

The woman's club will meet Friday with the Mesdames Lee Bayze, Roy Gregg and Thelma Barker as hostesses. The subject will be "Nature," with the following papers: "John Burroughs, His Work and Influence," Mrs. Addie Cole; "Birds of Western Nebraska," Mrs. Keegan; "Conservation—Our Forests," Mrs. Potter; Table Talk, "Trees Adapted to Western Nebraska."

Joe D. Williams and George C. Madsen drove to Denver last Saturday, among other things looking over prospective boxers for bouts of the Legion. The bantamweight match which was the headline the legion's boxing bill on April 6 seems to be clear off, but there is a possibility of getting a match with Young Billy Papke and another. Madsen lost a suitcase filled with contracts and clothing while his car was parked on a Denver street.

The regular semi-monthly dinner and meeting of Alliance post No. 7, American Legion, will be held at the Alliance hotel at 6:30 tonight. Among the features of the evening will be a report on the first boxing match given under the auspices of the Legion, and announcements for the next bout in the series, which will take place during the first week of April.

The closing program of the East Point Literary society will be given Friday evening, March 31. This will be a meeting that no member can afford to miss. The ladies are requested to bring sandwiches or cake.

The East Side Progressive club met with Mesdames Boyer and Harvey, Wednesday, March 22. The next meeting will be April 12 at the home of Mrs. Charles Wolf. Mrs. Roy Garwood will assist.

The M. E. choir will meet at the new church Friday evening at 7:30 with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Drake. Easter music will be rehearsed and a good attendance is desired.

$525 IN PRIZES FOR THE BEST RHYMES

A new contest is just being started which will interest every woman and girl who reads this paper. Any woman or girl can enter this Contest—anyone can win! All it is necessary to do is to write a 4-line rhyme on Dr. Price's Phosphate Baking Powder, using only the words which appear either on the label of the Dr. Price can (front and back) or on the printed slip which is found in each Dr. Price can.

Isn't that easy? Everyone likes to make rhymes and here is a chance to spend a fascinating hour or two writing rhymes on this popular Baking Powder and perhaps winning a substantial prize for your efforts.

59 CASH PRIZES
For the rhyme selected as best a prize of $100 will be given; for the second, third and fourth best rhymes prizes of $75, $50, and $25, respectively will be given. And besides these prizes there will be 55 prizes of $5 each for the next 55 best rhymes. With such a long list of prizes as these, it would be a pity not to try your hand at it!

Here is a 4-line rhyme as an example:
Two teaspoons of this powder make Biscuits, waffles, pie or cake, The Price's Co., guarantee No alum in the cans to be.
As Dr. Price's Phosphate Baking Powder sells for only 25 cents a 12 oz. can at grocery stores, some rhymes could play up the remarkable economy of this pure and wholesome baking powder which contains no alum.
All rhymes must be received by May 1, 1922. Only words appearing either on the label of the Dr. Price can (front and back) or on the printed slip contained inside the can may be used. These words may be used as often as desired, but no other words will be allowed. If you haven't a can of Dr. Price's, a copy of the label and the printed slip will be sent to you free upon request.
Any woman or girl may enter the Contest, but only one rhyme from each person will be considered. In case of ties, the full amount of the prize will be given to each tying contestant. Write plainly on only one side of a sheet of paper and be sure to give your name and address.
Send your rhyme before May 1st to Price Baking Powder Factory 1007 Independence Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

Whereas, the most merciful and Supreme Ruler of the Universe has summoned through death our honored sister, Ellen Dodge, whose memory will always be to us the sacred remembrance of things well done and deeds of kindness; and
Whereas, During her life on this earth she gave nobly of her efforts at a time when the liberty of the world was at stake, and as a recompense for this service she has received the plaudit, "well done," from the great Father, and
Whereas, She having been a true and faithful Sister of our organization; therefore be it
Resolved, That Women's Auxiliary American Legion Post No. 7, of Alliance, Nebraska, in testimony of our loss, tender to the husband and relatives of the deceased our sincere condolence in this deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be published in the newspapers and sent to her husband.
"What though her work unfinished lies? Half bent
The rainbow's arch fades out in upper air;
The shining cataract half-way down the height
Breaks into mist; the haunting strain, that fell
On listeners unaware,
Ends incomplete; but through the starry night
The ear still waits for what it did not tell."

