Mrs. Kenneth Mohrman entertained a few relatives and friends at a Thanksgiving dinner and birthday party for her husband Thursday. Besides all the other good things that go with a turkey dinner, there was a large fruit cake sent from Nebraska City by Mr. Mohrman's mother, Mrs. J. H. Mohrman. The table was beautifully decorated and at each place was placed a little orange basket filled with fruit jello and whipped cream. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. DeMoss, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jones and family, and Mrs. J. B. Yowell and daughter, Fayalene of Marshall, Mo. Mrs. Yowell expects to leave for her home tomorrow.

Noah T. Shawver, well known Burlington engineer, and Mrs. Nettie M. Campbell were joined in holy matrimony at the home of the bride 424 Big Horn, at nine o'clock a. m. Thursday, Judge I. E. Tash officiating. Only the immediate relatives and a few close friends of the contracting parties were present. Mr. and Mrs. Shawver left on 44 for Seward and other eastern Nebraska and Iowa points for a two weeks' wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Shawver have a large circle of friends in Alliance who wish them happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mounts entertained relatives and friends at a Thanksgiving dinner Thursday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bledsoe, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nelson and Henry Nelson.

G. A. McGannon, well known ranchman of Chadron, came Wednesday to take his three children, who are going to school at the St. Agnes Academy, home for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Atz who have been spending a two weeks' wedding trip in Colorado, are expected home today.

Mrs. W. A. Glass entertained the Cutts family at a Thanksgiving dinner Thursday.

Jack Connors, machinist in the Alliance shops, has been transferred to the shops of Greybull, Wyo., as foreman. Mr. and Mrs. Connors expect to leave immediately for their new home.

Glen Jelder went to Bingham Thursday to spend the week-end at the home of W. E. Lotspeich.

The ladies' auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will hold a bazaar and cafeteria lunch at the church Thursday, December 1. All articles must be in by Monday.

Royal Erwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Erwin, who has been attending the University of Nebraska, is spending the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents in Alliance.

Clinton Brennan, university student, is spending the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents in Alliance.

Harold Gavin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Gavin and student at the university of Nebraska, returned for the Thanksgiving holidays.

The Misses Inez Duncan and Velma Griffith are visiting school at district No. 38 with Miss Harriett Wagra.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Reynolds of Sterling, Col., spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rhein.

Miss Thelma Wesley went to Bingham Thursday to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lotspeich.

Miss Elizabeth Wilson, teacher near Bayard, is spending the holidays with her mother, Mrs. Nellie Wilson.

Miss Ruth Stanton, of the Chadron State normal, is spending the holidays with her mother, Mrs. Stella Stanton.

DE MOLAY NOTICE.

Regular meeting of the Alliance Chapter Monday, Nov. 28 at 7:30 p. m.

Gering Troupe of "Midnight Belles" Real Treat Tonight

Alliance theatergoers are to have a real treat tonight in the opportunity to see "The Midnight Belles" of Gering in action at the Imperial. The show is staged under auspices of the Alliance Volunteer Fire department. The Gering Midwest, edited by a man of rare truth-telling proclivities, gives the following send-off to the troupe from his home town:

"Midnight Follies," as presented by local talent, and for the benefit of the Gering Volunteer Fire department, was undoubtedly the biggest amusement hit in Gering's history. "Some people have expressed surprise that Gering could present so much musical and dancing talent, but it was no surprise to The Midwest. It has known for a long time that Gering had a lot of it just waiting to be brought out. 'Midnight Follies' appeared in two parts, the first part representing a cabaret scene well after midnight. The stage setting was the prettiest ever seen in the city, and the costuming left nothing to be desired. Mayor Baker as a midnight rouser slightly under the influence, staged a dancing number that won him repeated encores, and he quit only when he was out of breath. Earl Neeley and Roderick Dhu MacDonald, female impersonators, made a hit with their dancing. To Mrs. Mel Gully fell the lion's share of the work, and she displayed unusual talent both as a singer and dancer, and also as a character actress. Mr. Hrubesky as a "Rube," and Miss Chambers as 'Sis Hopkins,' assisted by Mrs. J. R. Seaton as an old fashioned woman, put on a special number that simply brought down the house. George Peckham as a thrifty Hebrew and Mrs. Gully as a 'Vamp,' starred a laughable specialty, assisted by Mr. Witty as the moisture distributing waiter. Miss Roland of Scottsbluff who made a big hit at the recent Elk show with her dainty dancing, was roundly encored. Dr. Brown made a persistent book agent as well as a 'heap big chief,' and got away with both parts in good style. "The chorus work was exceptionally good, and the specialty numbers in the second half went over in good shape. It was far better than any road show hat has ever appeared in the Valley."

NOTICE.
Teachers' examinations will be held at the court house December 3. OPAL RUSSELL, County Superintendent.

ELLSWORTH.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsbury spent Tuesday night at the Moore home south of Ellsworth. The Ellsbury's having rented a home in Alliance left Wednesday for there. Mr. Ellsbury will soon take up his position in the freight department of the Burlington. Dillon Donahoe and Wm. Tolbert assisted in moving the household goods in.

