ALLIANCE MAN MEETS DEATH IN AUTO ACCIDENT St. Agnes Academy

FRED J. STUVE KILLED WHEN CAR TURNS OVER.

Neck Broken and Skull Fractured in Tragedy Near Hay Springs Early Wednesday Morning.

Fred J. Stuve, twenty-eight, a carpenter and cabinet maker who has been a familiar figure in Alliance for the past two years, met death in an Duet, "The Old Cloister Clock," automobile accident early Wednesday Kunkel; Wilma Finnegan, Margaret morning near Hay Springs. Fred Stuve left late Tuesday evening for Hot Springs, S. D., driving a Ford car. His body was found shortly after 6 instein; a a. m. by a farmer who was on his way to Hot Springs. It was lying beside the overturned car. Stuve's neck and left arm were broken and the left side of his skull fractured. There was also a serious cut under the right ear.

The body was brought to Alliance and taken to the Miller undertaking rooms. Thursday afternoon it was taken to Beaver by his fiance, Miss Helen Whitney, last year a teacher in the Alliance schools. The couple were to have been married within a short time, and Mr. Stuve had been spending a large share of his time this winter in making the furniture for their Stuve left Tuesday evening for Hot Springs, S. D., where he had accepted a position with a band, intending to do some work at his trade in addition. He was reported to have been drinking the evening before I is death, but his friends say that his condition was not responsible for the accident. The Ford car which he was driving was known to have had a defective steering gear, which, when the car was turned sharply, sometimes locked. Stuve had been warned to have it repaired several times during the past few weeks, but, he was an Grammar Department.

Germany. He came to America when he was eleven years old, as a stowaway, and was a protege of the father of J. A. Johansen, formerly of this city. A brother, who came to the United States some years ago, met death while serving with the United States forces in France. Stuve was a member of the Masonic fraternity affiliating with a lodge in San Francisco. He had recently converted his war risk insurance, taking out a $5,000 policy, which was made out to his estate. There are no living relatives in the United States, so far as is known.

The victim of the tragedy was well known in this city as an expert car-penter and cabinet maker. He was employed on the remodeling of the Opera House block, the Golden Rule Store, Harvey's Cafe and other buildings. Dave Bowden, by whom he was employed on various jobs, says that he was one of the best workmen that has ever been in the city. He had a number of friends, especially among the members of the American Legion.

CITY MANAGER'S CORNER

Last Tuesday we were so busy working on the streets that we did not have time to make out our city nunager's corner. The heavy rains of Wednesday evening have made us a lot of work and has put our street lights out of commission in the cast side of town. We lost a great many more globes than we had on hand to replace them with so it will be a day or two before we can set new ones. or two before we can get new ones

The drags, on blade grader badly in need of repairs and a tractor which has been out of commission for nearly two years and cost the city about $1,100. Yesterday I was offered the sum of $75 for it. We have no slips with which to move dirt and only the cort two but expert fans say that as soon as which to move dirt and only ne or two wheel scrapers. We are badly in need of some new street equipment but we need worst of all a tool house in which to put our tools and keep them under lock and key. There is no use buying machinery and leaving it lay around on empty lots.

I might mention again, that it is trouble so please do not throw anything in the gutters that will interfere with the water draining away as our drainage problem is one of a great deal of importance and is very difficult in nearly all parts of town.

Next Tuesday we hope to give you a history of our city bonds and how they stand. This will give you tome idea of our financial standing and of the country in the company to the grandstand and bleachers to its feet.

The opening game of the baseball eason was played in Alliance Wednesday afternoon, and after a hard fought battle the locals were on the shady or two before we can get new ones here.

This Wednesday night rain his left our streets in a muddy condition. We have persistently been dragging them after each rain but now they are badly in need of being graded. This is going to require time and money to do it. Most people think we have plenty of money to work with. As a matter of fact our appropriation has been nearly all used up so that it is necessary for us to make every dollar go as far as it will.

side of an 11 to 7 score. The stage was all set. There were opening ceremonies and everything, but the most essential thing, the horseshoe, was left at home. Glen Miller, president of the chamber of commerce, threw the first ball.
