CHURCH OF CHRIST

We are glad to announce the meetings with Evangelist C. W. Cooper to begin next Sunday morning. Mr. Cooper is a speaker of splendid ability. Here is a list of the subjects for the beginning of the week:

Sunday morning, "Why Are We Here?"

Sunday evening, "The King's Camouflage."

Monday evening, "Jesus the Preacher."

Tuesday evening, "Is a Man Worth as Much as Sheep?"

Wednesday evening, "The Unpardonable Sin."

The song service will begin at 7:30 each evening. On Sunday evening Mrs. Devey will sing. It will give the meetings a great impetus for all who can be in the House of God at the first meeting. The Bible School is expecting to reach the 300 mark before long. Why not fill the house at all services on the Lord's day and then resolve to be present at every meeting? This is giving Alliance the opportunity to hear a successful preacher who has ministered in Kansas, Wyoming and Nebraska. Come to the church with a message and a welcome.

STEPHEN J. EPLER, Minister

BAPTIST CHURCH.

We have heard from Professor Ira Deal, the evangelistic singer, and the church will be given a chance to decide whether it will call him to help the pastor in meetings.

The story of their conversion will be told by two more of our people Sunday night. This part of our program has become very popular, and shall be continued indefinitely.

Let all who have received the card to join the men's class be there at Bible school Sunday, as we will decide when to organize the class, in which event we hope to have a little social activity. The topic of the lesson is an unusually important one.

The problems of the early church are, to a great extent, the problems of the church of today. Sin has never changed; neither has human nature. Thank God, the gospel has not changed either.

Subjects for sermons are as follows: Morning, "The First Woman." Who was she? What was she? Was she inferior or superior to man? What is her rightful place in life? Evening topic: The closing sermon in the series of "The Second Coming of Christ: its Relation to the Unsaved World of that time." What will become of the unconverted? Will they be given another chance, as Russell claims? Is there a future probation? Who are the people who will have the gospel preached to them? Can anyone be saved by the might of nature? What part does conscience play in the heathen's salvation? These and related questions will come up for discussion. Come any enjoy them.

Baptism following evening sermon.

B. J. MINORT, Pastor.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Sunday school at 10 a. m. Morning service at 11 o. m. Morning Prayer and Instruction. Subject: "The Nature of God." Text: "And God said: I am who am." (Exod. 111-14) Evening services at 7:30 p. m.

Evening Song and Sermon. Subject: "Faith Without Good Works is Dead." Text: "And Himself Believed and His Whole House." John (4-53.)

Choir practice every Wednesday evening at 7 p. m. Mrs. S. Tillet, organist.

Corner Seventh and Cheyenne Avenue.

A. O. DODGE, Rector.

METHODIST CHURCH.

Sunday's sermon topics: Morning, "Precious Promises"; evening, "The Changeless Christ."

Mrs. Drake will lead the Epworth League Sunday night. Subject, "How Can We Apply the Golden Rule Today?"

The Sunday school work is making good progress this fall. Worthy of note is the young people's class conducted by C. A. Dow, with an enrollment of 30, nearly half of whom are high school boys. They use a special text book on Bible History. If we only had a place to put such a class so they could get the most out of the lesson—but that will come in the new church.

The musical program given by the choir last Sunday night was appreciated by the large audience present. A lady from Pennsylvania who has been visiting in Alliance recently, and who has done considerable choir work herself, called up the pastor Monday to express her appreciation of the splendid service. Thanks! Kind words of appreciation like that will help our choir to do even better work in the future.

M. C. SMITH, Pastor.

FAIRVIEW CHURCH.

Services will be held at the Fairview church Sunday afternoon. Sunday school at 2 o'clock, and preaching service immediately following. Rev. Mearl C. Smith of Alliance will preach.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Next Sunday, October 16, Morning Worship, 11 a. m., "The Wonder of Life." A sermon whose key is love and loyalty to God. Evening Service, 7:30. Problems in pictures of "Country Church and Life in America." Does the decline in rural church life indicate national decadence, and what are the remedies?

October 17 to 21, meeting of the forty-eighth annual session of the Synod of Nebraska in the First Presbyterian church of Omaha. Our church will be represented by the pastor and elder, J. H. Vance. Mrs. Harriet Vance will also attend the Woman's Synodical, which meets in conjunction with the Synod as a Presbyterian officer and delegate. The usual evening sessions of Synod will be dispensed with in order to give opportunity for all to attend the Gypsy Smith evangelistic meetings which begin in Omaha next Sunday.

October 23, Fellowship Sunday. Communion service in the morning for a closer fellowship with Him who is our Savior. A good time to unite with our fellowship on profession of faith or by letter. Get down to the bottom of the old trunk and find that church letter which has not been presented or if you have never taken your letter from your old child let us know and we will be glad to send it for you.

In the evening of Fellowship Sunday we will have another fellowship service—just fellowship. No preaching, some old songs, some special music, some echoes of Synod and Synodical, to breathe the air of the larger fellowship of the church.

October 26 Midweek meeting. Devotional service and plans for our winter school of missions and service, with courses offered.

October 28. Young people's Halloween social. Everyone will want to come to this.

October 30, World's Temperance Sunday. Special program in Sunday school and sermons surveying the present line of battle.

November 2, Midweek meeting. Courses in, "Unfinished Business of the Presbyterian Church" and "Playing Square With the Future". Every Presbyterian ought to study the first course and every High school student ought to face the issues outlined in the second. There are courses for everyone, we want volunteer leaders to take charge of the classes.

November 6, This is the 34th anniversary Sunday of the founding of the First Presbyterian church in the vicinity of Alliance. This date is to be nationally observed as a day of prayer and supplication for the success of and for a fuller understanding of the problems before the conference of the Powers at Washington on Limitation of Armaments.

November 9. Midweek meeting. Continuation of studies in the School of Service and Missions.

November 11. Armistice Day. Church open for prayer and supplication and a service of dedication to the spirit of Americanism and the fortunes of the republic as borne forward on the high tide of sacred devotion.

All are cordially invited to all these services. The church of fellowship—a stranger but once at this church.

A. J. KEARNS, Pastor.
