

The dinner of the Alliance Rotary club held Tuesday evening at the Central school building, was one of the most enjoyable in the history of the club. The dinner was served by the domestic science class of the high school, under the direction of Miss Gertrude Gist, instructor, and was one of the important features of the program. Mrs. Inice McCorkle Dunning arranged a short program for the first part of the session, which included a solo, "Perfect Day," by Miss Verna Dow, a reading by Miss Frances Fletcher and a piano duet by Mrs. Dunning and Miss Phyllis Thompson. There were a number of guests present for the dinner, including ex-Senator Norris Brown of Omaha, Coach T. R. Crawford of the Chadron high school, and a number of Burlington railroad attorneys and other officials of the road, including, W. J. Thiehoff, chief dispatcher at Lincoln; Frank L. Givin, formerly of Alliance; C. E. Temple, Wymore; E. E. Grimes, South Omaha, J. W. Weingarten, O. E. Pearson, R. T. Richardson, C. V. Krohl, Omaha; C. F. Kilpatrick, Alliance and W. P. Loomis, Omaha.

The program for the evening was in charge of Earl D. Mallory, who acted as toastmaster and introduced the various speakers. The talks were all on an informal order, and each one was provocative of considerable merriment. Senator Brown told of his first visit to Alliance, a good many years ago, and of conditions along certain lines as he found them at that time; and complimented the city on its growth and its progressiveness. Attorney Weingarten, E. E. Grimes and O. E. Pearson gave brief talks when the toastmaster demanded this supreme sacrifice of them.

The hall was also decorated with palms and bunting. Punch was served throughout the evening and later sandwiches and coffee and ice cream and cake. Thirty-four couples were present.

"Dancing Christians" Last In Series by Rev. Mearl C. Smith

This is the subject of the last of the series of sermons on the Dance to be given at the Methodist church Sunday night. The past two sermons, which have been attended by large congregations, have shown that the modern dance had no countenance in the Bible; that according to the accepted code of ethics everywhere else in civilization, the dance was wrong; that it was harmful physically, mentally and morally, and while many escaped the dangerous pitfalls, many others, both boys and girls, were entrapped in sin. In the last sermon, the attitude of Christian people toward the modern dance will be discussed.

Public Radiophone Demonstration Met With Hard Luck

The Boy Scouts first radio concert at the roof garden proved to be somewhat of a failure, although due in no part to either the apparatus or operation of the instruments, but to atmospheric conditions only. The scouts happened to be unlucky enough to pick two nights on which the aurora borealis or northern lights went on a rampage and the resultant electrical disturbance put not only the wireless but also the long distance telephone and telegraph out of order.

The apparatus used was of the highest quality and two engineers from the Westinghouse Electric company were here to operate it. The Westinghouse people have issued a statement in which they say that they will continue their experiments until they are able to give the people of Alliance a radio concert that will demonstrate the possibilities of this wonderful invention.

Due to the electrical disturbance it was impossible to eliminate the noise and roaring in order to distinguish the speech. Ordinarily this speech or music comes in with the same clearness of a phonograph and with much greater volume. The writer has heard radio music from Denver that seemed as clear as if the orchestra had been in the next room. Under ordinary conditions this music would have been clear and loud enough to dance to.

A demonstration of both sending and receiving was given in which phonograph music was played close to the transmitter and which came out with greater volume although with some distortion (due to the electrical disturbance) from the horn of the receiving apparatus.

After Mr. Keach, local scoutmaster, who has charge of the set has got things in proper shape for receiving another concert will be given which will no doubt be a success.

State Booze Hound Fined for a Stew Over at Columbus

Dispatches to the state papers from Columbus bear the news that Charles Sanford, "special investigator" for the Nebraska law enforcement bureau, drew a fine of $10 and costs for drunkenness. Sanford is the man who secured the evidence upon which Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rosetta were convicted in the Box Butte county court on charges of selling liquor.

The Rosetta cases, which were set for trial on Tuesday of this week, have not yet been called. It is understood that the Rosettas are trying to dispose of their rooming house interests here and that they are willing to shake the dust of the city from their brogans if the cases can be dismissed, and it is probable that they will be allowed to depart. In the event that they should not be elsewhere at the time the June term of court convenes, the cases against them will be brought up at that time.
