Goldwyn week began at the Imperial Monday night with Reginald Barker's production of "Godless Men" as the feature. The same photoplay will be shown again tonight. The picture made a big impression on those who saw it last night. The story is adapted from the stirring sea tale, "Black Pawl," by Ben Ames Williams. He has taken for his chief character a man hated and feared on all the seven seas, the hardest skipper who ever trod a deck. That is "Black Pawl." His first mate is his son, "Red Pawl," reared in hatred and bitterness and like a lurking wolf-cub, awaiting his chance to overpower his sire on the first sign of weakness, and lead the pack himself. The struggle for mastery between father and son; the treachery of "Red Pawl," that left his father, mortally hurt, struck down from behind; the fury of a whirling tropical hurricane and then—a climax that you will never forget.

The story of the play concerns the early married life of a small town girl who was the belle of her community before her marriage to an easy going domestically inclined husband. Inwardly chafing under the restraints imposed by the cares of her home, and the rearing of her two children, she seizes the first opportunity to taste again of the butterfly life in society, while her husband is away on business. How she avoids the dangerous curve and is brought to her senses is dramatically portrayed.

IN DEMAND.

The gift stores are already finding great demand for the small leather cases, which are displayed in some of the Fifth Avenue shops, New York City. These cases hold from two to six small glass tubes. Each one of the tubes is large enough to contain two moderate sized drinks. One girl bought a case with two of the glass containers in it and later returned it to have it exchanged for a case holding six. She explained that she wished to give it to her fiance and when they went to a restaurant to dine they could fill four of the containers with whiskey and the other two with liqueurs for after the meal.

GRUESOME ARCH.

At a recent marriage the bridegroom, a medical student in Bristol University, England, passed with his bride under an archway of human bones held by twelve of his fellow students, dressed in white operating room coats.

HOW MANY BEANS?

A New York City restaurant keeper promises to satisfy the appetite and fill to his capacity with beans any man who comes into his place. And all for the sum of 15 cents.

At first glance it looks as though the restaurant keeper stands to lose on this offer, but it is safe to say that nine out of ten of his patrons will fall far short in their capacity for beans from taking his profit away from him. The tenth man may eat so many beans there will be no profit to the server, but his offer is attracting so much business to his place that he can afford to forego the profit on one dish of beans out of every ten.

OUR CENTER OF POPULATION

How many of us can tell off-hand the exact center of the population of the United States? Every ten years the government calculates with great accuracy just where this point lies. The center moves westward at the rate of about fifty miles every ten years. When the center was first calculated, in 1790, it lay three miles east of Baltimore, Md. In the first ten years it moved forty miles westward. By 1860 it had reached the state of Ohio, and is today crawling slowly across the state of Indiana. In one hundred and thirty years the point has traveled westward about six hundred miles.—Boys' Life.

THE LIVESTOCK MARKET

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 24.—CATTLE Receipts 15,700. Monday's run of cattle was fairly liberal but it was not a very beefy run. Desirable native steers were comparatively scarce and not particularly attractive in point of quality, bulk of the trading being below $9.00. The same was true as to the western rangers and bulk of the trading was below $6.00. Prices in general were steady to easier as compared with the close of last week. Cows and heifers were in liberal supply and generally sold at shaded prices. The big bulk of receipts were on the stocker and feeder order and although demand was fairly broad prices were unevenly lower for practically everything in this line.

HOGS—Receipts, 5,000. The week opened out with a fair run of hogs, prices ruled weak to lower in sympathy with a downward trend to values elsewhere, but the trade was fairly active and a good clearance was made early. Light hogs usually sold at declines of 15c; heavies were quoted steady to about a dime lower and the general trade ruled steady to 15c lower. Best light hogs topped at $7.80 and bulk of supplies sold at $6.50@7.50.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 24.—CATTLE—Receipts, 5,000; steers generally steady butcher's steady to 25c lower; steers, $4.00@9.75; cows and heifers, $1.50@9.00; vealers, $4.50@8.50.

HOGS—Receipts, 3,500; 10@15c lower. Top, $7.80; bulk, $6.75@7.75.

KANSAS CITY Live Stock. KANSAS CITY, Oct. 24.—CATTLE—Receipts, 38,000. Beef steers, steady to weak. Top heavies, $9.25; best yearlings available, $9.60; other early steers sales, $5.00@9.00; stockers steady to strong. Morning sales $4.00 @6.25; feeders and other classes steady. Early feeders $5.25@6.00.

GERMANY ALARMS THE WORLD!

Our chortle over the compensating fast that cheap alarm clocks have not come back since the war was ill-timed. Germany, it seems, is forging its swords and guns into cheap alarm clocks, with which it is flooding the markets. Doesn't Germany want to be forgiven?—Chicago Tribune.
