An automobile left north of Ellsworth about six months ago after a breakdown was supposed by several to have been a stolen car and after the car stood several months and many of the parts being stolen, Mr. Louis Dillman pulled the car to his ranch, at the same time notifying Sheriff Bruce of his intentions. Mr. Dillman had done this possibly to claim a reward, should the car prove to be stolen, and to keep it together as many of the parts were being rapidly removed. It later developed that the car had been left there by Mr. John Jenny of Ashby, and Saturday he swore out a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Dillman which was served by Constable Ferguson of Antioch. However after showing copies of his letter to Sheriff Bruce before the officers in Antioch Mr. Dill-man was unconditionally released and all charges dropped. Looks like a case of preferring charges against the wrong party and a general misunderstanding all the way round.

One of the regular weekly "oil gusher" rumors invaded this vicinity late Saturday night and talk was high for several hours until official information from Lakeside spoiled the fun. It is said that during the reported strike the rig at Lakeside was not even working, having shut down for a few days to make a change in equipment, however the night railroad force in Alliance were also victims of this rumor as it was from there that the report first reached here.

In addition to making a modern affair of the present hotel building, from reliable information it is learned that the Richards & Comstock Co. plan to install a Deico lighting system of sufficient voltage to furnish light for the entire village early in the evening. This will certainly be a big asset for this point.
The local section force was reduced to only three men Monday morning. Several Mexican laborers were thereby thrown out of work, returning to Kansas City from where they were employed. Only one local man was thrown out of work by this reduction. Only a short time previous there were eleven men in this force.
Many ranchers have been frighting coal from this point during the last month. A good grade of coal has been in stock here, the supply of nut having been recently exhausted but a new car is expected soon. A supply of lump coal may still be obtained here.

OBITUARY

ALBERT HADLEY

Albert Hadley was one of the early settlers, coming to Box Butte county September 20, 1886, with only sixty-five cents in his pocket after buying enough lumber to build his house. From that small beginning he had accumulated a comfortable property and was prepared to take life easy and enjoy the fruits of his labors.
Mr. Hadley was born on a farm in Worcester county, Mass., December 4, 1836, his parents being of English descent. He remained in that vicinity until the Civil war when he enlisted in Co. B, 16th Massachusetts Infantry, April 19, 1861, being mustered into the service July 2, 1862. He served in the Army of the Potomac for three years and twenty-seven days. He took part in the battle of Gettysburg and on the second day of that battle was severely wounded. After the war he spent many years in his native state, also in New York, Ohio and Indiana where he was working running stationary and portable engines.
Albert Hadley died at the Battle

Mountain sanitarium at Hot Springs, S. D., November 23, 1921, being 85 years, 11 months and 24 days old. The only near relatives left to mourn his death is a brother, Ambrose Hadley and family, besides the many friends and neighbors.

18816 Sal-O-May—Fox Trot

Why, Dear?—Fox Trot 10-in.—85c

Joseph C. Smith and His Orchestra Joseph C. Smith and His Orchestra

"Sal-O-May" is the French fashion of pronouncing our familiar Salome. It is the newest thing in fox-trots, bringing a beautiful exotic influence into the current American dance. It is in somewhat "Oriental" style, with slow, languorous-sounding rhythms, somewhat softly and weirdly orchestrated—one of those rare fox-trots you seem to dance without effort, almost without will, the music being your true partner, whether its function is to lead or to follow. It contains beautiful effects—notice the deep notes at the beginning, and the long, thrilling "run" at the beginning of the second theme; "Sal-O-May" is by Robert Stolz. "Why, Dear?" is by Henry R. Cohen. It is in good style, firm in tempo, and its chief melodies have woven with them an almost constant play of counter-melody. The orchestral colors are kept in fine mutual relief. There is a touch of grand-opera pomp.