Father T. J. Murray, formerly of the Hyannis diocese, now transferred to Burwell, visited at the J. B. Kennedy home Monday and Tuesday. Father Murray will stop off at Antioch and Alliance before his return to Burwell Friday morning.

Dr. J. M. Simpson, federal veterinary of Alliance had charge of the dipping at the Spade ranch the latter part of the week.

Dr. W. A. Moore of Antioch while calling professionally near here Friday became stuck in the loose wet sand east of here and after several attempts was pulled out only to find that the engine head and become frozen and busted. Chas. Jenny of Ashby assisted in making and ordering repairs. Dr. Moore was forced to leave his car in Ellsworth going on to his home in Antioch Sunday morning.

C. C. Jameson returned Tuesday from a business trip which took him to Minneapolis via Omaha, stopping off on the return trip in Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Young entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday evening followed by whist. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kennedy, Misses Margaret and Mabel Kennedy, Father Murray, Gene Kennedy, S. E. Stewart and Miss Ruth Croft.

P. E. Law and S. E. Stewart were Alliance business visitors Sunday night and Monday. No. 44 being late on account of heavy snow on the Sheridan division, most convenient connections were made saving staying all night in Alliance.

Walter Wightman was a Lakeside business visitor Tuesday.

C. L. Murphy spent several hours in Alliance Monday returning on No. 44 which was several hours late. Several carloads of 90 pound steel are being unloaded by the Burlington here, also two cars of angle irons and other track repair material. New steel will be laid on the main line here in the yards and some surplus material is being shipped in preparatory to building the new siding between here and Bingham near the School House corner, which will be completed next spring. The steel here in the yards will be laid by an extra gang at once.

Harry Sturgeon, extra section foreman, who has been in charge of the east Hyannis section for nearly a year now has charge of the Ellsworth section in the absence of H. Lancaster who will spend the winter in his former home near Beardstown, Ill. Mr. Sturgeon has the reputation of being an expert trackman and is well known here.

Geo. Beckler who was called to Rochester, N. Y., nearly a month ago by the death of an uncle, returned home Wednesday. On the return trip Geo. stopped off in Chicago for a visit with relatives and friends. George carries the Spade mail route north of here, which has been handled by J. W. Flew during his absence.

Miss Sarah Craig has been staying at the Jameson home during the absence of Mr. Jameson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kennedy entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner the following friends: Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Law, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Young, S. E. Stewart, Miss Sarah Craig and Tom Gorman of Lakeside.

B. F. Bollinger, buying furs for the Lincoln Hide and Fur company, made a trip to Hyannis Wednesday in behalf of that company. Patrick Reed our other local buyer is working for a St. Louis firm.

Many turkeys were shipped from here to Omaha and other markets. Mostly live turkeys were shipped although Chas. Taylor shipped several hundred pounds dressed. Around thirty cents for live turkeys and about forty four for dressed was received.

We were recently informed that coal veins in paying quantities have been found on the J. T. Margraves ranch near Preston and Falls City, Neb. The three Margraves have extensive interests in cattle and ranches north of here and many cattle are shipped from this point, both to the eastern markets and to and from the home ranches at Preston for feeding purposes. The exact quantities and amounts of the amounts of the veins has not yet been ascertained as the work in this line was only recently started. Considerable excitement was caused in this part of the sand hills Saturday and Sunday by a report that oil had been struck in the Lakeside oil well. It seemed that the report was well founded and came from good sources but late Sunday afternoon we learned that no official dope had been put out at Lakeside, except that gas pockets had again been found, but it seems that great secrecy prevails around the oil wells and it is the opinion of many that prospects there are a great deal better than is generally supposed at the present time by the public.

F. P. Kennedy, nephew of J. B. Kennedy, who is spending a month here, has been staying at the C. H. Fields ranch south of town. Mr. Fields is nearly recovered from his accident about two weeks previous, although the severe blow on the head caused much trouble and his mind is not yet entirely cleared up.

The recent change in temperature afforded local skaters an opportunity to get out the old skates and enjoy that good old sport. Several from here were skating on the Fields' lake Sunday and Monday.

In The MOVIES

Tonight's attraction at the Imperial will be the "Midnight Belles of Gering," with a cast of sixty, including all the live wires in that neighbor city. It will be a hum-dinger judging from what the Gering newspapers say of the production. The Alliance volunteer fire department sponsors the appearance of the troupe in Alliance.

Saturday's bill is featured by Charles Ray in a Saturday evening Post story, "Scrap Iron." It's not as a rube, not as a dude, that he is seen, but as a boy who meets trouble with two fists — just a mill-hand with an old mother to support. And when, for her sake, he gets into a prize-ring with the whole house hissing him, calling him "yellow," he bottles through a fight that keeps you quivering and tingling and thrilling from the first gong to the referee's "Out!" It is doubly a triumph for Mr. Ray who not only took the title role but directed the production himself.

Sunday, in addition to the four acts of vaudeville, there will be shown "The Fatal Hour." Against a brilliant background of English high social life is unfolded the tale of Lieutenant Nigel Villers, heir to the title and estate of the Marquis of Deermister, who because of a snub to an actress of the music halls, is made the victim of a fast starting conspiracy to defraud him of his inheritance.