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

MRS. ELLEN DODGE.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen Dodge, wife of Dean A. O. Dodge, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church, were held at 3 p. m. Sunday from the church, in charge of Bishop Beecher, Dean Ives of Sidney and Archdeacon Wells of Broken Bow. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Dodge, who served for two years of the world war as a nurse with the American forces, was given full military honors by the members of Alliance post No. 7, American Legion. Members of the post attended the services in a body, as did the members of the woman's auxiliary. They formed an escort of honor and the ex-soldiers stood at salute as the casket, covered with a flag, was taken from the rectory to the church, and later a squad of ex-soldiers in uniform fired a final salute over the open grave. Following the salute, "taps" were sounded on the bugle.

Pallbearers were Dr. Minor Morris, Fred Helppinger, Fred Harris, Al V. Gavin, Harry E. Gantz and Floyd Hively. A special choir, composed largely of members of the Episcopal guild, sang at the church.

REUBEN MAHAFFY.

Word reached Alliance this morning of the death at Red Oak, Ia., on Saturday, of Reuben Mahaffy, fifty-seven years of age, a well known rancher of western Nebraska, who had extensive holdings near Mullen. The cause of death, which had been inevitable for some months, was arterio-sclerosis and stomach trouble.

Mr. Mahaffy came to western Nebraska thirty-five years ago from Iowa. For several years he had been in failing health. He had gone to Chicago some months ago, and on his return had a severe attack of the influenza and pneumonia. He was brought to the Alliance hospital, and his condition improved to such an extent that it was possible to gratify his desire to be taken back to his old home at Red Oak, where he superintended the disposal of his estate.

W. J. Mahaffy, a brother, was formerly engaged in practice in Alliance, but some months ago, at the request of his brother, gave up his work here and assumed charge of the ranch near Mullen.

MRS. NELLIE HENDERSON.

Mrs. Nellie Henderson, wife of J. G. Henderson, of Hill's addition, died at St. Joseph's hospital Saturday morning as the result of influenza. The deceased is 35 years of age. Funeral arrangements will be announced later. A sister from Brady, Neb., is coming to attend the funeral.

MRS. FRANK ROWLEY.

Mrs. Frank Rowley, forty-two years of age, died at her home, three miles northeast of Berea, Friday afternoon. The cause of death was cancer, from which Mrs. Rowley had suffered for several years.
Short funeral services were held from the home at 11 a. m. Sunday, following which the body was brought to Alliance for interment. Services were held here at 3 p. m., from the Methodist church, Rev. Mearl C. Smith being in charge. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery.

Clara Louise Peterson was born at Hoopston, Ill., December 9, 1879. She came to Hamilton county, Nebraska, with her parents when four years of age. She became a member of the Methodist church when sixteen years of age and was married to Frank Rowley March 9, 1904. They lived in Hamilton county until 1910, when they came to Box Butte county, Nebraska, and have made their home here most of the time since then.
To this union was born three children, Clarence, 17; Frances, 15; and Mary, 7 years of age. She leave beside the three children a husband, father, mother, one sister and two brothers, as well as many other relatives and a host of friends.

Mrs. Rowley united with the Rebekek lodge at Aurora soon after her marriage and at the time of her death was a member of Alliance lodge No. 104.

MRS. J. K. SNOW.

