A BOLD COUNTRY EDITOR.

(E. W. Howe's Monthly.)
Every time I pick up a country paper in the fall I see references to a row going on to make up a deficit in the chautauqua course. Certain citizens were induced by clever advance agents to sign a guarantee, and now they are clamoring for help. Why should not chautauqua courses stand or fall on their merits as useful things; are compelled to do? I find this suggestion in a country paper, the editor of which is tired of the annual row over the chautauqua deficit. This bold country editor is also tired of some other things; I note in his last issue that he is disposed to believe that his town has too many clubs and societies, all of which, in the course of a year, stir up unnecessary trouble and annoyance. This brave man, indeed, goes so far as to find fault with the Chamber of Commerce, which is regarded as sacred everywhere. The live wire who acts as its paid secretary, is entirely too active, it is alleged, and gives the citizens many unnecessary tasks. I never thought it possible that an editor would become so bold as to criticize the secretary of a Chamber of Commerce. But people are becoming so disgusted that they are liable to throw stones at anybody.

THE EXCEPTION

"Are the men at Crimson Gulch good poker players?"
"All but me," replied Catus Joe.
"Isn't your ignorance disastrous?"
"No, I'm the fellow that gets criticised by the entire assemblage for being a winner in spite of the fact that I play my cards all wrong."

The Printed Message of Christmas Cheer

There is no one item, at such small cost, that approaches the Christmas card as a remembrance of a friend by a friend.

There is nothing that so cements the good will of a business institution as a thoughtful greeting to its customers, clients, associates and competitors.

Without forgetting the sentimental feature of Christmas giving, the printed greeting comes mighty close to being GOOD BUSINESS for both individual and firm.

CROP ESTIMATE SHOW DECREASE IN SPUD YIELD

AVERAGE 25 BUSHELS PER ACRE LOWER THAN LAST YEAR.

Corn Yield 5.8 Bushels Below Last Year and 3.5 Bushels Above the Ten-Year Average.

The corn yield of 28 bushels is 5.8 bushels below last year and 3.5 bushels above the ten year average according to a preliminary estimate released by Leo Stuhr, secretary of the Nebraska department of agriculture and A. E. Anderson, agricultural statistician. Last year, corn averaged 33.8 bushels. The ten year average is 24.5 bushels. This year's production is 209,552,000 bushels. Potatoes average 74 bushels per acre, flax 8 bushels.

Although corn did not come up to earlier expectations, the crop of 209,552,000 bushels compares favorably with last year's production of 255,528,000 bushels and the last five year average of 200,936,000 bushels. The yield of 28 bushels compares well with the ten year average of 24.5 bushels.

Western central, southwestern and south central counties suffered severely from drought during the growing period. All northern counties have excellent yields that are fully up to previous expectations. While the counties within the southeastern quarter of the state generally have satisfactory yields, the crop was reduced somewhat by high temperatures and drought during the latter part of August.

County average yields vary from 10 bushels to 45 bushels per acre. Burt county leads with 45 bushels, and Cumming county is second with 43 bushels. Dakota, Dodge, Stanton and Washington counties follow with 40 bushels. Banner, Deuel, Hitchcock and Kearney counties share equally in honors for lowest yields, 10 bushels. Chase, Cheyenne, Dundy, Harlan, Kimball, Lincoln and Phelps are next in order with an average yield of 10 bushels.

Last Year's Crop Still Held.

It is estimated that 20% or 51,106,000 bushels of last year's corn is yet on Nebraska farms. The quality is 92% as compared with 94% last year and the ten year average of 84%. Farm reserves for the United States are estimated at 281,000,000 bushels or 8.7% of last year's crop.

The average weight per measured bushel of winter wheat is 58.2 pounds; spring wheat, 56 pounds; oats, 30.5 pounds and barley 46 pounds. The weight of winter wheat was reduced by rains after harvest. The low weight of spring wheat, oats and barley is due to both drought and rains after harvest.

The average yield of flax is 8 bushels; buckwheat, 18 bushels; clover seed, 2.1 bushels; grain sorghum, 22 bushels and sorghum forage, 3.4 tons. Apples are rated at 7% of a crop, grapes 78% and pears 5%. The condition of sugar beets at the time of harvest was 91%.

The preliminary estimate of yield of potatoes is 74 bushels per acre as compared to 99 bushels last year. The production is 6,953,000 bushels compared to 8,415,000 bushels last year. The county average yields generally run low. Some of the more important last commercial potato counties have fairly good yields and this together with the increased acreage gives the state a larger quantity for shipment than it had last year.

The condition of winter wheat has improved considerably since the rains of the latter part of October. Wheat had begun to suffer and in many counties it was in serious condition. In a number of the counties there was insufficient moisture to sprout the seed. With this condition, favorable weather is needed to prevent a loss of acreage.

Estimates of important crops for the United States are as follows: Corn, 3,152,000,000 bushels as compared to 3,233,367,000 bushels last year. Farm reserves of old corn are placed at 281,000,000 bushels as compared to 142,211,000 bushels a year ago. All hay, 94,619,000 tons against 108,233,000 tons last year. Commercial apple crop, 18,000,000 barrels as compared to 37,239,000 barrels a year ago.

Mrs. O. M. Krumtom, 623 Niobrara St., Alliance, says: "I certainly have a lot of faith in Doan's Kidney Pills. I have taken them when I had attacks of backache and shooting pains in my side. I have had dizzy spells and headaches that came on when my kidneys were out of order. I can say that just a few Doan's Kidney Pills always regulate my kidneys and cure me of the attack. I would advise anyone who may have attacks of that kind to take Doan's. They can get them at Brennan's Drug Store."

NOT ENOUGH FOR TWO

"Why did you quit smoking?" asked Bolt.

"Had to," answered Nut. "Since smoking has become fashionable my wife decided she would have to do it too, and I cannot afford to support two smokers on my salary."—Cincinnati Enquirer.
