

National Coal Strike in England is Settled and Miners Return to Work

London, England.—The national coal strike, which has been in effect since April 1 was settled on Tuesday. Official announcement to this effect was made following the second conference of the federation of miners and the colliery owners at the government board of trade office.

Premier Lloyd George announced in the house of commons Tuesday afternoon that an agreement had been reached between the strikers and the colliery owners and that the men would return to work at once. The news was received with cheers and there was the utmost rejoicing throughout the whole country.

Lloyd George will ask parliament to authorize a subsidy of 10,000,000 pounds to the mining industry. The government offered this subsidy several weeks ago, but withdrew it after the recent proposition by the owners for a settled had been voted down by the miners. The subsidy now will be formally voted by parliament.

The conflict has been regarded both by capital and labor as a great test fight to decide whether it is possible for employers to agree to enforce drastic wage cuts after the war.

When the miners failed to enlist the other big unions in a sympathetic strike it was apparent that the country faced an unprecedented test of endurance.

HEMINGFORD

C. H. Lockwood was a passenger to Alliance Tuesday, returning the same day.

Miss Delsing was in Denver over last Saturday and Sunday. She states that it was very warm there.

The committee on advertising are getting some good work in as we can see that most every car carries a big poster on the back an da good one on the windshield.

Mrs. T. M. Lewens, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hardy is here visiting from Hot Springs, Ark. The two children are with her. Mr. Lewens may join them later.

John Kuhn has about completed the addition to his residence which gives them the advantage of a bath room and a new kitchen. He has installed the city water and has a fine sewerage system of his own.

A number of the trees in town are getting red with cherries and likewise the boys are getting breechy. Something might happen to the said naughty boys. Go in and buy a quart and eat them and keep out of trouble.

A little interest seems prevalent these days in mowing weeds and the cleaning up of the ragged edges of the yards and lots in town. May the good work go on and on and on until every place shall become a place subject to the closest inspection.

Mr. and Mrs. Munsen who have been visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. O. L. Wynkoop, returned to their home in Elizabeth, Colo., on Tuesday of this week. They came out via Cheyenne and returned via Sterling on the O. L. D. highway.

The Blue Bird organization held an evening party at the home of the Rohrbaughs last Tuesday. They played gleeful games, dressed in Mother Goose rhyme styles. This is good for the kiddies to have some interest during the vacation days. Refreshments were served and all had a good time. About twelve or fifteen were present.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for the many kind acts and words of sympathy, and for the floral offerings, in the death of our father.

E. G. ENGLEHORN,

Louise Loveley Left Noted Criminal Band To Follow Her Lover

Circumstances control most lives and when a girl, plunged into an environment that makes her a thief, rises above her surroundings through love and determination, the world applauds. Back of the door with cocked gun was Louise Loveley's sweetheart, who had discarded her when he believed she had gone to the other man. To the room of the other man she crept, because she thought there was nothing in "going straight." Then "Fence" McGee crept up the stairs and seized her. The next instant the tenement was ablaze and she was trapped. This is a tense moment from "While the Devil Laughs," which is to be shown at the Imperial tonight.

A keen sense of humor is one of the many appealing qualities of Pearl White, the William Fox star, who comes to the Imperial theatre on Saturday in a picturization of George Goodchild's famous story, "Tiger's Cub." The exteriors of the picture were made at Arctic City, in northern New York. The interiors were constructed in the Fox studio in New York City and are exact duplicates of cabins built by Alaskan pioneers.

Diplomat, war hero and actor, perhaps the most distinguished member of Wanda Hawley's supporting company in her latest release is F. Tempelar Powell. Mr. Powell plays the important role of Martinot in "Her Beloved Villain," the hilarious French farce in which Miss Hawley will be featured at the Imperial Theatre Sunday. Other excellent players in the cast include Tully Marshall, Lillian Leighton, Robert Bolder and Marguerite McWade. Sam Wood directed the offering while Alice Eyton wrote the scenario.

Bewareful what you say to a young lady when you're alone with her, especially if you're rich. Maybe there's a dictograph in the room and you may be hailed into court to face a breach of promise suit or run up against the other alternative—blackmail. The latter experience befalls a wealthy Italian signor in Dorothy Dalton's latest picture, "A Romantic Adventure," coming to the Imperial for Monday's show. Miss Dalton, as the heroine, is the central figure in the scheme concocted to relieve him of some of his lira, though she is innocent of the plan. Her unprincipled, luxury-loving mother is the real instigator of the conspiracy. Eventually, of course, the schemers are exposed, and Dorothy is allowed to marry the man of her choice.

Scout Band Back From Alliance. Scoutmaster Bostder and his Boy Scout band arrived home last Friday from Alliance, where they were filling an engagement at the Stockmen's convention and race meet. The boys all report having had a grand time while at the convention. A bad rain storm put the races out of business one afternoon and it was up to the Boy Scout band to entertain the large crowd which had gathered in the grand stand. Did they do it? Well, just ask some of the Alliance folks and hear what they think of the program put on by the Chadron Boy Scouts band that afternoon. It would be hard to find a better bunch of young fellows when they are away from home than these boys. Chadron can well feel proud of them. They are doing some mighty good advertising for this city.—Chadron Chronicle.

Mrs. Miller of Whitman was in town Saturday.