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Damon Streeter Snow were held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday from the First Baptist church, Rev. B. J. Minort officiating. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Alice Damon Streeter Snow was born October 6, 1843, at Charleston, Mass. In her young days she met and later married J. K. Snow, to which union was born six children, four daughters and two sons. The daughters were Ivy, Ida and Ina, all dying in infancy, the last two being twins. Chester Snow who died several years ago, was elected as representative from Alaska, and was author of the bill that put that territory under prohibition. He was noted for his fearless stand for the right, and was the implacable foe of all that was evil in the days of lawlessness in those parts. In his life he showed the teachings of his mother. His was an example of a mother's influence for right in the life of her children.

Alice Snow is survived by her husband, J. K. Snow; a son, Charles, a daughter, Mrs. Arvilla Redfern and little grandson, Monte K. Redfern, who were with her at death.

In 1892 she moved to Alliance and vicinity. For years she was a faithful helper in the Baptist church of this city, retaining her membership, however, in the Congregational church.

Her son, Charles, was in the lumber business and her daughter, Arvilla, employed in banks in Alliance. She alternated her home between the ranch and the city. She felt that her place was with her children, so she finally moved to town altogether, keeping house for them and taught music for several years, until she became an invalid. In her illness she was ever patient and long suffering, ever inquiring into the state of the church. She though not able to attend the services always desired to know how they were coming.

She was an inspiration to all who visited her and always had a word of encouragement for all that was right. Her optimism was a benediction to all who came in contact with her. To the pastor she invariably referred to the glory land where she had a mansion prepared for her by her Master. Thus an example of patient suffering is taken out to remind us of the hereafter and our duty to God and our fellowmen.

CHURCHES

ST. MATTHEW'S CHURCH.
The Holy Communion in memoriam of Mrs. Ellen Dodge will be celebrated by Archdeacon Wells at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, March 29. Every communicant of the church should join in this service if possible.
The usual evening Lenten service will be held at 7:30.

CHURCH OF CHRIST.
The minister has been in a quandary for about ten days. The unanimous call to the Scottsbluff work certainly did grip us. When we considered the fact that there was also a unanimous expression from the Alliance church for us to remain and this after almost a five years pastorate we simply could not leave this city. Also many not affiliated with our congregation urged us to stay. This makes us feel like our efforts are appreciated. We have been very happy in our association with Alliance people and with the renewed zeal of our fellows the success of the work will be continued.

Last Sunday's results were very gratifying. When men and women and children come to Christ it means that the Gospel remains the power to draw to Him. Redoubled energy always results in victory.

The Wednesday evening meeting will be a rousing success as we are getting into the most interesting part of our study on "Personal Evangelism."

The board meeting on Friday evening will be interesting and helpful as the reports are given from the various departments and the special numbers are rendered for the occasion.

All departments are in good working order and every member working and praying at the task increases our joy in the service.
S. J. EPLER, Minister.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Two fine audiences greeted the pastor Sunday after an absence of two weeks from the pulpit. There was an addition at the morning and also at evening service, thus the work continues to be blessed. It is expected that there will be several next Sunday, as several are on the inquiry list. People are studying the manual as never before, which means more members as the days go by.

Our school was thinned a little by the flu last week and quite a number are on the sick list this week. We are hoping to see them back soon. Preparation is being made for the annual roll call, to be held a week from tomorrow afternoon. The plan is to have the business session in the afternoon, and supper together, and the roll call, with appropriate talks by several members in the evening. We shall also observe what has come to be known as "His Last Week," when the pastor will give Bible studies in the last week of the life of our Savior each evening but Saturday of that week, beginning April 9.

B. J. MINORT, Pastor.

Rehearsals for the Boy Scout Minstrel Are Well Under Way

Rehearsals for the Boy Scouts minstrel show are now well under way and from all indications it would be a knock-out. The show will be put on April 7, at the Imperial. A number of Campfire girls have been asked to assist and they will add a great deal to the program. A. H. Harper who has charge of the show has a number of new songs, which will be mixed with a few old favorites to make a real show.

Some of the Scouts are showing real talent, and some good voices have been discovered. There will be some skits and specialty acts, that will add spice and variety to the program. With a show as good as this there should be a capacity house.
