

Out in Society

The annual Junior-Senior banquet, was held Friday evening, at the Methodist church gymnasium, the banquet being served by the Methodist ladies. The hall was decorated in lavender and gold, the Senior colors. Crepe paper in alternate stripes of these colors was hung over the tables giving an extremely pleasing effect. The tables which were arranged in a hollow square, open on one side to facilitate service, were also decorated in the color scheme, and lilacs were used on the tables. A number of sophomore girls waited on table, half of the girls wearing lavender organdie dresses and the other half wearing yellow organdie to carry out the entire color scheme. The Happy Four orchestra played during the banquet, this being particularly well received. The Methodist ladies, and in fact all connected with the banquet are to be greatly complimented on the excellent arrangements, and the evident care taken to make it a success.

Josephine Wilson, Junior class president, presided as toastmistress and helped to put the speakers at their ease, and make the whole affair run smoothly. The toasts were all good, and were greatly enjoyed. The menu and toast list was as follows:

Toast List, "The Flower Shop"—Florist, Josephine Wilson; Roses, Lee Strong; Lilacs, Leota Becker; Violets, Miss Sneathen; Forget-me-nots, Rowland Threlkeld; Pansy, Mr. Pate.

Menu—Fruit Cocktail, Chicken, Mashed Potatoes; Fresh Vegetable; Hot Rolls, Butter, Olives; Candle Stick Salad, Cheese Straws; Grape Sherbet, Small Cakes; Coffee; Nuts, Lavender and White Mints.

The Ecaille campfire met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. T. A. Cross, guardian. This was to have been a regular meeting but it turned out to be an announcement party of the marriage of Miss Alta Young, assistant guardian to Mr. Arthur LeRoy Stockman of Lincoln, the wedding to take place May 23. The announcement was contained in a May basket which was found on the door-knob. As visitors the girls had Miss Esther Sneathen and Miss Kathryn Harris. A pleasant time was had by the girls throughout the evening.

Emma Wyrens entertained the Little Girls' club Saturday afternoon at her home. The young ladies played games and brought materials for a Kensington. Those present were Mary and Jean Kennedy, Mary Dougherty, Mildred Morgan, Kathleen Blak, Genevieve Kneist, Agnes Curran, and as guests, Elizabeth Barker and Ruth Mallery.

The M. B. of A. will meet Thursday evening, May 4. This will be a social meeting. The play entitled, "Popping the Question," under direction of Mrs. F. E. Sanders will be given free to members and their friends. Supper will be served by the ladies.

A few friends and neighbors surprised E. L. Routh Tuesday evening at his home 10 miles north of Alliance, the occasion being his birthday. A pleasant evening was spent after which refreshments were served and all left wishing Mr. Routh many happy returns of the day. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Wright and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clark and family, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman and daughters, Helen and Kathrine.

Mrs. C. J. Young and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. A. S. Young entertained Monday evening at the home of the couple, in honor of Miss Alta Young. The party was a very cleverly arranged announcement of the coming marriage of the guest of honor and Mr. Arthur LeRoy Stockman of Lincoln. The program for the evening was called a "Stockman's Convention," and each guest was given a program written on a miniature cardboard cow. There were six events on the program, the first being "Band Music" or music on the victrola while the guests arrived. The second event, "Laces consisted of competitive games which caused much merriment. "Electron" officers was electing Mr. Stockman president and Miss Young, treasurer. During the "Stockman's Art Exhibit," the picture of the groom was presented to the guests for inspection and approval. During "Exhibits Continued," Miss Young received many beautiful and useful gifts from the guests. The last number on the program, "Lunch and Social Hour," was greatly enjoyed by all because of the delightful two-course lunch served by the hostesses in yellow and white May baskets. The coming wedding will take place in Alliance on May 23, and a host of Alliance friends wish the happy couple the best of life's joys. The guests were Mrs. S. L. Clements of Chauron, Misses Mabel and Izola Worley, M. the Miller, Thelma Westley, Avis Joder, Edna Benedict, Ruth and Lulu Starvoon, Rose Carlson, Vera Spencer, Hazel Sneathen, Mamie Collins, Ethel Graham and Mesdames J. S. J. Hein, George Roe, F. J. Peterson, Fred Carlson, Gail Price, S. B. Wright, E. R. Harris, B. G. Bauman, Joe O'Connor and E. L. Meyer.

