the proposed structure in order to find out the nature of the soil and discover what will be required in the way of a foundation. The foundation for the 400-foot tower will have to go down to solid rock on account of the enormous weight of the tower. The foundation for the rest of the structure will not need to be so substantial. For the tower four large shafts will be sunk, each twenty feet square, and these will be filled with concrete. The test borings will each have to be about 100 feet deep.

The Public Pays the Telephone Expenses

The people who buy our telephone service are interested in our expenses, because they pay them.

Our expenses include wages, taxes, repairs and replacement of equipment, and a reasonable return on the money invested in the property.

If telephone rates were not high enough to produce a revenue sufficient to pay our expenses, we would be unable to operate our property or keep the equipment in repair.

When the wages paid our employees, or our taxes, equipment prices or other costs are increased, it means of course that we must have more money to meet the greater expense.
