CRIME WAVE IN SHARPSBURG

Sneak but bold thieves have been doing various kinds of stealing around town already. They are being watched, and if not very careful will get before the winter is over what is justly due them.

Some unprincipled person or persons set a lot of large-headed tacks in George Snavely's auto shed recently. Mr. Snavely's driver, Joseph Hammond, by chance and accident both, tramped on one that penetrated his shoe, and thus saved them from having his tires punctured. Mr. Snavely is at a loss to know who would be mean enough to do him an act of this kind.

Leo Poffenberger, son of Deck, had a good robe stolen from his car one night last week from his radiator. He was a bold thief as the lights were all shining bright on the streets. Not long since an auto was driven to Poodle Poffenberger's hen-house and an attempt was made to get chickens, and they were frightened away by members of the family.—Quoted by E. P. A. in the New York Tribune from the Sharpsburg correspondence in the Shepherdstown (W. Va.) Register.

Hogs—Receipts of hogs today were liberal, about 16,700 head showing up. This heavy run combined with bearish advices from other markets caused a lower trend to values and light hogs sold at declines of about 15¢ while everything else ruled about a quarter lower. Trade was rather quiet throughout, especially on heavy hogs. Best light hogs made a top of $8.30 and bulk of the receipts sold from $7.35@8.00.

Sheep—Only 3,000 sheep and lambs were here today and the supply was not as good as usual, consisting of odds and ends. Prices were quotably steady with possibly a little stronger on strictly good lambs. Pretty good native springers sold at $12.00 and fed shorn lambs reached $11.00. Good ewes moved at $4.65, but something choice would bring $5.00. Feeders trade continues nominal.

Quotations on sheep and lambs—Fed woolled lambs, $9.50@11.50; spring lambs, $10.00@12.25; shorn lambs, $9.75@11.00; fed woolled ewes, $4.75@5.50; shorn ewes, $4.00@5.00; cull ewes, $2.50@3.75.