The woman's club will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. James Burlington, Mrs. R. L. Harris and Mrs. E. C. Whisman, as hostesses. The subject for discussion will be, "Latin America, and Pan-Americanism." The following papers will be given: "Pan-Americanism—Its Records and Ideals," Mrs. Walker. "The Latin-American Republics," Mrs. Minelle Smith.

The league of women voters will meet Thursday afternoon with Miss Lizzie Coker. The topics for discussion will be, "The Election Laws of Nebraska and Taxation." Those interested should attend.

Sidney Telegraph: Mrs. Harriet Vance, editor of the Union Worker, official organ of the W. C. T. U., was the guest Friday night of Mrs. Shoemaker and that hospitable home was opened during the evening for members and friends of the organization. Quite an attendance met Mrs. Vance and heard her discourse on subjects dear to the order. The matter of voting was discussed and questions asked and answered. The million votes to be cast from this order will certainly have its effect on the "clean-up the world" campaign. Some musical and reading numbers were interspersed and Mrs. Grant Brady of Potter contributed greatly to this entertainment. Mrs. Shoemaker served delicious refreshments. Mrs. Vance is a charming woman with the fire of immortal youth and purpose in her soft dark eyes. She is well informed on world's events and has traveled widely. Those privileged to meet her felt renewed in the spirit of good work.

City Manager's Corner

(By N. A. KEMMISH)

The wet weather last week made a lot of trouble for us on our electrical lines. During any stormy period we can expect more or less trouble but with nearly a week of continuous rain and snow it gave us no end of trouble. The series street lights began giving us trouble Thursday evening and by Sunday evening we had lost nearly 150 globes. The linemen would no sooner locate and fix the trouble until it would occur again in another place. Sunday our men worked all day. Some of the men who went without breakfast worked all day without stopping to eat in order to restore service to the homes in two blocks affected. Sometimes patrons complain but many times if they only knew the facts they would appreciate the way the men worked and sometimes in dangerous places in order to restore service to you. As one of our men puts it, "it is not all peaches and cream in the electrical game, especially when it comes to shooting trouble among the wires in an alley on a dark, rainy night." After the men had worked all day Sunday the street lights were still in trouble and rather than run the chance of losing any more globes and perhaps be out of lights for several nights it was thought best not to attempt to burn them Sunday evening until the trouble could be located. Last night, however, they were all burning again excepting in a few places which need globes and as soon as we know which lights are out and the new globes come they will be replaced.

Our men have rebuilt portions of the lines already which from all indications they might expect trouble in stormy weather and no doubt have reduced thereby their troubles from what they might have been. We have been going over our lines and it will take some little time to do the work we have mapped out to do.

This storm we just passed through will no doubt be the last snow of any consequence that we will have this season so that we can now go ahead and grade our streets and put them in order again. If we would have graded the streets some time ago and left them in a soft condition prior to this storm it would have been almost impossible to have gotten around the streets at all. The loose dirt would have formed mud so deep that they would have been impassable. We are now dragging the streets at a temporary measure to be followed later with the grader. It is going to take some little time to go over the entire city with the grader but this is one of the things that we are planning on doing at an early date.

An Electric Shock Nearly Puts Attorney Out of Commission

Attorney E. L. Meyer Sunday morning had a narrow escape from serious injury and perhaps electrocution, when he received a heavy charge of electricity. His injuries were confined to a burn on the heel and on one hand. There was considerable difficulty on the lines Sunday morning, a number of reports coming in from residents who had received charges of electricity from electric lights, stoves and other electrical apparatus, but Mr. Meyer had the hardest luck of any. He was standing on a hot air register in the kitchen, and leaned over to touch something on the stove when he discovered that he could not let go. He was held there for some seconds, and then dropped to the floor, breaking the contact. A physician was called, who dressed the burns. Aside from the burns and a severe nervous shock, Mr. Meyer had a most fortunate escape.
